RENTING HOUSES TO PROSTITUTES. - We have been appealed to by the people in some of the that "I don't want to be bothered by such most respectable portions of the city to call at | fellows." The men who made this statement, tention to the fact of certain landlords renting assured us on the honor of soldiers that is houses to prostitutes, to the scandal of decent people, and the disgrace of genteel vicinities. volces that their families were almost starving It may become our duty some day to give the for the want of the necessaries which the names of the owners of property thus occupied. As the fact now exists, it is certainly a crying provide. If the statement of the wounded shame that men who profess decency and even men who visited our sanctum is true, and we Christianity, should thus attempt to put money into their purses.

PABLOR ENTRETAINMENTS AT BRANT'S HALL .-Mr. R. Johnston, with his excellent company, will commence these entertainments at the above beautiful ball this evening. The performances will be of a high and amusing nature, and the pieces selected from the best English and French writers. We are promised that every care will be taken that nothing in the night last, near the depot. It appears that he performances shall give offence to the most and three other workmen, Michael Mulligan, fastidious. The company, we are sure from what we know of it, cannot fail to please and attract, and under the able management of Mr. R. Johnston who has had large experience in the Dramatic World, we feel assured that their stay amongst us will be a prolonged one.

Jordan, of the Ninth Pennsylvania (Lochiel) discharge of his duties to the best of his abili-Cavalry, arrived in this city this morning by the ty. He then read the following verses, his last night train from Baltimore. Maj Jordan own composition, which were well received: has been in the hands of the enemy for about To the Officers of the 17th Pennsylvania Cavalry, on five months, having been surrounded and captured while on a scouting expedition in Kentucky. We may write that he was captured atter a gallant resistance, having been literally overpowered by overwhelming numbers. During Major Jordan's captivity he was most of the time in close confinement, and treated with a double severity on account of the false story circulated respecting his conduct and course towards the rebels and their families. While Maj. Jordan made no concealment of his warfare on men and his determination to continue at war with all rebels, he was yet able to convince the rebels before his release that he never was guilty of an act of injustice or a deed beneath a soldier while in the service of the country, and the rebels received the proof with the satisfaction of men who are convinced of the honor and integrity of a soldier. Maj. Jordan was relieved from all charges touching his violation of the usages of war, upon his own statement by order of Jeff. Davis.

Maj. Jordan looks as if he has suffered se verely, and yet he is resolved to return to his command as soon as the arrangement of private business which has been neglected during his absence, wiil permit. He was called on by a large number of his friends this morning, and received the congratulation of all who know him, on his release.

A DESTRUCTIVE BALL.—The Norristown Herald learns that a young man of talent and ingenuity, in that town, has invented a very health. ingenious and deadly instrument in the shape of a bullet. It is contended by the inventor's friends that the bullet, after being fired from a rifle or musket, will enter the body of a man and explode, causing instant death, and then pass through the man immediately behind him. and so on. We are not informed whether the inventor has a patent for it or not. We refrain from giving a description of its construction, as the rebels might steal the patent and appropri ate it to their advantage. It appears to us it is as destructive as shell from cannon, while it is not so expensive, and a man can move over muddy roads, with a rifle over his shoulder and his cartridge box filled with this destructive ammunition, more easily and faster than heavy ar illery.

THE PAY OF THE MEN IN THE HOSPITALS. has elicited the fact that a large portion of the sick and wounded men in the same hospitals wounded heroes, victims of the Antietam struggle with the minions of slavery and the beseech us to write and print a word in behalf little favor, but the wounded men who made it were insolently ordered to "begone" by one of the clerks in attendance, with the admonition was true, and declared with sorrow in their money due them from the government would have no right to question their veracity, some one who is liberally paid by the government to discharge a duty faithfully, is guilty of a dirty and a disgraceful wrong.

LYCOMING COUNTY .- Fatal Railroad Accident. Michael Armstrong, a workman on the track of the Philadelphia and Eric Railroad, stationed at the Muncy depot, was run over and killed by the Catawissa freight train, on Wednesday Thos. Colling and Martin Lynch, were called up in the night to repair a broken rail, and were in the rear of the freight train on a hand car .-After the treight train arrived at the depot, it became necessary to back down for some purpose, which it is alleged was done without giving the usual signal, and the men in the handcar who were coming up, did not for some reatory arrangements were made—so that those in charge of the freight train. PRESENTATION OF A SWORD TO DR. JAMES MOORE. This gentleman was the recipient of a magnificomplimentary speech on the occasion, setting forth the esteem in which the Doctor is held by himself, and the officers making this handsome donation. Dr. Moore responded appropledging himself to stand by the officers and men of this fine regiment, as the participant of ARRIVAL OF MAJ. JORDAN.—Maj. Thomas J. their fortunes; and promising to continue the entation of a Sword and Belt, by James Moore, Assistant Surgeon:

Your gifts of a belt and a sword. So handsome, I grateful receive; Your expressions so kind, every word Affects me, you well may believe.

