

Farm Garden & Kitchen.

Let Farmers, and Agricultural men generally be requested to contribute to this Department, as it is from their experience that we hope to gain some of interest for our readers.

HOW A FARMER MAY LOSE MONEY.

By not taking his county paper. Keeping no account of farm operations. Paying no attention to the maxim: "A stitch in time saves nine," in regard to the sowing of grain and planting of seed at the proper season.

Leaving reapers, plows, cultivators, &c. uncovered from the rain, and heat of the sun.—More money is lost this way than most people are willing to believe.

Permitting broken implements to be scattered over the farm until they are irreparable. By repairing broken implements at the proper time many dollars may be saved, a proof of the assertion that "time is money."

Attending auction sales, and purchasing all kinds of trumpery, because in the words of the vender, the articles are "very cheap."

Allowing fences to remain unprepared until strange cattle are found grazing in the meadow, grain field or bruising the fruit trees.

Disbelieving the principle of a rotation of crops before making a single experiment.

Planting fruit trees with the expectation of having fruit, without giving the trees half the attention required to make them profitable.

Practising economy by depriving stock of proper shelter during the winter, and giving them unsound food, such as half rotten and mouldy hay or fodder.

Keeping an innumerable tribe of rats on the premises, and two or three lazy dogs who never molest the vermin.

Spending rainy days in groceries and bar rooms, instead of being at home putting things to rights.

HINTS TO POULTERERS.

1. Secure yourselves by keeping no more stock than you can feed and care for in the best manner, and make choice of the best stock.
2. Keep Brahams, Dorkings, or Boltons.
3. Feed your grain or vegetables hot.
4. Be sure the fowls have gravel and shells, and the shells half burnt are better than raw. One hundred fowls will consume a peck a week.
5. Feed meat, if possible, it being very natural.
6. Choose perfect eggs for breeding purposes.
7. Let your hands be free from grease while handling eggs to be set. An egg besmeared with broken yolk will not hatch.
8. Put a newspaper in the bottom of the nest designed for setting eggs; chaff or fine straw on top.
9. Brahams chickens need but little care; Dorkings more; Boltons or Creole most.
10. Smear the sides and breasts of the old mother with oil, composed of half whale and half petroleum; do this the first night after leaving the nest. This is a prevention for all the ills chickens are heir to.
21. Give clean water and small sized grain (excepting rye.)—G. A. L. in Rural New Yorker.

HOW TO GET BIG CROPS.

As a rule, farmers are much more anxious to get big prices than big crops. There are few farms whose average production could not be doubled in a very short time by more capital and labor. It is safer to use capital in farming than in almost any other business. The credit of the plow is quite as good as that of the loom or the anvil, and the capital will come if it is called for. Use more manure and get thirty bushels of wheat where you now get fifteen, and eighty of corn where you now get forty. The quantity of grain per acre is mainly a question of manure and tillage. A big compost heap makes a full bin. With high manuring, the soil needs a deeper stirring and a gradual bringing up of the subsoil to the surface. With the present horse harrows and cultivators, nearly all the cultivation can be done by horse power at a great saving expense, and a great increase of the crops. Plan for big crops this season.

HEAVES. This disease frequently depends on rupture of some of the air cells of the lungs, which renders it more difficult than usual for a horse to expel the air from the lungs. This, in the healthy state, seems to be done without effort, but in a horse with heaves the gradual upward movement of the flank is terminated by a quick jerk. A horse of this kind is usually unfitted for fast and hard work, as it soon becomes exhausted and distressed when driven fast for a considerable distance. It occurs frequently among horses that are allowed to gorge themselves in a short time, and are then hurriedly brot out to work afterwards. Immediate work, when the stomach is overloaded is a severe trial of a horse, and may produce lesions of the lungs, which will terminate in heaves. A horse with heaves should be fed on nutritious diet, and should not receive too much at a time, as the over loading of the stomach and bowels renders breathing more laborious.

PLASTER WITH MANURE.—If you have a fine lot of manure that you wish to preserve and rot during the summer, mix plaster (gypsum) with it; mix it through the heap. Let there be some gathered on the top, and most at the bottom where the juices settle.—Plaster not only holds the strength of the manure from escaping, but decomposes it, the lime of the plaster uniting with the carbon of the manure and the sulphur (of the plaster) with ammonia which exists as a carbonate.—Thus a little plaster does more good than anything perhaps that can be done to the manure heap.

FOUND, or can be found at Lyman & Wells and J. W. Rhoads, Tunkhannock, Penn'a., all other dealers, the ENGLISH SWEET SPURRY LINIMENT. This Liniment is the best, cheapest, most powerful Liniment ever offered to the public, for man or horse.

It has been used for many years in England, by the leading farriers, and they have had the greatest success with it of any Liniment ever used for the cure of horses.

Those who have horses that are swelled or lame, have swollen joints, sprains, bruises, old sores, flesh cuts, ear galls, &c., should try this Liniment and they will be convinced that it is superior to all other known preparations.

If it does not give good satisfaction, return the bottle half full, and your money will be refunded.
Put up in convenient form, and sold by all Druggists and Storekeepers at 50 cents a bottle.
