WM. A. WALLACE, Chairman. DAVID CALDWELL, Secretary.

Judge of the Supreme Court.

Amongst the names suggested for nom ination as candidates for this office at the find in some of our exchanges that of R. B.

LITTLE Esq., of Montrose. His legal attainments, together with his reputation and standing in the profession candidate for governor.

A well known Western Radical journal says that "a whole heard of office begvet be considered respectable in comparison with Grant's. -- Another was furious at him his best friend. A third cursed the the blush to every honest women's cheek, desire and consent." Yankees because they had gobbled up the rich things and left nothing but crusts and yet for such as those the widows and daugh. crumbs for the Western men." Has the sun of another ical machinery to secure a mitigation of man suffering is truly sad to behold.

The Judiciary vs. the Legislature.

One of the most outrageous and disgrace ful acts of the present infamous Legislature was the hurried passage of the bill summarily abolishing the 29th Judicial District, of Lycoming county, The Senate immediately voted to repeal the act upon learning how it had been snaked through, but the House still refuses to do what is so plainly right in regard to the matter. It is openly charged, and cannot be successfully denied that Peter Herdic, a man who has numerous heavy suits pending in the courts of Lycoming county, has bribed the Judiciary Committee of the House, and that it is thus prevented from reporting a bill repealing the odious enactment, which Geary sat up until midnight to sign before the ink was dry upon it.

In the meantime the Court met at Wiliamsport on Monday morning, and pro. reeded with its business as usual, the entire bar of the city uniting in requestioning Judge Gamble to disregard the outrageous and unconstitutional act of a corrupt Legislature. Mr. Peter Herdic, it is said, will proceed with a writ of quo warranto, and, if he does, the rascality which accompanied this piece of special legislation from its inception to the moment of its signature by Geary at midnight, and the bribery which prevented its repeal by the House will all be brought to light before the Supreme Court of the State. It may be that the fear of exposure in this way will induce the House Judiciary Committee to report the bill for repeal, and ensure its passage. If it does not we shall look for some rare revalations when the case comes before the Supreme Court.—Sunbury Dem.

Too Much For Forney!

Our State Legislature must be a most despicable thing, indeed. Even Forney of the Press is disgusted with it. The jobbery, trickery and corruption practiced at Harrisburg has become so gross and outrageous in its character as to alarm the most radical of the radical thieves. Hear what the Press says of it :

"The time is drawing near when the State legislature is expected to adjourn, and, as it approaches, the people will begin to inquire what has been done and what has been left undone. The adjournment of this body will probably be a relief to the se sense of dignity, honor and self-esteem has more than once been injured by its proceedings. It is with no feeling of pleasure or satisfaction, certainly, that we come to speak or write of the hody come to speak or write of the body which has passed the Twelfth and Sixteen-street Railroad bill; which has dallied with a negro minstrel company, and which last week, outraged propriety and the reputa-tion of the Commonwealth in the disgraceful "lemon" scene. But to one thing we would call the attention of the members. Now that they have had their firemen's ball, and their minds are again turned to the affairs of the Commonwealth, let them immediately take up and repeal the bill abolishing the Twenty and repeal the bill abolishing the Twenty-ninth Judicial District, lately passed with such clandestine and questionable haste.— The Senate has already tardily vindicated it-self—let the House do likewise. The members probably cannot appreciate the day bers probably cannot appreciate the damage they have done the party by their action in this case—to place the matter on higher grounds. Every lawyer in the State repu-diates it and blushes at it. Every Democrat-ic paper and orator, although keeping quiet now, is treasuring up this record against us in October. Let it be understood, without equivocation, that repeal we must have." About half past eight o'clock he received a parting visit from several of his nearest relatives-his wife, brother-in-law, sister-inlaw, and a little girl of eight or nine years whom he had adopted as his own child .-The interview with these was very affecting and when they left him he is said to have been deeply moved. His spiritual advisers were then admitted, and remained with him until the next turn in the solemn preparations for the closing scene,

About 10 the rosary was recited by Fathr Reilly, in presence of Joseph R. Chandler, Esq., one of the prison inspectors, and another gentleman possessing the same faith with the condemned man. Eaton entered into these services with great earnestless, making the responses-which he had thoroughly committed to memory-in a clear and distinct tone, and appearing fully to realize the solemnity of the occasion and of the services.

Under the guidance of his spiritual aders he had been faithful and zealous in bserving the requirements of the Church. and was prepared to meet his fate with all Christian fortitude.

In the interval between the religious excises he conversed freely and unreservedwith several persons who were admitted see him, part of the time throwing himself back in his chair, as he smoked a cigar and at others walking up and down the cell, not altogether at his ease.

EATON'S STATEMENT. Eaton assured his friends that he never fired the pistol, but that it was taken from his pocket by another person who is now at arge, and fired at Heenan. He further tates : "The night was dark and rainy, and you couldn't see a man right in front of you. It was a regular drunken row .-Ten shots were fired in quick succession, and yet their eyes were so sharp that they detected the very shot which killed Heenan -the fourth that was fired-and swore that I fired it. They swore that I fired that shot down the street, while the murdered man was standing on the pavement four ouses up the street from me. The man that took the pistol from me is now walking the streets of Philadelphia. A man was standing by me all this time, and ould have testified for me, but they indicted him as an accessory, to keep him off the stand, and then discharged him."

To a pointed negative from the Ex-President. he replied -- "I am firmly convinced that America has seen its last Republican President in the person of James Buchanan."

Whatever may have prompted the remark, so far it has proved prophetic. We have had no President of the United States since that period. The original thirteen are not now united. The administration of ABM. LINCOLN commenced with acknowledged usurpations upon the Constitution, which was the bond of Union, and it closed leaving the country governed, not by the Constitution and civil law, but by a tyrannical "military necessity."

His successor, Andrew Johnson, made effort, but failed to restore the Union and civil rule. The despotic two-thirds of the Senate and House, wedded to plunder, robbery and corruption, were too strong for him, and endeavored to parcipitate the country into anarchy or despotism.

PRESIDENT GRANT, entered upon the duties of Executive officer nominally. He is shorn of many of the high duties and re. ponsibilities of his office, and, however brave as a soldier, he manifests cowardice or senility as a civilian. DISSOLUTION.

Tunk, Boro

The Coparinership heretofore existing between Wilber Gardner and Charles Gardner, is dissolved by mutual consent. W. Gardner having sold his interest to A. J. Gilmore, retires from the business, and in doing so, tenderers his thanks to his friends and patrons for the liberal patronage extended to him and the various firms, with which he has been connected for upwards of twenty years past, and bespeaks a continuance of the same to the new firm, at the old stand of W. Gardner's Exchange, where can be found a complete stock of NEW GOODS, and a desire to serve the public better than heretofore—One word before closing up.

All those having unsettled accounts, or notes, due the old firm, are requested to settle without delar as the senior member of the firm proposes togo West as soon as the books and accounts are settled. He wishes to avoid the necessity of leaving them with
