Rev. Jas. Harlan, Senator from Iowa, said : " From all that I can learn on the subject. I do think that General Grant is fit to command a great army in the field. *

The Iowa troops have been in battle repeatedly under the command of General Grant. They have no confidence in his author of the useless slaughter of many hundreds of their brave comrades in arms. It is not necessary, or is it right, to comticed, induce those in authority to continue him in the field.

"I understand he has been virtually suspended, that he now really has no command, that each division and army corps of the Western Department is under command of another General, and the whole under the command of General Halleck. that General Grant is second in command of the whole, which is, of course, merely nominal. In my opinion he ought not to have multiplied thousands of men placed in his hands after the record which he has made. And the only practical tendency of that part of the speech of the! The battle was afterward restored and conducted by Gen. Buell and other Generals, who came on the field during the evening and night, and our forces ultimately succeeded in completely routing the enemy. Now sir with such a record, those who continue General Grant in an active command, will, in my opinion, carry on their skirts the blood of thousands of their slaughtered countrymen.
