Nov. 29, warm and pleasant. Nov. 30, no move. I was very busy all day making out my monthly report.

Dec. 1, very warm. Went into the country and "drew" a mule; traveled 16 miles. Dec. 2, still warm, I went out on the "flanks" and found three carriages and a fine coach in the woods where they had been placed to keep them from rust.

Dec. 3, still steadily marching on through an unknown country. Dec. 4, went foraging five or six miles from the road. We stopped in a house and found that 10 Rebels had just left, and that their column was about one mile off.

Dec. 5, 6-7 Still plodding along over horrible roads; I had passed over many miles of "bottomless mud" in my two years and a half of soldier life, but nothing to compare with this.

Dec. 6, 7-10 This was our "four days' march," We started at daylight, and went within five miles from Savannah where we were to be. And now, to recapitulate, we have made over 320 miles—a great part of the way through swamps—destroying railroads and public buildings, Depots, &c. have stripped the country of everything valuable to the Confederacy, and captured more than a million dollars worth of stock, and without any loss of supplies, or line of communication, have, in 25 days traversed from the mountains of Northern Georgia to its southern coast.

My health is good, and I am comfortably situated; having one house assigned me for my office, one for mess, and one for store-house.

drink beer and whisky, and assume to know a great deal about what they cannot comprehend. They aspire to be known as "free-lancers." Therefore they are known among the men who move the world, and do its work, as nuisances.

O Modern Boy! You are putting a bunch of rods in pickle for your conscience! You will either live to curse your stupidity, or die drunk and despised.

The Legislature.—By a vexatious oversight we failed to chronicle the organization of the State Legislature on the 2d inst.

Very well; if you are an "Englishman," (as we happen to know is the literal fact) go back to England. Such immigrants as you are would damn any country.

WAR NEWS. Dispatches from the army of the Potomac, dated on Wednesday, says that the recent rains have produced a sudden rise in the James River, and that all the low bottoms are overflowed.

About thirty deserters came here yesterday. They represent that forces have been sent from Richmond to South Carolina, to meet Sherman.

It is said that several counties of Georgia have recently held elections and declared in favor of a return to the Union by overwhelming majorities.

Governor Brown is said to be principal promoter of these movements, and it is stated that he has disbanded the Georgia militia, who have gone to their homes.

These rumors are all published in the Savannah Republican (extra), of the 7th inst.

THE AGITATOR. M. H. COBB, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. WELLSBOROUGH, PENN'A. WEDNESDAY, JAN. 18, 1865.

"WANTED—A BOY." The fact that we have not seen half a dozen "boys" in as many years, induces us to jot down some thoughts under the above caption.

We suspect that the species "Boy," has gone after that "lost tribe" of Feathered—"The Do, Do." Certainly we have not seen one of the species oftener than once a quarter, for ten years.

The boy we knew ten years ago has departed and left little trace behind. We remember that he occasionally came into our office, almost always on errand for his father, or some grown-up person, and seldom, if ever, to sit in our arm chair, scribble on our exchanges, talk to the printers, or meddle with the type.

He came in, told his errand; if a cold morning, warmed his toes, and went his way. We do not recollect that he whistled Yankee Doodle, or drummed on the table. He may have done so, but it has not been remembered.

The boy we knew ten years ago never appears to us now in the street. We miss him wonderfully. He used to bow and say "Good morning," and never said "bully for you," as men passed along the streets.

We do not recollect of seeing the boy of ten years ago with a pipe, or a cigar in his mouth; and alas! that we should have to say it—we never saw the boy of ten years ago drunk.

He would reel on the side-walk and disgusting the passers-by with his maudlin and awkward profanity. We do not remember to have seen him sitting in the stores and groceries by the hour, chewing tobacco, guzzling beer, and making himself, in some of the lower respects, the equal of grown-folks who do these things.

Not so with the boy of modern times. He has no comprehension of the mutual dependence and benefit of the employer and the employed. He regards his employer as a very handy person to apply to for favors, but seldom regards his convenience, his comfort, or his business, as of the slightest moment.

Mr. Tolos was a native of Chatham township, in this county. He enlisted in September last, as have hundreds of thousands, under a pro sense of duty.

At the 10th Army Corps Hospital, near Jones Landing, Virginia, on the 14th ult., of typhoid fever, ALFRED TOLES, of Co. F, 11th Pa. Cavalry, aged 19 years, 3 months and 3 days. His remains were brought home and interred in the Wellsboro Cemetery January 8, 1865.

The death of a good man is always a public calamity. The death of a patriot is always a public loss.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The world's cleanest, most efficacious, and most perfect medicine. It is a perfect cure for all skin diseases, such as Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Freckles, Scabs, Sores, and all Disorders of the Skin.

My daughter has suffered for some time with a skin eruption, which was very obstinate, and which would not yield to any other medicine. I purchased Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after using it a few bottles, the eruption disappeared, and she is now perfectly cured. I feel compelled to state this, as it has done good to many others. Wm. Bowen, No. 1, Union Block, Wellsboro, Nov. 1, 1864.
