We are much obliged to Mr. F. M. Spencer for copies of the Richmond Whig, published first after the occupation of the city by our troops.

The Kimball Brothers have removed their Harness Shop to the old Jones & Roe stand, where they will be glad to see old friends and customers.

The Street Commissioner has measurably improved the streets within the last ten days, and one may now traverse them after dark with safety to neck and limb. Go ahead!

New Store.—Messrs. Kelly & Purvis have rented the Osgood stand, and are receiving a fine stock of New Goods from the city. It looks comfortable to see the old corner brushing up for trade.

Mr. Rudolph Christenat, one of the oldest citizens of this village, died suddenly at his residence Sunday afternoon. His family have the sympathy of the entire community in their three fold affliction.

To Correspondents.—It is impossible to publish a tenth part of the communications received, even were all alike worthy. We have half a dozen dirges for the deceased President, but one of which can have place.

We cannot undertake to criticize compositions, either prose or rhyme.

Business was very generally suspended in this village on Wednesday last, the day of the President's funeral. The official notice reached us too late for preparation, but a goodly number assembled at St. Paul's Church at noon, where the impressive burial service was read, and an able and appropriate discourse delivered by Dr Colhoun, the rector.

We have received, about one week after date, the proceedings of the Masonic and Odd Fellows Lodges at Blossburg, on the receipt of the news of the President's tragic death. Owing to their lenghth and the delay consequent upon an unlooked for influx of new advertisements, we are compelled to defer the publication of one sett of resolutions until next week; and as we do not like to make any selection between them as to priority, defer both.

Obituary.—In the charge upon Fort Mahone, before Petersburg, April 2, 1865, Corporal Edward W. Webster, oldest son of Mr. C. A Webster, of Charleston, in this county.

We are indebted to Sergt. B. B. Vandusen of Co. G, 207th P. V., for the particulars concerning the death of this young man. He enlisted in Co. G. 207th P. V., last summer, and fell, shot through the head, in the charge of that regiment upon Fort Mahone. We knew him from his infancy; and though much might be said of his excellences, of character, both as a boy and a man, the soldier's best eulogy and epitaph is the fact of his sacrifice of life that his country might outlive him.

Several correspondents complain that certain copperheads in their neighborhoods have expressed their joy at the murder of the President, since the news arrived. We can only say that any man, or woman, guilty of such an exhibition of depravity, can be put under arrest as a disturber of the public peace.

While not doubting the truth of the reports that reach us, of persons exulting over the assassination, we find it difficult to credit the existence of such depravity. We have neither seen nor heard anything of the kind. Wherever a person of that sort is found, he is an assassin, and should be treated as an assassin.

The people can remedy such irregularities if they choose. An assassin is an outlaw.

Who was it?—A friend tells us a capital story, as it was related to him by Mr. George W. Hymes, of Middlebury, who was an eye and ear witness of the occurrence. Last Saturday, when the train for Blossburg was about seven miles below Lawrenceville, a person by the name of Patterson, in a conversation concerning the assassination of the President, remarked that "he ought to have been shot before,"—or words to that effect. At this a lady who sat behind him, turned and said: "We arrest men for such languages down in Brooklyn, where I live;" and striking him across the mouth, knocked him from the seat to the floor. Conductor Way, on learning the facts, stopped the train and put the crestfallen Patterson off. The passengers gave three cheers for the Conductor, which will be echoed and multiplied wherever the story is told. But who is the lady who personated Justice on the occasion? She deserves well of her country. Who struck Mister Patterson?

Just as we go to press we learn that Maj. Field mine host of the Dickinson House, at Corning, takes up his quarters as host of the Brainard House, Elmira, on Monday next.—When we went to Corning we looked for the Major's benign countenance as much as for anything, and shall miss him and his "live" greeting. Of course all his old Tioga customers will give him a call when they stop in Elmira. Success to you, Major.

Geo. W. Fuller, late of the Terrett House, becomes the host of the Dickinson. We hope to test his hospitality sometime, and commend him to all who may travel that way.

Elmira Commercial College.—Messrs. Warner & Smith are establishing for their Elmira Commercial College a character and reputation second to no similar institution in the country. The establishment of a reliable and first class College of the kind, where could be acqured a knowledge of all the branches of a commercial education necessary to make a finished, thorough and practical business man—supplied a want we greatly stood in need of.

The value of such a system of education as is here afforded is not to be questioned. It is eminently practical. A young man who wants to acquire a knowledge of the art of business, is brought into actual contact with it, just as it is going on in all its branches, in the world at large. He is actually placed in business, with a capital sufficient, and engaged with his fellow student in transactions as real as those of the Counting House itself. He does business in in every commercial branch which relates to general business transactions, going as in reality, to the railway, steamboat and freight offices, the forwarding Express and commission office, merchandizing house, &c., &c., and transacting practical business in a practical way, with notes, bills, &c.

The College is just what such an institution should be, conducted by gentlemen of ripe experience and superior attainments.

In Chatham, on the 15th ult., by A. J. Doan, Esq., Mr. WM. WEEKS, of Nelson, to Miss ALME EDSON, of Deerfield.

In Canton, Pa., on the 8th ult., by Rev. M. Coyle, of Burlington, Pa., Mr. S. MURRAY WATTS, to Miss MARY A. BEARDSLEE, both of Canton.

DIED.

In Daggett's Mills, on the 26th ult., CHARLES SEARLES, aged 23 years.

At Salisbury, N. C., Nov. 20, 1864, JOHN LYON, of Co. A, 149th P. V., aged 22 years, 3 months and 7 days. Also at Salisbury, N. C., Jan. 15, 1865, AUGUSTUS LYON, aged 29 years, 9 months, and 17 days, both sons of Joseph E. Lyon, of Middlebury, Pa.

They were both captured on the Weldon R. R., Sunday, August 21, 1864, and after being kept at Belle Isle four weeks, they were taken to Salisbury, N. C., where they soon fell victims to rebel cruelty and starvation. I have before me, the journals kept by these young men and they contain the same old story of death from premeditated neglect on the part of Rebel officials.

Augustus entered the service August 1862, and had followed the gallant 149th through her score of battles, and escaped from them unhurt. John entered the service in 1863, and was in every fight of Grant's campaign of last summer, and both had always the reputation of being brave, gallant, and efficient soldiers. They bore their prison sufferings like heroes. Never murmured at their lot, and although suffering all the pangs of starvation, and pressed with fine promises if they would desert "the old flag" and join the Rebels, as hundreds did, they spurned the offer and accepted death, to life at the price of dishonor. Poor boys! It was their lot to pass through all the hard fights of the Republic and yield up their lives when the light of peace began its dawning. But their friends do not mourn "as those without hope." They have the evidence that they did fall in the faith of the Christian religion and can safely trust that their spirits have gone to that peaceful haven of rest where there will be no more wars forever, and where friends will never more be separated.

NO. 1, UNION BLOCK,

Wellsboro, Nov. 1, 1864. JOHN R. BOWEN.

The peculiar taint or infection which we call Scrofula lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.
