

Local and Personal.

One Trial Delights Everybody.--Mrs. S. A. Allen's Improved (new style) Hair Restorer and Dressing, (in one bottle) Price One Dollar Every Druggist sells it.

Contempt of Congress.--The Georgia Niggers failed to turn out in sufficient numbers at the late election, to elect the Constitution fixed up for them by the radical Congress. These indolent Niggers, recalcitrating, badly. If they don't show themselves more "truly loyal," they'll have "darkey" and have to go to work like "white trash."

Worth Imitating.--An active Democrat in one of the townships of Guernsey county, Ohio, has procured the names of every Democratic voter in his own and an adjoining county paper. This is an example that is well worthy of being followed, in this and all other counties, in order to secure the ascendancy of Democracy, liberty and constitutional government.

Mean.--Somebody--a drunken Almanac maker we presume--predicted last Fall, that we should have thirty-six or sixty-six--the precise number we are to have--of storms this winter. The "Clerk of the weather" seems to be fulfilling the prediction to the letter. Without any apparent necessity for more snow we have had an addition to the stock on hand almost daily; until now, the sleighing is about fifteen ply. While we suppose everybody is delighted with the good "gettin' around" we, like a hungry child, begin to long for a sight of even a small patch of the bare "bosom of mother earth."

Girls as-singing, Bells as-ringing--Our good-natured and whole-souled townsmen, Frank Russell, one evening last week, took two large sleigh loads of the little ten-year-old girls of town on a sleigh-ride to the hospitable homestead on the neck. There were upwards of forty of these miniature matrons of the land in the party. When snugly packed into the sleighs and keeping time to the merry jingle of the bells with their songs of mirth, they looked like two overcasted morning birds in good season, ready, "to a man," to cast their votes for Frank as the chief executive of these United States, who by his many acts of kindness has rendered himself immensely popular with these fractions of femininity.

A friend thinks that Frank don't like full grown women, nor little boys. We beg leave to dissent from this opinion.

Portrait of Charles Dickens.--We have received a very elegant impression of a portrait, on steel, of Charles Dickens, a copy of which the Messrs. Appleton & Co. are presenting gratis to every subscriber to their new and popular edition of Dickens. It is pronounced by good judges to be the best of the distinguished author yet executed. The person resembling $4.50 to D. Appleton & Co., New York, will receive by mail, post-paid, the entire set of 100 copies, in separate volumes, and the portrait, which is suitable for framing as above. The edition of Dickens is published in weekly volumes, even of which are now ready. A copy of the portrait can be seen at our office, where subscriptions for the books will be received.

Northern Monthly.--There has been laid on our table a copy of the Northern Monthly for January, and an examination of its pages shows that this new venture in the world of periodical literature has taken a fresh and hopeful start. Harriet Prescott Spofford begins a novel story, the January portion of which, is a magnificent prose poem. An article upon Charles Dickens in America reveals a keen and terrible pen, and although the views of the writer will call out criticism, they will also command attention. Other contributors are Witt Sikes, who analyzes the power and style of three eminent metropolitan elegiacs, Beecher, Chapin and Duran, Harriet McEwen Kimball, whose poem "Benediction" is a gem; and several other writers less known but thoroughly able. The editorial department has features which distinguish it from the other Magazines, and its literary matter is worked up in a quite novel way.

Furniture.--Mr. A. E. Buck, of this place, and Mr. Ad Sterling of Meshoppen, are informed, as about to open an extensive Furniture Store and Cabinet ware rooms, in this place. An establishment of the kind proposed, cannot, we think, fail to be remunerative to its proprietors, as well as a convenience to the public. For the present, they will secure Wall's Hall as a place in which to exhibit their wares; a large stock of which will be put up in a short time. As both of these gentlemen have taken a fresh and hopeful start, Harriet Prescott Spofford begins a novel story, the January portion of which, is a magnificent prose poem. An article upon Charles Dickens in America reveals a keen and terrible pen, and although the views of the writer will call out criticism, they will also command attention. Other contributors are Witt Sikes, who analyzes the power and style of three eminent metropolitan elegiacs, Beecher, Chapin and Duran, Harriet McEwen Kimball, whose poem "Benediction" is a gem; and several other writers less known but thoroughly able. The editorial department has features which distinguish it from the other Magazines, and its literary matter is worked up in a quite novel way.

