Ziba and Mephibosheth.

In the 9th, 16th and 19th chapters of the second book of Samuel, we read of a servant of the house of Saul whose name was Ziba.

In the same portion of scripture occur the history of Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, King David, for the love he bore Jonathan, gave to Mephibosheth "all that pertained to Saul and his house."

"According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his servant, so shall thy servant do." Now, Mephibosheth was "lame on his feet," and when David fled from Jerusalem during the rebellion of Absalom, Mephibosheth, though remaining loyal to David, could not accompany the latter in his flight, on account of his lameness.

When the king came to the top of Mt. Olivet, he was met by Ziba, "with a couple of asses saddled, and upon them two hundred loaves of bread, and a hundred bunches of raisins, and a hundred of summer fruits, and a bottle of wine."

These were meant by Ziba as presents to the king and his household in order to propitiate their favor. Then King David said unto him, "And where is thy master's son?"

"And Ziba said unto the king, Behold he abideth at Jerusalem; for he said, to-day shall the house of Israel restore me the Kingdom of my father." "Then, said the King to Ziba, Behold there are all that pertained unto Mephibosheth."

But after the great battle in the wood of Ephraim, in which Absalom was slain, Mephibosheth went to meet the King, when the latter said unto the former, "Wherefore ventest not thou with me, Mephibosheth?"

"And he answered, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me; for thy servant said, I will saddle me an ass, that I may ride thereon, and come to the King; because thy servant is lame." But Ziba, the servant, had taken all the asses away, and Mephibosheth could not go with the King.

History repeats itself, and the episode in the Bible narrative of the reign of King David, is not an exception to the rule. There is a Ziba and there is a Mephibosheth in this latter half of the nineteenth.

The parallel may not hold good in every particular. But in the main it is quite perceptible. There is a Ziba in the pastures and folders' room at the capitol, who managed to eulchre lame Mephibosheth by the name of Schindler, out of the place designed for him by the king of the executive department and his counselors.

Whether the modern Ziba brought presents of asses, &c., to ingratiate himself with the powers that be, we know not, but when a man who has been a member of the legislature becomes a pastor and folder, at least one ass is presented for the use of members.—Patriot.

It is rumored that President Johnson has under consideration the pardon of Dr. Mudd, Spangler and Arnold, the three remaining victims of the military commission which unjustly condemned Mrs. Surratt to death.

Since 1865, these victims of blind popular rage, have lingered in an unwholesome fortress of the United States, at the Dry Tortugas. The candid reading of the testimony in the trial of the conspirators can find nothing which makes these men worthy of death or bonds.

The military commission, with the brutal Hunter at its head, represented nothing more than popular rage thirsting for a victim. There was no regard for law or evidence on the part of prevaricating military judges.

Mrs. Surratt was hanged in the face of the clearest proofs of her innocence, and Dr. Mudd and his associates in misfortune were condemned to imprisonment because their unjust judge could find no plausible pretext for putting them to death.

It is to be hoped that President Johnson will exercise his power in behalf of these prisoners at the Dry Tortugas at the earliest possible day. Every hour that they remain in confinement only increases the foul injustice of the original act.—Morning Patriot.

A desperado recently appeared in Montgomery, Texas, and in a short time made himself odious to the citizens by his quarrelsome disposition. One day last week he rode his horse into the store Messrs. Smith & Peal, and on being ordered out he drew his pistol, but before he could fire it he was fired upon by Mr. Smith or Mr. Peal with a double-barrel shot gun.

Although badly wounded, he ran out into the street, and by some fatality, met a party of citizens who were hunting him for the purpose of causing his arrest for passing counterfeit money. He ran in another direction, when some one in the party fired upon him and he fell. A Mr. Oliver and two brothers named McGrew, (who it seems, were in the habit of associating with the desperado), ran up to his rescue with pistols drawn, when they were fired upon by the crowd and all three killed.

The President's Pardoning Power. The President sent in the following on Monday of last week:

To the Senate of the United States: The resolution adopted on the 5th instant, requesting the President to transmit to the Senate a copy of any proclamation of amnesty made by him since the adjournment of Congress, and also to communicate to the Senate by what authority of law the same was made, has been received.

