FIREMAN'S FESTIVAL.—The 5th Annual Festival of the Wellsville Fire Company will be held at the Court House on Friday evening, January 20th, 1885. Come one, come all, and see a good time. Good music will be in attendance. Bill 2250.

DONATION.—The friends of Rev. Wm. H. Hall are respectfully invited to attend a donation at Mansfield, on Friday evening, Jan. 10th, 1885.

DONATION.—The friends of Rev. Mr. Shaw are respectfully invited to attend a donation party at the Methodist Parsonage, in Wellsville, on the afternoon and evening of the 11th inst.

A CARD.—Rev. and Mrs. P. Reynolds beg leave to return their grateful acknowledgments to the generous public, for the very liberal "surprise" donation visit of Friday evening last. The purse amounted to $80.

AT COST FOR CASH.—M. Bullard offers a stock of $10,000 worth of Ready Made Clothing at his store, at cost for cash. Buyers will experience a great advantage in giving him an early call.

CHRISTMAS EVE.—Although the usual Christmas Eve services were dispensed with at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the church was beautifully adorned with evergreens. The church was crowded on Christmas day and an excellent discourse was preached by the rector, Rev. Mr. Calhoun.

RECENT PRISONERS.—Lieut. Charles M. Hart, 45th P. V., recently returned to his home at Charleston, from a long and painful captivity among the rebels. He is still suffering from the ill treatment he received, and his health is precarious.

Serg. Andrew Klock is also enjoying a furlough at home after a tedious sojourn in the dominions of Jeff Davis. Serg. Klock made his escape before he reached starvation point, and is now in good physical condition. His story of captivity and escape is interesting.

MASONIC.—The Masonic fraternity of this county held their Annual Festival at their Hall on St. John's Day, Evening, (Dec. 27th). Quite a large number of the craft, we learn, were present. The following are the officers of Central Lodge, No. 217, A. Y. M. for the ensuing year: A. FOLEY, W. M.; A. HOWLAND, S. W.; H. W. WILLIAMS, J. W.; R. C. SIMPSON, Sec'y; W. ROBERTS, Treasurer.

The following officers were elected by Tyoga B. R. A. Chapter, No. 194, for the ensuing year: M. BULLARD, H. P.; HUGH YOUNG, K.; H. S. HASTINGS, Scribe; R. C. SIMPSON, Sec'y; ROBT. ROY, Treasurer.

The Oil Fever has broken out in several localities in this county, and promises to make some havoc. It has not yet assumed epidemic proportions, but is strictly local. Our neighbors at Toga have contracted for the sinking of a well near the river, and considerable land has been leased by foreign parties. We must sincerely hope they may "strike oil."

Meantime, isolated cases of the fever have made their appearance in Wellsville. So far from regretting, we rather rejoice. If Tyoga is in the oil basin, it is presumable that it will be found in several localities in the county.

However, let the spirit of wild speculation be kept down. The creation of fictitious values is the harbinger of financial disaster always. We are not fully advised of the plans of our borough folk, but presume that they will proceed deliberately.

NEW YEAR FESTIVAL.—The fourth annual festival of the Presbyterian Sunday School was held at the Presbyterian Church, on Saturday evening, and was a very splendid affair. After the usual preliminary exercises, the Superintendent, H. W. Williams, Esq., briefly and appropriately addressed the children, making the usual presentation of books to the Library.

He concluded by presenting to the Librarian, Mr. A. G. Starrock, on behalf of the officers, a beautiful Photographic Album. Following this, the teachers, through Thos. Allen, Esq., presented to Mr. Williams a beautiful silver pitcher as a token of their respect and esteem.

Teachers and children then repaired to the Lecture Room where a very fine collation was provided. The room was beautifully decorated with evergreens, and the table decorated with much taste. The attendance was excellent, notwithstanding the extreme cold.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Dec. 22, 1884.

DR. BULLARD.—Serg. Frank B. By, formerly of Wellsville, reached his home in this place yesterday morning. He was captured during the Battle of the Wilderness, and has been in rebel hands ever since. He has been at Richmond, Andersonville, Ga., Florence, S. C., Charleston, and is very much emaciated, exceedingly weak, and suffering from disease, the result of exposure and starvation. He tells the same story of rebel barbarity, so frequently heard. His own pale face and trembling voice confirm his story. I looked at him and from my inmost soul felt that rebellion would be lost. It is at the helm at the day of reckoning will come. Frank was so weak that I could not talk with him so much as I wished. I obtained from him the following facts which may relieve the suspense of anxious friends. Frank may possibly recall other names heretofore. The following prisoners from Tyoga County died at the places mentioned: Oscar Henry, of seamy and inflammatory rheumatism, at Andersonville in Sept.