No vanishing sentiment, traced Like characters written in sand. Is inscribed, that can soon be effaced From my heart, which begins to expand.

Which is filled with a warmth and a glow. Of friendship divine from above, Which causes the tears to o'erflow Welling up from the fountain of love. When the belt is all torn to a shred, The sword and inscription shall last When all our compatriots are dead, This deeply prized sword shall lay past.

And wondering people shall say As it lies in my archives secure "Look here what was given one day As a present to Grand-papa Moore!

COMMUNICATED.

To the Ladies Serving in the Kitchen at CAMP CURTIN :- As the ladies generally did not attend the last monthly meeting, at which ime statements were made relative to what had been done in the last, and arrangements made for the ensuing month, the daily news-paper seems to be the only direct avenue through which we can reach the members of the association. This article, however, is intended exclusively for those who have pledged them-selves to serve in the ladies' kitchen during the week.

It is well known to the association that Mr. Wm. Colder has kindly furnished a conveyance to the ladies, all summer, free of charge, in which they and the articles they prepared were taken out to camp daily. He has still more generously lately consented to furnish those going to the kitchen with a carriage to and fro daily, but owing to the want of punctuality in the ladies the driver has been obliged to fail in the agreement. All must see that we have no right to trespass upon good nature and put Mr. Colder or his driver to inconvenience by an unnecessary delay. There is no difficulty in meeting the appoinment, if the ladies will but practice a kitle management and positive punctuality. The carriage will be at the room at 9 o'clock A. M., to take out those whose day it is to serve, and the business of the kitchen must be closed these short days by 4 o'clock P. M. when they will by the same means be conveye

For the Telegraph.] Mr. Epiror :- Believing that you would not either privately or through the wide circulation of the TELEGRAPH, I beg the use of a little space in your columns. In your article on the 30th ult., you say, "Lately this secession sympathizer has discovered that one of our ministers of the country of th try in his prayers or his sermons," &c name was given, and it was thought best to let and distressing disease, and at the same time it remain unanswered, for it is humiliating also cured me of a running scrofula, which had that a church of God should be dragged before the public by a political print. The article in yesterday's TRLEGRAPH, however, makes it proper to take some notice of the matter. You say Christian minister receives a handsome present to keep silence, when wicked men are employing a huge wickedness "as an engine for destroying; his country;" you also warn "Christian congregations to take notice, with whom do you with your pastors to associate," and as all this is based upon a published letter in another paper, it publicly casts a stigma upon the Retormed Church of this city. From these extracts the public would very naturally conceive that in the German Reformed Church silence is kept, that no prayer ascends from the pulpit for our President or our country, and that in the sermons preached no allusion is made to our country, and what stigmatizes the church is that you implicate (by fair inference) that the congregation are quietly allowing such course of conduct; and the a course of conduct; and the pairry gift of fifty dollars, by a man of wealth you declare in your first article to be "a straw showing which way the wind blows, and that money makes the mare go." Now, what are the facts? Simply, that from the commence-ment of the war, there has scarcely been a divine service held in the Beformed Church in which either our beloved President, our coun try, our army, or our navy have not either i part or collectively been remembered at the throne of grace. Instead of "no allusion to our country" in the sermons, we have had several entirely devoted to this subject, and many others in which our country has been referred to. As a congregation, none in this city has in a quiet, unpretending way, exhibited more true patriotism, and this is said without any improper feeling, for all have done nobly. Our lecture rooms have been repeatedly in use by our soldiers, and after the battles in Maryland our vestry was the very first to offer to the authorities freely, the use of the same rooms for hospital purposes, which offer, as all know, was accepted, and the rooms ever since occupi ed by the wounded. On that memorable Sabbath, the 21st of April, 1861, the vestry held special meeting, and offered the use of their property to the Governor, and at the same time unanimously voted that the Star Spangled Banner should be unfurled from the dome of the church, as a token to the whole community that whatever might betide us, we esteemed love of country second only to our love to Ged, and that we pledged ourselves true to liberty, as history proves our ancestry have always been.

[Extract from a letter on the Battle Field.]

This battle (Antietam) has been the most sanguinary of the war, and the only one fought with walble design and upon military principles. The the overlooking position of the commanding centre, and final success—excites bewildering admiration, and carries the mind to the great fields of Austerlitz and Wagram, fought by is still trickling away in silent calmness— while the dissevered limbs and maniac brain of others give rise to sounds God grant I may not

T.—1860—X." Anything alleviating the sufferings and saving the lives of our soldiers, is a national blessing. I witnessed some astonishing results from this article

It is well known the effect of burnt gunpowder and excitement is thirst, which added to the ticular hospital, the physicians were allowing their patients to drink Plantation Bitters, otherwise called S. T.-1860-X, and although the wounded are most numerous, here—this di-Admission, 25 cts.
