The following, says the Girmintown Telegraph, is too good to be lost, athough it occurred some years ago in Germantown, in a hotel not many miles from the railroad

Will you give me a glass of ale, if you please?" asked a rather seedyish-looking person, and an old well-brushed coat; and a most too shiny hat.

It was produced by the bar-tender, creaming over the edge of the tumbler. "Thank ye," said the recipient, as he placed it to his lips, and said : "This is very fine ale-very. Whose is "It is Dawson's, ch? Well, give us another glass of it."

It was done; and holding it up to the light and looking through it, the conneisseur said : "Pon my word, it is superb ale-superb!clear as Madeira. I must have some more of that. Give me a mug of it. The mug was furnished; but before puting it to nis lips the imbiber said : "Whose ale did you say this was?"

"Dawson's," repeated the bar-tender. The mug was exhausted, and also the vocabulary of praise; and it only remained for the appresiative gentleman to say, is he wiped his mouth and went toward the dopr:

"Dawson's ale, is it? I know Dawson very well-I shall see him soon, and will settle with him for two glasses and a mut of his incomparable brew! Good morning!" معين و أن بالأفرد

AT STANKERING PUN. Stammering, says Coleridge, is sometimes the cause of a pun. Some one mentioned, in Lamb's presence, the coldheartedness of the Duke of Cumberland. in retaining the Duches from Fushing up to the embrace of her son whom she had not seen for and costing but FIVE DOLLARS, which in years to a long time, and insisting on her receiving him come can not be purchased for any price. Mariner, Consulting Chemists, Chicago, all of whom have analyzed the Catawba Brandy, and com-mend it in the highest terms, for medical use.

Analysis of the Massachusetts State Assayer, January 25, 1858. When evaporated through clean linen it left no oil or offensive matter. In every respect it is a pure spirituous liquor. The Oil which gives to this Branoil. Its odor partakes of both the fruit and oil of grapes. With acids, it produces others of a high fragrance. The substitution of this Brandy for Cognac Brandy will do away with the manufacture in fictitious spirits, sold under this name both at home and abroad.

By the same, in 1894.

I have analyzed "L. LYONS' PURE CATAWBA BRANDY," with reference to its composition said character, being the same as that produced in partycars. A sample taken from ten casks afforded the same results with regard to purity; a slightly increased amount of the principle on which its flavor depends are determined by the production. depends was determined by comparison with former samples.

The indications of analysis show that this Brandy ported Brandy.

Respectfully,
