Administrator's Notice—Peter DeLeon, Adm'r.

Hon. S. F. Wilson will please accept our thanks for a copy of the Common School Report for 1864.

DONATION.—There will be a donation visit at the house of Mr. Eugene Miller, in Delmar, on Friday evening, the 3d instant, for the benefit of the Rev. P. Reynolds. All are invited to attend.

DONATION.—There will be a donation visit, for the benefit of Rev. N. L. Reynolds, at his residence in Mansfield, on Friday evening, February 10th, 1865. All are cordially invited to attend.

DONATION.—The friends of the Rev. Mr. Shaw are respectfully invited to attend a meeting at the house of Mr. Hiram Brooks, in Charleston, on Thursday evening, the 9th day of February, 1865.

A DONATION VISIT will be held at the house of Mr. George Borden, (near McInroy's in Cattin Hollow,) on Wednesday, February 8th, afternoon and evening, for the benefit of Rev. Charles Weeks. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

LABRIN'S VARIETY SHOW.—At an early hour on Monday evening, Roy's Hall was filled with old and young to see one of the best shows that ever visited this place. The paintings on canvas, consisting of battle scenes, &c., were excellent. We cheerfully recommend this show to the patronage of the public, and hope it may meet with a crowded house every night.

Dr. J. W. Stewart, of Rochester, N. Y., now at 74 Gray St., Elmira, N. Y., will be at Bigoney's Hotel, in Wellsboro, on the 14th and 15th of Feb. 1865, for the purpose of seeing the sick and afflicted. No medicine given—no surgical operations performed.

Those persons who cannot afford to pay, are cordially invited, "without money and without price"—cleanliness only being required. He says he depends on an Invisible Power, with which Nature seems to have endowed him, in healing the sick and afflicted.

THE PROGRESS OF TEN YEARS.—It is rather more than ten years since we became a resident of Wellsboro. Looking back over that period we discover the evidences of progress of which the village need not be ashamed. The spirit of improvement, in all that pertains to the material betterment of the town, has indeed been active during the decade. Let us look at the village and mark the changes.

Beginning at the lower end of the town on the Charleston road we see first the fine tenery of Mr. Riberolle, and his neat cottage, neither of which had an existence at the period named. On the Tioga road the neat dwellings of Mr. Blattner, Mr. Foley, and Mr. Bacon have been added, below what was then the "last house" in the borough. "The last house" was that lately occupied by Mr. B. Sherwood, the chief improvements around which have been made within ten years. Next comes the fine dwelling built by Mr. S. R. Smith. A few doors above, in place of the street-crowding cottage built and occupied by Mr. C. L. Wilcox, and surrounded by one of the prettiest yards to be found in any village. Adjoining this is another neat cottage, remodelled by the late Mr. G. D. Smith, now owned by Mr. Charles Williams. Nearly opposite are the house and grounds of Mr. L. Bache, looking as little as they did ten years ago as one can well imagine. Farther up Main Street is the new house built by Lieut. Col. Hill, and on the corner of the next block stands Roy's Building, in which the Agitator is printed, the best constructed building of wood in the village. From this point to the next corner the buildings are all the product of the last four years. Roy's Building is just about ten years old. On the opposite side of the street we have the office built by Dr. Gibson, the Flour store of Wright and Bailey, the meat market, built by Mr. Wm. Roberts, all within four or five years. The next block presents fewer improvements, but the store built by R. C. Bailey is one of the best in the village. Then we have the new jail and Sheriff's house, built of brick. The next considerable improvement is the projected new dwelling of Dr. Spenner, which, when finished, will be one of the best in the village. Nearly opposite, a very fine improvement has been made by Mr. M. M. Convers, and still lower down, another neat cottage has been built by Dr. N. Packer.

Passing on up Main Street, there is the new house built by Mr. Richards on the right, and that built by Mr. J. Sticklin, on the left. But the improvement above the bridge is greater in this part of the village. First, on the right is the double cottage built by A. O'Neil, Esq. Opposite, the new dwelling owned by Mr. W. H. Smith. The dwellings above Esquire Crowl's, occupied and owned, respectively, by Mr. G. P. Card and Mr. C. G. O'good, are among the best in the village—the latter being the finest, in some respects, on Main Street.

Between them is a new house built by Mr. Forsyth—all the fruits of recent enterprise. These comprise the principal improvements on Main St. within the bore lines.

But farther up the road there is a little cluster of neat white cottages, which were not to be seen ten years ago. These are mostly owned by Germans. Mr. Calkin's house, we think, was finished within ten years, and the improvements on the lot are not as old as the house.

We now step across to the upper end of Pearl street, and begin with the Academy, which has been thoroughly renovated during the period. Then there is the house opposite, built by Mr. Reilly, and that built by Mr. C. N. Darrt. On the corner below, the new house built by Mr. S. H. Landis, and the story and a half tenement house, standing next in order, also built by Mr. L. The next improvement in order is represented by the beautiful house and grounds of Mr. Wm. Bache—the finest and costliest private improvement made during the decade. Passing on we pass a new dwelling, built by Mr. George West. Next is the School House, which is certainly one of the most useful public improvements made. On the corner below stands the new dwelling of Dr. C. N. Darrt, and opposite, the house and office of J. N. Bache—chiefly improvements of the last ten years.

Few new buildings have been put up from this point on Pearl Street to the State Road; but there are several nice improvements on the lateral streets.

Information has been produced on the State Road. Ten years ago all the space lying between Mr. T. P. Wingate's and Mr. B. T. Vanhorn's, was an unsightly swamp, full of stumps, brush, pools of stagnant water and rank weeds. To-day, by virtue of the enterprise of Mr. A. P. Cone, that waste place is occupied by two snug two-story frames, neatly enclosed. Through the enterprise of the same gentleman the same side of the street displays four more neat two-story dwellings, and a field under a good degree of cultivation where but a few years ago lay a kind of hard-back barren.

On the South side of the road ten years ago there were but two houses within the borough lines. To-day there are no less than ten comfortable cottages with gardens and outhouses.

We do not recollect what was the precise condition of Water Street ten years ago; but several valuable improvements have been made. On the "Canada side" Mr. M. Bullard has just completed one of the prettiest cottages to be found in any village. Farther along, on the high ground to the left, Mr. H. W. Williams has built himself a neat snugger, and on the right, nearly opposite, stands a neat dwelling built by Mrs. Meek.

We are aware that many improvements have escaped our notice in this sketch; but we are not disposed to exhaust the subject at once. Let us look at the business improvements a moment.

These are:—First—the Foundry and Machine shop first put up by Messrs. Young & Williams, last year. The work is done by steam power, and a planing mill is attached. Second—the Cabinet and Chair shop built by Mr. Vanborn, run by steam power. Third—the Cabinet and Chair Shop of Mr. Jacob Sticklin, also with steam power. Fourth—Lee's Woollen factory, operated by steam. Fifth—the Brewery—also operated by "steam." These improvements have been made within six years.