I accordingly transmit herewith a copy of a proclamation, dated Dec. 25, 1868.—The authority of law by which it was made is set forth in the proclamation itself, which expressly affirms that it was issued by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by the Constitution, and in the name of the sovereign people of the United States and proclaims and declares unconditionally and without reservation, to all and every person, who directly participated in the late insurrection or rebellion, a full pardon and amnesty for the offence of treason against the United States, or of adhering to their enemies during the late civil war, with restoration of all rights, privileges and immunities under the Constitution and the laws which have been made in pursuance thereof. The Federal Constitution is understood to be and is regarded by the Executive as the supreme law of the land.

The second section of article second of that instrument provides that the President shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offences against the United States, except in cases of impeachment. The proclamation of Dec. 25, 1868, is strictly in accordance with the judicial expositions of the authority thus conferred upon the Executive, and, as will be seen with reverence to the accompanying papers, is in conformity with the precedent established by Washington in 1795, and followed by Presidents Adams in 1800, Madison in 1815, and Lincoln in 1868, and by the present Executive in 1865, 1867 and 1868.

ANDREW JOHNSON. Accompanying this message, the President sent copies of similar proclamations by Presidents Washington, Adams, Madison and Lincoln, with his own proclamations of May 20th, 1865 and September 7th 1867.

A bill has been introduced into the Senate of Pennsylvania, to take the control of the Police force of Philadelphia from the Mayor and vest it in a board of Police commissioners to be elected by the people. This is a new Radical trick to control the police force for partisan purposes, as has been done for several years. The people at the polls, last fall, decided that Daniel M. Fox should control Philadelphia for the next three years as the chief executive officer. But he is hardly sworn into office when the Legislature goes to work to deprive him of his most material functions.

In this way they seek to defeat the will of the people and perpetuate themselves in power. The bill also takes from the Sheriff all power as a peace officer.

Legislative Swindling.

The Scranton Morning Republican recently made the following expose of Legislative swindling:

It is said that the folding, pasting and wrapping of the Legislative Record and documents of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg last session was performed by fifty men at a cost of about forty thousand dollars. Messrs. Rauch & Cochran, of Lancaster, publishers of Father Abraham, propose to do the same work at the next session for five thousand dollars. They will give bonds in the sum of twenty thousand dollars for the faithful performance of the contract. Both gentlemen have been at Harrisburg for late years, and understand what they are about. The members of the House certainly cannot ignore this opportunity to save the State the nice little sum of thirty-five thousand dollars. Messrs. Rauch & Cochran are responsible parties and will perform what they promise.

The number of hangers-on, and supernumeraries receiving pay from the State Treasury during the session of the Legislature last winter was notoriously and unprecedently large. These worthless characters, either incompetent or willing to earn an honest living, annually hover around Harrisburg, begging the dominant party to support them at the public expense. A vast army of them will congregate at the State Capital. The pay given to each of these public plunderers is about equal to that of a member. The Republican members are in duty bound to their constituents to put an end to this extravagance and dishonesty. Here is a BONA FIDE offer to save the State $35,000; and a third as much more can be saved by similar retrenchment in the Senate. Has our Legislature the manhood to effect this beginning of reforms?

In less than a year the people of the State will be called upon to choose their Governor. Their verdict will be greatly influenced, if not decided, by the course of the party in power this winter. If from $35,000 to $50,000 are to be squandered again in a single session in mailing public documents; if the United States Senatorship is to be made a matter of bargain and sale; if the publication of the Legislative Record is to be continued as heretofore at the convenience, and for the sole profit and advantage of a party at Harrisburg, and without reference to the accommodation of the public; if the old system of plunder and extravagance is to be pursued, and the party that countenances such corruption will enter the campaign at a disadvantage, which may not unlikely prove fatal.

Let the Republican press of this State manfully ventilate this whole subject; if the people are thoroughly aroused to the matter their representatives may think it worth while to seriously entertain propositions for reform. There is said to be a medium of honor among thieves, and we may yet hope to speak of honesty at Harrisburg without exciting the risibles of our readers.

