DR. JOHNSON

BALTIMORE
LOCK HOSPITAL.

HAS discovered the most certain, speedy and effectual remedies in the world for DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

RELIEF IN SIX TO TWELVE HOURS.
NO MERCURY OR NOXIOUS DRUGS.
A Cure Warranted, or No Charge, in from One to Two Days.

Weakness of the Back, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Involutionary diseases, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Laegnor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Tremblings, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin. Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the Solitary Habits of Youth—their victims than the song of Sirens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN
Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senators with the thunders of eloquence or waked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
Married Persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c., speedily cured.

Who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS
Immediately Cured, and full vigor restored.

This distressing affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgence. Young persons are too apt to commit consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent. Besides being deprived the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and distressing symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, a wasting of the frame, cough, consumption, decay and death.

YOUNG MEN
Who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone, and have frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are, nightly sleep, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the darling of his parents, could be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating

MARRIAGE.
Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.
When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or the dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from veneration and respectability, can alone benefit him. He falls into the hands of ignorant and designing pretenders, who, incapable of curing, fitch his pecuniary substance, keep him trilling month after month, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair leave him with ruined health to sigh over his gallant disappointment, or by the use of the deadly poison, mercury, hasten the constitutional symptoms of this terrible disease, such as affections of the Head, Throat, Nose, Skin, etc., progressing with frightful rapidity till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings by sending him to that undivided country from whence no traveller returns.

INDORSEMENT OF THE PRESS.
The many thousands cured at this institution year after year, and the numerous important surgical operations performed by Dr. Johnson, witnessed by the reporters of the Sun, Clipper, and many other papers, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

CAPTURE OF ALEXANDRIA, LOUISIANA.

Rebel Supplies at Port Hudson and Vicksburg Cut Off.

New York, May 3.

The steamer George Cromwell, from New Orleans on the 25th, arrived here.

The Captain of the Cromwell reports having taken Alexandria near the head of the Red River.

A Brashear City dispatch of the 24th ult. to the New Orleans Era, states that a rebel soldier from the Red River country reported three gunboats had captured Alexandria several days previous, probably by Farragut's fleet.

The same soldier reports that our occupation of the country and Admiral Farragut's blockade of Red-River have seriously interfered with supplies for the rebels at Vicksburg and Fort Hudson.

The Era of the 25th, states that a reconnoissance of Sabine Pass, was made on the 18th, by two boats from the gunboats Cayuga and New London. On landing near the light house, they were fired on by concealed rebels. Capt. McQueen of the Cayuga was killed and his crew of five men captured. Capt. Reed of the New London escaped, but received a wound over the eye from a rifle ball and four of his men were wounded.

The body of Captain M'Dermott was given up by the rebels and buried at New Orleans on the 25th.

The Adams' Express treasure safe from the wreck of the steamer Marion, has been recovered and received at New Orleans.

Quien-La-Rose was captured on the 20th by the gunboats Estrella, Clinton, Arizona and Calhoun. One seaman was killed, another wounded, and engineer Weld was also wounded.

The rebel flag which floated over the Fort was presented to the commander of the Clinton.

The mass of the people are loyal and the country well supplied with necessities. Gen. Veston dates to the 7th ult. represent the rebels fortifying the point from the city to the fort.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 2.

Another detachment of prisoners, 144 in number, has reached here, including several commanding officers. Others are expected in the course of the day. They were sent to the Old Capitol Prison. They were all comfortably clad, though their garments were coarse.

The party accompanying the Secretary of State and Assistant Secretary of State, were Mr. Spalden, minister, from the Hanseatic cities, Baron Geralt, the Russian minister, Count Pifer, Swedish minister, Baron Grabow, Secretary of the Russian legation, with others. They were returned from their visit to the Rappahannock and Fortress Mifflin.

FROM MISSISSIPPI.

New York, May 2.

The Tribune has received the following dispatch dated.

Memphis, April 30th.—The Jackson Appeal of the 24th says, that the Yankee Cavalry expedition into Mississippi threatening Columbus and Grandis excels in daring all the former Yankee raids.