Go-it-Boots!--Used to be quite a common thing with our genteel folk, young men, the meaning of which has, until recently, been a little obscure. People of all ages, sexes, and conditions, however, kept on going it with tight, ill fitting boots, until we have well nigh become a nation of cripples.--While wondering at the absurd notions of the Chinese in regarding the deformed, diminutive feet of their women, as the highest type of feminine beauty and perfection, we have copied, on a large scale, this most graceful form. As a result, we have cultivated, not very much sought for in the grass market. The true remedy, is to return to boots and shoes made to fit the feet. Mr. P. Kahler of Wyoming Avenue, Scranton, whose advertisement appears in our paper to-day--manufacturers and sell this kind of Corn killers. As prevention is better than cure, those who are not crippled, had better avoid becoming so, by slipping the new and better made "Go-it-Boots"--which now means--Go to Kahler's and get your boots.

Bread Riots.--In all civilized portions of the world, bread has been regarded as an article of prime necessity--a most excellent thing in a family. Indeed, in such high esteem is it held that in Europe, in times of great scarcity, or when the material out of which it is made, is held too high prices, what are called "bread riots" occur. Riots from the cause above mentioned, rarely, if ever happen in this country. That riots here, spring from a surplus of sticky--not from a scarcity of bread.--Bread is called the "staff of life" and is said to be rather more stiffening to the lower extremities than the other article mentioned. A pure, white, well bleached article of bread, together with cakes, pies, pastry, &c. can always be found at Z. Gray's Bakery, in this place. Mr. G. has made bread baking, the business of his life. Very many families in town use Gray-horn bread, exclusively.

Eclipse.--There will be two eclipses of the sun this year. One February 23, at twenty minutes past nine o'clock in the morning; invisible in the United States, visible in South America, the Atlantic ocean, and Africa. The second is a total eclipse of the sun August 18th, at fifteen minutes past twelve.

Destructive fire in Scranton.--A fire broke out in Scranton, on Feb 5, at 8 o'clock in the evening, and continued until midnight. The following persons were burned out: Darby & Main, liquor store; Geo. H. Wilson, hat and cap store; D. & E. Ken, produce and commission merchants; D. Morley, merchant tailor; Geo. Blake & Co. variety store. The third story of Blako & Co's store only was burned, but goods were much damaged by moving. The contents of the 1st and 2d National Banks were all removed to places of safety during the fire. Amount of loss estimated at $100,000, origin of not ascertained.

Tuning and Repairing.--There are many persons in possession of Pianos and Melodions that have been worn a good deal, or perhaps injured, who could still have a good deal of substantial wear out of them if they were properly put in order. To meet this large and increasing demand L. B. Powell has added to his Music Store in Scranton a Repair Shop, and has put it in charge of a man who has had large experience both in the manufacture of new instruments and the repairing of old ones, so that he is now prepared to do all kinds of repairing, including Pianos, Organs, Melodions, Guitars, Violins, Accordeons, and everything in the shape of musical instruments, with promptness and in a substantial manner.

"Caution not minister to a mind diseased, And with some secret, obnoxious antidote, Cleanse the foul bosom of the perilsous stuff That weighs upon the heart?"

Certainly; Plantation Bitters will do it when nothing else will. Melancholy, Depression, Hypochondria, Incurably, all spring, more less, from a diseased stomach, and this, Plantation Bitters is a sure cure for. There is no mistake about it: Dyspepsia, Headache, Dizziness, Ague, and low spirits must yield to the health-giving and genial influence of the Plantation Bitters. If you are in doubt, make one trial and be convinced. Thus say those who know.

Magnolia Water, A delightful toilet article--superior to Cologne and at half the price.

The Blood uses its red color to minute globules which float in that fluid, and contain, in a healthy person, a large amount of Iron, which gives vitality to the blood. The Peruvian Syrup supplies the blood with this vital element, and gives strength and vigor to the whole system.

The Great Sale of the Jay property, on the 4th inst., (northeast corner Broadway and Canal street), resulted in the large store being purchased by Thomas Smith, and the unexpired lease passing into the hands of Baldwin, the clothier, who is presenting the public with an idea entirely new to the Clothing Trade of New York, viz: offers at retail first-class wholesale stock, embracing all qualities and styles of fine and medium garments, at a heavy discount from wholesale prices? We are told the undertaking is a complete success.

Note.--It may be important to dealers and the public generally to know that the Mr. Baldwin mentioned in the above notice--clipped from a New York paper--is O. S. Baldwin, formerly of this place, Wyoming County man, visiting "Stiles," will certainly receive courteous treatment. Besides the N. E. corner of Broadway and Canal sts. seems to be a good place for shabbily dressed individuals to congregate.

Heavy Sentence.--Judd Wolcott, the notorious rascal of the Lackawanna Valley, was sentenced on Tuesday morning to the Penitentiary for fourteen years and nine months, for robbery and assault with battery with intent to kill. Other indictments are ready when he gets out.--Record of the Times.