SINGULAR CASE.—Carrie Feister, a little daughter of Reuben Feister, of this Borough when but 7 months old, swallowed a diaper pin. No one was present when she swallowed it, but the fact that the pin was missing and the child was seized with choking spells and for twelve hours remained in a critical condition, left no doubt on the minds of the family as to what had become of the pin. She, however, partially recovered at the time, but from that time until the present her health has been delicate.—At intervals she has been quite sick, coughing and throwing up considerable corruption.

During the past summer it was thought that the child had gone into consumption, and so ill that her recovery was regarded as next to impossible. She rallied again, however, and although far from well, was able to be about. On Sunday, Dec. 27th, last, she was seized with a violent fit of coughing which lasted for some time. Finally she suddenly put her fingers into her mouth and drew forth the missing pin. The pin is about two inches in length, with a head 5-16 of an inch long and 3/4 of an inch in circumference. It is black with rust and when coughed up was covered with corruption. Carrie is now nearly 9 years old, so that this pin has been embedded in her lungs (as it is believed) about 8 years and 4 months, all this time abscesses forming and breaking, and rendering her life miserable. We are glad to add that since its removal her health has been materially improved. She is an interesting little girl, and it is to be hoped that after so much suffering she may soon be restored to health.—Muncy Luminary.

RELIEF FOR MRS. LINCOLN.—A bill has been introduced into the United States Senate, the object of which is to afford relief to Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, who failed to make money out of the sale of the rich garments which was presented to her by army contractors and others who sought thus to curry favor with her husband. It is proposed by this bill to pension Mrs. L. as the widow of the Commander-in-Chief, he, by some legal fiction, being supposed to have been killed in battle. Upon such reasoning Congress might patriotically determine to provision the White House by ordering rations for President Grant, and increase his salary to an extent by allowing him to draw money in commutations for the rations. The skill with which the Radicals devise ways and means for depleting the treasury is really remarkable.—If they want to give Mrs. Lincoln five thousand dollars a year, let them vote it straight out, without resorting to any silly subterfuge.

The Louisiana negro, Menard, was not admitted to his seat in Congress and has left for home in a state of disgust. It has been ascertained he was nothing but a carpet-bagger from Illinois, and had formerly been engaged in the Jamaica massacre, repressed with much severity by the British government. What a pity this scoundrel could not get the sack.

Letter from Hon. Asa Packer.

We call attention to the subjoined correspondence between some of the leading citizens of this Borough and County and the Hon. Asa Packer, with reference to the nomination for Governor. It will be seen that this gentleman has allowed his name to go before the Convention.

CHAMBERSBURG, Jan. 12, 1869. Dear Sir.—As the time is fast approaching when the people of Pennsylvania will again be called upon to elect a Governor, attention is naturally directed to the selection of a proper candidate. Believing, in common with many of our Democratic and Conservative friends, that you possess, in a high degree, the qualifications essential for the position, and that your election would redound to the future advancement of our good old Commonwealth in all that constitutes true greatness, we would respectfully request you to inform us whether you will permit the use of your name in connection with the nomination in the next State Convention. Yours respectfully, WM. M. CLELLAN, J. M. D. SHARP, GEO. W. BREWER, A. H. SENESEY, W. S. STENGER, J. M. MYERS, T. B. KENNEDY, JOHN ARMSTRONG, ALEX. MARTIN, D. K. WUNDERLICH, BENJ. F. NEAD, JACOB HEYSE, GEO. W. WELSH, SIMON BYRNE, JAMES L. REILY, JOHN S. NIMMON.

MAUCH CHUCK, Jan. 16, 1869. GENTLEMEN:—Your favor of the 12th inst., desiring to know whether I will consent to the use of my name in connection with the nomination for Governor in the next Democratic and Conservative State Convention, has been received.

The same inquiry has been made by numerous other friends from different sections of the State, to which I have uniformly replied that I did not desire the nomination, and in view of all the cares and responsibilities to be assumed by the nominee of the convention, in the event of a successful canvass, my reply to you would, if my own views and feelings were consulted, be of the same tenor. But there are due from every man, public as well as private duties, and if the Convention, after duly considering the subject in all its bearings, should in its wisdom decide to confer the nomination on me, I will not consider myself at liberty to decline it.

With thanks for the very complimentary manner in which your partiality has induced you to bring this subject to my attention. I am, gentlemen, Your friend and obedient servant, ASA PACKER.