The Appeal has intelligence from Arkansas that the rebels are rapidly strengthening and Kirby Smith's army, in the west, will soon attack the Unionists in Missouri. General Marry has been transferred to the rebel army in Tennessee.

ed at Fairmont, and there is force sufficient to prevent them from crossing the Monongahela river, the whole force may be captured.

Respectfully,
JNO. OLIPHANT.

To Captain Wright, Uniontown.

Later information fixes Maj. Showalter's force at 500, with six pieces of artillery. A vidette has arrived, who states that he communicated with Maj. Showalter about three o'clock this morning. He had planted his artillery, commanding the bridge, and expressed his determination to hold the place at all hazards.

Mr. James Wilson, a citizen of this place, arrived this morning, direct from Morgantown, where he arrived, in company with another person, on Wednesday evening about five o'clock. He remained about half an hour, and just before he left two Union soldiers, mounted, came dashing into the town, reporting that Maj. Showalter was eight miles distant with a Union force, and hurrying forward with all possible speed.

The rebels left Morgantown on Tuesday, encamping about six miles out, in the direction of Kingwood. About three o'clock Wednesday morning they again started, going towards Fairmont. About nine o'clock in the forenoon cannonading was distinctly heard at the Cheat river and also in Morgantown, and continued at intervals until between three and four o'clock in the afternoon. The impression was general that a heavy fight was going on in the direction of Fairmont.

One o'clock p. m.—Information deemed reliable, has been received that Major Showalter is at Morgantown, and that Col. Mulligan encountered the rebels a mile and a half below Fairmont on Wednesday morning, and repulsed them. They are said to have retreated in the direction of Morgantown, their only way of escape, encamping six miles from the place on Wednesday night. In a case they were pressed, it was believed they would scatter their forces.

Capt. Wright, in view of the non-arrival of reinforcements from Pittsburgh, concluded to return with his Provost Guard, and a special train was placed at his disposal. Prior to his departure a public meeting was held at the county house, and resolutions passed commending Capt. Wright and his command for their services.

I have conversed with several persons from Morgantown, and listened to a variety of statements concerning the conduct of the raiders. Mr. Lloyd Bell, a prominent citizen and most devoted Unionist, is stated to have been killed, also J. J. Jenkins and Andrew Johnson. Two citizens, Lieutenant Henry Bell and a man named Morrison, were taken prisoners, and the latter was given out by their captors that they would be shot for bushwhacking.

The residence of Wm. Leasure, Esq., Deputy Marshal, a short distance out of town, on his farm, was burned, and the only house destroyed so far as we can learn. Mr. Leasure's store, in the town, was pillaged, also the jewelry store of L. S. Hays, the dry goods and drug store of Carr, Hanway & Nye, the boot and shoe store of Charles Watts, the hat store of Mr. Elchman, and every grocery store in the place.

The officers, with one exception, appeared to show a disposition to restrain their men, and guards were placed on some of the stores, with instructions to the men to take away such articles as they may need.

The exception was Col. Harman, who permitted his men to do just as they pleased. Some of the officers had gold, silver and United States treasury notes, but most of them had a full supply of "blue backs," redeemable "six months after a treaty of peace between the Confederate and Federal States. Two Union men, named Potter and Hickman, were wounded, having been fired at by the rebels upon being discovered with arms in their hands.

The citizens of Uniontown had a most gratifying exhibition of the loyalty of one section of Fayette county Sergeant E. F. Hibbs, of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry, appeared in town on Wednesday afternoon, at the head of forty farmers, all well mounted, and each with his squirrel rifle upon his shoulder. The Sergeant reported to Capt. Wright, and was ordered to proceed to Cheat river at once.

THE VERY LATEST.

Sergeant Boston arrived on Friday afternoon, on the train from Uniontown, and reports that Major Showalter had fallen back from Morgantown and crossed Cheat river.