Wm. Cameron died at Charleston about the 1st of October.

John C. Wilcox, at Florence, S. C., in Oct.

Albert Bodine, Co. B, 101st P. V., at Andersonville, in July.

LEFT AT FLORENCE, S. C.

Frank Shaw, Co. B, 101st Reg't P. V.

Ed. Morley, " " " " " "

Orlando Spur, " " " " " "

Continue Connelly, " " " " " "

Dyer Butts, " " " " " "

Extra Ripley, " " " " " "

Geo. Hollands, " " " " " "

Abijah Mudge, " " " " " "

John Pond, Co. A, 149th Reg't P. V.

Daniel Butler, " " " " " "

Alonso Warren, " " " " " "

Darius Kriner, uncertain whether paroled or left behind.

Eli Morehouse, Co. B, 101st Reg't, the same.

PAROLED.

Peter Walbridge, Oscar Young, Jas. Peters, 12th Pa. Res. B. Young, Co. B, 101st Reg't.

Copp Gaylord, Co. B, 101st Reg't.

Frank was first paroled Nov. 28th, but Sherman interfered with the railroad so much that the prisoners were detained. He was finally paroled Dec. 6th, on which day he took the boat at Charleston, reaching Annapolis on the 10th, and this place as above stated on the 21st.

He mentions a fact regarding the fate of a box sent to John Emery of the 45th. It reached Belle Island after he had been transferred to the hospital. It had been robbed of a large portion of the contents, but the balance fell into the hands of Oscar Henry. As soon as Frank regains his health and strength, I know he will take pleasure in answering all inquiries from anxious friends. Very Truly Yours,

M. C. R.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19, 1884.

FRIEND COSS.—The following list of officers from Tyoga County, prisoners of war, are at Columbia, S. C.

Capt. M. L. Clark, Co. B, 101st Reg't P. V.

Capt. R. G. Richards, Co. G, 45th P. V.

Capt. Henry Strang, 30th Illinois.

Lieut. L. D. Seely, Co. H, 45th P. V.

Lieut. J. E. Catlin, Co. I, 45th P. V.

Lieut. H. B. Seely, Co. K, 86th N. Y.

Lieut. C. Prutsman, 7th Wisconsin.

The above officers were well on the 10th inst. The following officers were paroled and have arrived at Washington:

Lieut. C. M. Hart, Co. I, 45th P. V.

Lieut. F. C. Davis, Co. E, 38th Illinois.

Lieut. H. S. Horton, Co. B, 101st P. V.

Respectfully yours,

H. S. HORTON.

"OUR YOUNG FOLKS."—Ah, here comes something for the girls and boys; something substantial and calculated to cultivate manhood and womanhood. That is to say—Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, of Boston, have just issued the initial number of a beautiful Monthly Magazine called "Our Young Folks." J. T. Trowbridge, Gail Hamilton and Lucy Latham are to be its editors, and such writers as Mrs. Stowe, Mayne Reid, Edmund Kirke, and the author of "My Days and Nights on the Battle Field," are to assist them. Really—the articles making radiant its 80 beautifully printed pages are enough to drive the young folks crazy. As we turn over its leaves we feel an irresistible desire to shake off a few lunatics and join the regiments of "Our Young Folks." First—there is a fine line and stipple portrait of the author of "Tom Brown of Oxford"—worth $1. Then a delightful story of "Hum, the Son of Baz," by Mrs. Stowe. Then "The Volunteer's Thanksgiving," by Lucy Latham. Then "Thimbling," a story for children. Then "The Red Coat" and "The Color Bearer," and "The Little Prisoner," and "Andy's Adventures," and "Winning his Way," and "New Year Carol," and "Farming for Boys," and "Afloat in the Forest," and "Anand and the Evening Lamp,"—comprising the best, and brightest, and most fascinating serial ever offered to the youth of America. It ought to have half a hundred thousand subscribers before it is six weeks old. And we guess it will have them. If any boy or girl here, or elsewhere, will get twenty subscribers and thirty dollars, he or she will be entitled to a copy, for one year gratis. It is only $2 per year to single subscribers; and the number before us is richly worth half that. It is, incomparably, the best Magazine for youth ever offered to the American public.
