

TRIAL OF A FIRE ENGINE - A trial of the engine now in service belonging to the Good Will Fire Company, was made yesterday, in front of the Capital. The engine was fully manned and from a one inch nozzle with two hundred and fifty feet of hose, threw water completely over the dome. The company were assisted by Capt. James' Company of the Provost Guard. The test may be considered very satisfactory, so far as concerns the general working capacity of the engine.

FRANKLIN COUNTY - On the day morning last Sallie, second youngest daughter of Mrs. McLaughlin, while in Mr. Clark's school room, Mercersburg, was badly burned by her clothes taking fire from the stove, at which she was warming herself. Her arms and one side of her face suffered most severely. Every effort was made to save her, and partial success obtained. Subsequent applications have greatly reduced her suffering. The most surprising thing in the accident is that her limbs and body almost entirely escaped burning.

BEDFORD COUNTY - William Leutz, of the borough of Bradford, by a sudden spring of a horse which he was driving one day last week, was precipitated from his buggy and so badly injured as to disfigure his face for life. - On last Thursday morning as the passenger train hospital, at Camp Curtin, has gradually diminished, the greater part of those still remaining being convalescent.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ALLEGHANIANS - This model comedy troupe have left for Lewistown. During their brief sojourn among us, the Alleghanians have been blessed with good houses. Their performances have given general satisfaction.

SANFORD'S OPERA HOUSE - Cinderella. - Sanford is the first manager, who has attempted to produce anything like a pantomime in the capital of Pennsylvania. It was a bold effort, involving alike money and labor, but with his peculiar energy, and the skill which has conducted to his triumph in all his undertakings, Sam has succeeded in his pantomime.

Cinderella, or the Glass Slipper, never was better "put on the stage." The scenery, costumes, appointments, machinery, &c., are all complete. The pantomime may have been produced with a larger corps of supernumeraries in other theatres, but these are adjuncts often used in service to hide defects and make for deficiencies of real importance.

The leading characters in the pantomime are sustained by Sanford, Paul Kane, Williams and F. Myers. Sanford as Clown, and Paul Kane

PROGRESS OF CRAFT - As an illustration of the progress of the craft, we call attention to the fact that the regular meeting of the latter organization, held December 1st, it was unanimously resolved that all members should now in any or who might thereafter be found guilty of betraying the interests of the Union would be summarily expelled. The members of the said Union who have received pay and bounty, and who have been denounced by the body, should be held to the same and contempt of the craft everywhere. Such action has the approval of the membership everywhere.

CELEBRATION OF CHRISTMAS - The great holiday has followed in the wake of its hundreds of thousands of admirers. The celebration of Christmas has been observed in a more eminently social, festive and religious manner; the warehouses, factories and other places of extensive business in and about our city being closed at an early hour, thereby affording their employees an occasion for merriment and pleasure. Our friends in the retail gift trade, especially those in the confectionery business, were overrun with custom and, per consequence in deference to their many juvenile patrons, could not think of shutting up. During the day, the streets were replete with beauty and fashion; and death the general influence of a clear December sky, the promenaders looked gay and happy. The Mayor's sanctum was unattended this morning by any considerable audience, and the lock-up disgorged only two victims of the intoxicating fluid—a good evidence of a pre-existing rational state of things.

The merry greetings and social reunions of the day were unlimited in number and hilarity; our benevolent ladies in charge of the hospitals contributing, as usual, their full share toward the universal enjoyment of all. The rooms of the various hospitals were transmogrified into winter gardens of charming freshness and verdure; the bare walls being literally obscured by the rich profusion of patriotic inscriptions, glittering ornaments and exquisitely beautiful designs, which, under the fairy-like fingers of the ladies, had made their appearance simultaneously with the dawn of Christmas morning.

The patients at the cotton factory were treated to an oyster supper at four o'clock, p. m. At the German Reformed Church hospital, a dinner was served up in style; and, in fact, the patients of all the hospitals were, more or less recipients of Christmas remembrances of some kind.