MOVEMENTS AT WHEELING TO DEFEAT THE RAID.
Gen. Wheat was ordered on Monday to call out the 26th brigade, State militia, by Gen. Schenck. The brigade is not uniformed, or equipped, but the officers were immediately summoned, and after consultation orders were issued for the assembling of the 4th and 5th regiments on Tuesday morning. Seven hundred accordingly assembled at the appointed hour, and were supplied with new and better guns. Hundreds who had neglected to comply with the order to parade were brought up by squads before three o'clock, and all were supplied with ammunition. On Wednesday morning the 4th regiment, (Col. Logan's) left for the east at two o'clock, and when last heard from was at Ellettsville, where the first obstinacy occurred. Volunteers from Steubenville, Wheeling and Washington were on hand in hundreds on Wednesday morning, but were not sent out. The provision train sent out to supply the 4th regiment collided, near Moundsville, with a construction train, and several of the road employees were severely injured.

Troops arrived from Ohio, and were sent forward on Wednesday, but being detained by the accident came back to Benwood, whence they were ordered to Parkersburg. Meantime news of the attack on Fairmount reached Wheeling, and the troops were again sent forward. Cavalry were kept continually scouting in all directions from the city, and on Wednesday morning a party brought in a son of Jeff Martin formerly of U. S. Marshall, but now in Dixie, suspected of being a spy. Rev. E. V. Dodge, of Wheeling was captured by the rebels at Oakland. He arrived at Wheeling on Wednesday, having come around through Pennsylvania. Though closely examined, he was courteously treated by the guerrillas, who informed him that they had eight hundred at Oakland, and that fifteen hundred had gone to Lewisburg. They claimed that their force was seven thousand, and that they were therefore safe on the cavalry. They expected to have been reinforced by some cavalry from this direction. Mr. Wilson came from Morgantown this evening at 10 o'clock.—Dear Sir, I am rejoiced to inform you as follows: The rebels have left Morgantown and gone up the west side of the river towards Fairmont. They left sometime last night. There has been firing heard in the direction of Fairmont since one o'clock in this direction. The rebels did not burn the bridge at Morgantown, evidently leaving it as a means of retreat, should they be forced to fall back. The 5th Virginia (Union) regiment, 2,500 strong, with a battery of artillery, came into Morgantown this evening. This is reliable. The fear is, however, that they will not be able to successfully resist the force of rebels should they be defeated, especially as they have no cavalry. They expected to have been reinforced by some cavalry from this direction. The citizens of Morgantown, he says, seemed to be anxious to have as many men come up as possible. If the enemy are defeated turned with the following "reliable statement" which is worth preserving:

"Four companies of militia were at Morgantown, when the enemy came in, and undertook to defend the place. They took refuge in houses and fired from them, but the rebels shelled them out and set the houses on fire, and they were then gobbled up. Seven of them were killed. The rest were taken off in the direction of Dixie, as prisoners. The estimate of the force put at four thousand which is without doubt a great exaggeration. The rebels proceeded from Morgantown to Uniontown, where they committed some depredations, and returned by the way of Backsville towards Fairmont, passing thirteen miles of Waynesburg. There was a good deal of alarm at Waynesburg, and the cashier of the bank there destroyed $60,000 of the bank's issue for fear of its falling into their hands."

On Wednesday information was received of another guerrilla movement, threatening Weston from the direction of Sutton.

The Wheeling Intelligencer, from which we have taken the foregoing, says:

"There is one lesson we must not fail to learn from the success of this raid of the enemy, that there is in our midst a foe no less prejudicial to our safety, than the one in our front. It is not to be supposed for a moment that an invasion of such magnitude, reaching far into an enemy's country, within lines of railway and telegraph, would be undertaken by even the most feverishly and daring without accurate knowledge of the numbers and disposition of the opposing forces. There is not an officer in the rebel army who would have risked leading even a cavalry force to the Pennsylvania line in the Monongahela Valley, if he had not known absolutely and exactly that we had no force within reach to resist this advance, and that he could have destroyed our communications as he pleased, and thrown in to intercept them in their retreat. How could this be so accurately known to them? Only through the sympathies in our midst who acted as spies and informers. They it was who burned the bridges between here and Granton to prevent the passage of troops, just as they did two years ago. They are just as much our enemies as the rebel army. They act in concert with them; know when they are coming, and what to do to assist them; and they do it."