No Wonder so many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases, and when tried "found wanting," that the invalid loses all faith in medicine. We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary disease.

Gold was quoted in yesterday's N. Y. papers at 14 1/2, and is still going up--the result of radical financial tinkering; and the threats of Presidential impeachment, which are now rife. "How long will it continue?" asks a subscriber.

It will continue just as long as the white men of the country tamely submit to the foolish, fanatical, unconstituted, tyrannical negro equality schemes of this most infamous of Ramp Congresses.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Injurious Consumption is incalculable.

Strong Testimony. From Benjamin Wheeler, Esq. Depot Master of South Boston, Mass. "In the Spring of 1853 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a delirious state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hope of ever recovering, or making any friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats desert of me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus had this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

PROMINENT CHARACTERISTICS. I.--They are Instructive. "As purely literary works, these historical romances possess a high degree of merit. They read like genuine histories."--Catholic World. "They are correct descriptions of the countries and the people."--Public Ledger. II.--They are Entertaining. "We regard these books as among the best and most entertaining novels of the day."--Springfield Republican. "The reader is at once fascinated and held spell-bound by the interest and incident of the story."--There is no dull chapter in it.--Utica Herald. III.--They are Mirrors of the Times. "No one can peruse them without conceding the author's great skill in grasping and delineating the characters which figure conspicuously in them. The study which enables the author to delineate so accurately the most prominent incidents of which moved men and women of a past age must be close and diligent; and Louisa Mulbach shows in all of her works a perfection which carries the reader into the very presence of the characters represented."--Syracuse Journal. IV.--They are Historically Correct. "Historically correct and as entertaining as many of the volumes of Sir Walter Scott."--Providence Herald. "Louisa Mulbach must have carefully and delightfully studied the events, histories of the times and countries of which she writes, and her task is done well and effectively."--Worcester Spy. "No Historical Novelist has labored so faithfully and successfully to reproduce a complete picture of past times and events."--Utica Herald. V.--They are Original. "It has greatly surprised readers to find a new writer with such constructive genius and knowledge of character as Louisa Mulbach possesses."--Public Ledger. "Each succeeding novel adds to Mrs. Manly's reputation as a writer of historical fiction."--N. Y. Times. VI.--They are Full of Imagination. "She is not only the skillful joiner, by a neat-handed artistry."--Christianity Witness. "The reader is so completely absorbed in the story, that it is really wonderful how Madame Mulbach manages to sustain and increase the interest to the end."--City Item. "The work painting of the authors is much more effective than the best efforts of the engraver."--Illinois State Register. VII.--They Contain Anecdotes of Courts. "Scottish history offered no fresher and more romantic material to the magic working hand of Sir Walter Scott than can be found in the annals of the German Courts."--Evening Gazette. "There are not to be found anywhere in human annals, unadorned, such magnificent, such extraordinary materials for romance, as the chronicles of the Prussian and Austrian courts of the 18th century. By their dress, their manners, their modes of thought, their language, they are almost as much separated from us as if they had lived one thousand years ago."--Chester. VIII.--They tell of Emperors, Kings & Queens. "We learn from her not only how Frederick William and Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, Catherine, Elizabeth, Brno, Frederick, the Emperor Catherine, walked and talked in their grand palaces, but how they powdered their hair, flirted, and took tea."--Register. "The choice of her subjects exhibits her genius. She takes the time of Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, for example, and upon the background of facts which the chronicles of the periods afford, she embowers the reader and reader colors, the light and shade of her fiction, with the skill of a consummate artist."--The Eagle. IX.--The Style is Interesting. "The style of this writer for purity, perspicuity, and elegance, is something greatly to be commended. It is free from imitations, misapprehensions, and tricks of every kind."--The Argus. "The translations do justice to the vivid, quaint style of the original; and the story is full of movement and interest, with instructive and entertaining incidents."--The Chicago Post. "The interest of the book does not depend upon its characters nor its incidents, nor yet on its charming style, but in its general harmony of composition."--Day Book. X.--Everybody is Reading them. "Our people seem to have stopped reading French novels, and English works are complained of as dull. Mrs. Mulbach precisely supplies the public want. The novel of Clara Mulbach are being read by every one."--Times. "Mulbach's novels have a world-wide reputation, and are read with avidity, as fast as issued from the press."--Springfield Republican. "They are winning a wide and deserved popularity in this country."--State Journal. "Either of the Novels sent free by mail to any address on receipt of price."--v7n2k1n
