The evening previous to washing, all the clothes should be gathered up and assorted; woolens, colored clothes, unbleached cottons and linens and fine clothes, into their separate bundles. Except woolens and colored clothes, all other kinds should be put to soak over night, the very dirty parts having soap rubbed on them. If you use a washing fluid, it is usually mixed in the soaking water ;if you use no wash mixture, the next morning wring out the clothes and proceed to wash them carefully through two warm lathers, then boil them in clean lather briskly, but not longer than a half hour. The last rinsing water should have a delicate tinge of blue, likewise a small quantity of starch for all cottons or linens; reserve those you wish stiffer for the last, and mix more starch in the water. Shirt bosoms and collars, skirts, in short, anything you wish very stiff should be dipped in starch while dry. Swiss and other thin muslins, and laces are dipped in starch while dry, and then clapped with the hands until they are in the right condition to iron. Calicoes, brilliants, and lawns of white grounds are washed like any other material, must in no case be boiled or washed with them as they continually discharge a portion of their color, and so discolor the white clothes. In directing the preparations for washing fluids, we give the process employed with them, but colored clothes, in our experience can be washed in none of them with out injury to the color. Calicoes, colored lawn, and colored cottons, and linens generally, are washed through two suds and two rinsing waters; starch being used in the last as all clothes look better and keep clean longer if a little stiffened. Many calicoes will spet if snap is rubbed on them; they should be washed in a lather simply. A spoonful of ox-gall to a gallon of water will set the colors of any goods soaked in it previous to washing. A teacup of lye in a bucket of water will improve the color of black goods. A strong, clean tea of common hay will preserve the color of these French linens so much used in summer by both sexes. If the water in which potatoes are cooked is saved and buildown, it stiffens black calicoes as well as starch, and saves them from the dust and meared look they so often have. Vinegar in the rinsing water for pink or green calicoes will brighten them. Pearlash answers the same end for purple and blue. Colored and white flannels must be washed separately ;and by no means wash after cotton or linen. as the lint from these goods adheres to the flannel. There should be a little blue in the rinsing water for white flannel. Allow your flammels to freeze after washing in winter it bleaches them, - Montreal Witness.

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

seldom met with. It is doubtful whether one family in a dozen know what really good coffee is. Though we have published "line upon line" upon this subject, we give the following, from a lady correspondent of the our lady readers will give the method recom-mended, a trial, and report to us the re-goods consisting of

The making of good coffee is a rare thing in this country; most persons boil it thus making a decoction instead of an infusion ;this effectually gets rid of the delicate and CLOTHING agreeable aromatic flavor, and leaves a comparatively tasteless beverage. The following particulars will be found worth the atten-

The cheapest, and perhaps the best, coffee pots are those made on the French plan, called cafetieres. If you have not one of these, adobt the following plan: Put your freshly ground coffee into the coffee pot previously made warm, and pour upon it water actually boiling, set the pot by the side of the fire for a few seconds. but do not let it boil up ; then pour a cupful out and return it back again to the pot, in order to clear it; having done this, let it stand on the hob or centre to settle, and in less than five minutes a transparent, strong promatic cup off o ffee may be poured out -The proportions of coffee which should not be too finely ground) recommended, are an ounce to a pint and a half of water.

FEEDING RUSTY STRAW .- Says a corres pondent from Wyoming County, New York : "Tell your yeaders to beware of feeding rusty straw to their stock. I had some experience in this line last winter with three colts of mine, which had access to a stack of rusty spring wheat straw. They came near dying, their coats were rough and staring, swelling, filled with thin pus or water appeared on their limbs and some of their bodies, and they also seemed to have some difficulty in Charges moderate. the head and nostrile. Change of food and good care alone got them through to grass but they were much injured. I have also seen cattle do very poorly when feeding on rusty straw, though they were stabled and fed hay $c., nights and mornings. I think farmers should be careful in feeding or allowing their stock to eat this ; the best use of it is to bed with."
