The Club was called to order by Hon. Wm M. Pistt, Pres't and in a few brief remarks adverted to the important movements now going on at Washington with a view to the impeachment of the President of the United tates because of his honest endeavors to uphold and defend the Constitution as his outh of office requires. There was a question between the President and Congress as to the right of the former to remove his wn cabinet ministers without the consent of the Senate, but no person who understands the Constitution of the United States and the practice of all ormer Presidents, from the foundation of the Goverument to the present time can doubt for one moment the complete authority of the President to remove his Cabinet advisers at his pleasure. Any ther view would render nugatory his obligations to preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States, and to take care that the laws be faithfully executed." It the subordinate officers of the President were not dependent on him for the tenure of their office it would be improper to term them subordinate, or to require the President to faithfully execute the laws Because it is through these subordinates that he must enforce the laws, if at all, and how vain would be his efforts if he could not require obedience from his subordinates. And be certainly could not - with the political affinities of many of his present subordinates - unless he has the power of removal. For exercising this clearly Constitutional power the President is to be impeach- 9. ed by this fragmentary Congress in order that the umpers may carry out their hellish designs against the liberties of the people-that ten sovereign Sta-Republican cambidate for President and set paught the plainest provisions of the Constitution.
