Chas. F. Swan, Tioga,
Mrs. John Dickinson, Wellsboro,
J. B. Niles, Niles Valley.

An obituary from Blossburg came too late for insertion this week. We have a drawer full of copy on hand. Correspondents will please be patient.

We owe thanks to Mr. Robert Trull, of Charleston, for a bag of splendid ripe apples, fat, fair, and more than forty. They are "pleasant to the palate" indeed.

New Cheese Factory.—We learn that a new Cheese Factory is to be built on the State Road, near the old Wheeler place, Charleston. It is to go into operation next spring. That's right; but is Charleston to have all the Cheese factories?

Our worthy friends D. C. Lammann & Co. have removed their Tin and Stove Store to the stand lately occupied by David Roberts, opposite this office. We are glad to have this thriving firm for a neighbor. They have a fine stock of stoves and tinware, and are honorable dealers.

The Oil-Hunters.—The work at Jacob's Well is suspended until new jars can be procured. It is down five hundred and thirty-five feet. The tubing is being put down the Lucky Well, and we shall soon know what there is at the bottom. The Barker Well, Ocoala, is down about 600 feet and gives new promise.

A FINE IMPROVEMENT.—Messrs. Avery & Whitney at East Charleston, are putting up a Factory for making Cheese boxes, together with a Planing Machine and Casing Machine. They have a fine 12-horse power engine, and will have it at work in a very short time. Charleston enterprise is giving that township an enviable name and fame.

A DUN.—We seldom dun our customers. We are about to do so now, and in dead earnest. Those who have ordered jobbing and transient advertising, by letter, or otherwise, with a promise to pay on receipt of bill, yet have not done so, are invited to make that promise good at once. When we make contracts we fulfill them. People contracting to pay for work on delivery must pay. Paying as we go, we must be paid.

KICKED BY A HORSE.—A correspondent at Ocoala writes us that a serious accident occurred to Mr. Silas Rushmore, of Clymer, while he was stopping in that village for dinner on the 17th ult. Mr. Rushmore was leading his horse into the barn when he was kicked by a vicious horse standing in one of the stalls. The kick fractured the right patellar bone, rendering an operation necessary. This was performed by Dr. Wm. T. Humphrey, who removed eleven pieces of the skull. Mr. R. is recovering, and will probably soon return to his home.

CLARK'S SOCIABLE.—As our paper will to presume hours prior to Mr. Clark's entertainments Tuesday evening week, we were unable to speak of the performance last week. A more numerous audience has seldom assembled in the Court House on any occasion, or one better representing the intelligent and appreciative portion of our citizens.

Mr. Clark will sustain his reputation as the finest balladist in the country. We have heard voices of greater compass, but never one sweeter, clearer, more rife with melody, or more completely under control. His faultless enunciation lends an unobscured charm to his singing, every word being perfectly distinct. But better than all, perhaps, Mr. Clark moves with the spirit of his song. Unlike many professional vocalists he can discriminate between a storm and a summer breeze—in other words, he sings and plays with rare expression.

We are glad to hear that he will return to Wellsboro sometime during the month of December, when he will give an entertainment in the M. E. Church. Come when he will he will be welcome.

Notes (Communicated).
By 'The Man Around Town.'
OUR SIDEWALKS are becoming positively unsafe for sober men to make good time on, and in the night from his many gyrations in walking, he is hardly to be distinguished from his neighbor with a brick in his hat. If anything, the sober man seems most obstructed. Ye City Fathers, who is to blame?

OUR BORO' ORDINANCE in regard to cattle, &c. running at large, has it been repealed? If not, why not enforced? Our walks are literally smeared with manure, to the no small disgust of the public. Ladies, in several instances, have been compelled to leave the sidewalk because of its filthy condition. Remedies other than mauling, will have to be resorted to in order to reneatrate our dilapidated walks. Cattle owners had better transfer the same to their gardens. They will find it more remunerative, and less annoying to the public.

STREKER BOWS have become quite frequent of late, owing to a mixture of bad whiskey, sealwags, and ale. I hereby notify these rowdy ingredients that Sheriff Tabor has his boarding-house nearly completed (all but papering) and newly furnished. He will be ready to receive and accommodate such customers in a few days, at public expense. Roddy quiet and orderly. Make a note of this and be warned.

CORRESPONDENCE.
LIBERTY, October 27, 1865.
V. A. ELLIOTT, late Major 26th Reg't P. V.
Sir: Yours of 18th inst. is received. It seems that according to your construction of things that after I supported Mr. Reynolds for the Chaplaincy and afterwards did not wait until it suited your convenience to have his election confirmed, then you say I came back on my friends, and the testimony of Dr. Weseman shows most conclusively that before you left Harrisburg to bring Mr. Reynolds to the Regiment, that I did you all that had been done in relation to the Chaplaincy, and the testimony of the four officers and one citizen does not change nor affect its force in the least.

I know that the order placing you in arrest while in the Army of the James was void, and that you were not relieved from that arrest while you remained in that Army, and if you attempt to deny it I will produce an extract of the order, relieving you. What is the use you say of maintaining a correspondence with a Brevet Brig. Genl. who does not know that an officer cannot be under arrest and yet do duty. Let us see how this will apply in your case. On the fifth day of February last, while I was in command of the 2d Brigade 3d Div'n 9th A. C. I received orders to move my Brigade in the direction of Hatcher's Run. Just previous to this some of my lieut. officers who had been put in arrest made a request that they be allowed to go on duty. I desired that if there was to be fighting they could be with their companies. I assumed the responsibility and ordered them on duty; but on that same day, before the regiment left camp, you did not come to me, but went to you and in front of your quarters, asked you if you were not going along with the regiment; you told me you did not know; you supposed that the Chaplain had preferred charges, that you was in arrest. I told you that I thought it would make no difference, and that you had better go. You promised me when Gen. Hartranft came along that you would see him and ascertain if it would be right for you to go, and about five P. M. I left camp with the Brigade, and after having placed my men in position on Hatcher's Run, I was asked by Gen. Hartranft where you was, I told him the last I saw of you was at camp, he said he did not see you when he passed the camp, and that he thought he should send for you. (But now I have made a great blunder by assuming that an officer cannot do duty while in arrest, which I never have done.) Thus you was prevented from taking that glorious part in the Spring Campaign, as well through my treachery.

On the morning of the 2d of August last I called at your house to have a friendly talk, (for I had heard told the day before that you was my greatest enemy,) and if there was anything in the way to have it settled, and after I proposed to go with you in any store to public place in Mansfield and have a fair and public discussion, you did then and there treat me in an unbecoming and contemptuous manner, this after I had made you Major of my regiment, had at two different times done all that I could to have you relieved from arrest and restored to command, and finally succeeded in having you honorably discharged the service with rank, I would like the public to judge who has come back on his friends. R. C. Cox, Late Col. 20th P. V., and Brev. Brig. Gen. U. S. V.
