CERTAIN CURE FOR FOUNDER .- As soon as you discover that the horse is foundered take him to the nearest branch or stream of water and tie him in it standing in the water nearly up to his belly-his head being so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm, let him stand in the stream several hours; then take him out, rub his legs thoroughly to promote circulation, and again tie him in the water, if he is still lame. By repeating this process two or three times, the horse will be effectually cured. If the weather is cold when the horse is foundered, that is, if it is in the winter, the horse must not be allowed to stand in the water more than about twenty minutes at a time,he should be taken out and his legs rubbed diligently till they become dry and warm and the circulaof the blood made active, and this process must be repeated till the horse is cured, which will be generally within twenty-four hours. This remedy will cost nothing, can do no possible harm, and will in every instance, cure, if the disease has not been too long standing. Don't be afraid to try it .-Rural World.

How to Get Sleep.—This is to many per sons a matter of high importance. Nervous persons who are troubled with wakefulness and excitability, usually have a strong tendency of blood on the brain, with cold extremities. The pressure of blood on the brain keeps it in a stimulated or wakeful state, and the pulsations in the head are of-How to GET SLEEP .- This is to many per state, and the pulsations in the head are often painful, Let them rise and chafe the body and extremeties with a brush or towel or rub smartly with the hands to promote or rub smartly with the hands to promote circulation, and withdraw the excessive amount of blood from the brain, and they will fall asleep in a few moments. A cold beth or a sponge bath, or rubbing, or a good run or a walk in the open "air, or going up and down stairs a few times before retiring, will sid in equalizing circulation and promote the small side in the sma will aid in equalizing circulation and promote sleep. These rule are simple and easy of application in the castle or cabin, and may minister to the comfort of thousands who would freely expend money for an anodype to promote "Nature's sweet restorer, balmy

PUMPAINS AMONGST CORN .- Almost all "old fashioned farmers" take off a crop of pumpkins from their cornfields, much to the annovance of the theorist who demonstrates to his entire satisfaction that the one crop must detract from the full force of the other. But the most careful experiments show no loss to the corn. The same weight results from an acre, with or without the pumpkins It does at first thought seem as if it ought not to be so. If it takes just so many bushels of corn to fatten a hog, it is not clear how we are to fatten two from the one quantity. This is the argument of the theorizer. But the facts are as we have stated; and the reason probably is, that the pumpkin and corn feed on entirely different foods in the soil, so that the one can go on without the

A RAILROAD TRAIN STOPPED BY THE ARMY WORM .- The Corinth (Miss.) Modle Farmer for May, says the army worm is on the march there in amazing force. The Farmer makes the following astcunding statement

The movement and number of this insect is astonishing. The army worm has appeared in this country near the State line, and are now moving southward. Their breadth is about two miles, and they are stripping the forest of all its folisge in their path .-There are so many millions that last week There are so many millions that last week they actually stopped the freight train on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. The the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. The worm were so thick on the track that they accumulated on the wheels until it caused the drivers to slide on the rails. We don't think this is the regular army worm, but a species of insect some smaller and not so destructive to vegetation.

Пуркорновы.-Ап aged German forest Receper, who is on the verge of death, has published a secret oure for hydrophobia, which he says he has used with success for fifty years, saving many men and animals from a horrible death. The wound must be bathed as soon as possible with warm vinegar and water, and when this has dried, a few drops of muriatic acid poured upon the wound will destroy the poison of the saliva SOMETHING NEW and relieve the patient from danger. This cure appears in the Leipsic Journal, and we give it as we find it.

Wounds in Sheep .- Take the leaves of the elder tree and make a strong decoction, receiving a large and carefully selected asso and wash the parts affected two or three times a day, and you will not be troubled with flies or worms. It also removes fever from the wound, and is healing.

DIARRHEA IN CATTLE,-Take half a pint of bran and pour boiling water on it, and cov er with a thick cloth until nearly cool; then strain and give the tea to the afflicted animal. Two or three doses are sure to cure.-Rural American.

COSTIVENESS IN SHEEP .- Two tablespoor fuls of castor oil every twelve hours. Or give one ounce epsom salts. This may be assisted by an injection of warm water, weak suds and molasses.

RINGBONE .- Mix equal parts of turpentine and lamp oil, and apply to the part affected night and morning, rubbing it well into the hair around the hoof.

LTCH IN SWINE .- Rub the animal with equal parts of lard and brimstone, and put them in a clean pan.
