

The Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA. Thursday Evening, May 14, 1863.

UNION STATE CONVENTION.

The LOYAL CITIZENS OF PENNSYLVANIA, without distinction of party, who desire cordially to unite in sustaining the NATIONAL AND STATE ADMINISTRATIONS, in their patriotic efforts to suppress a sectional and un-holy rebellion against the UNITY OF THE REPUBLIC...

Chairman of the Union State Central Committee. GEO. W. HARRIS, Secretary. WM. J. HOWARD.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the Loyal Citizens of Pennsylvania, without distinction of party, to organize, in each Election District of the State, a Union League for the purpose of sustaining the Government in suppressing this unwholesome and wicked rebellion, which now seeks to divide and destroy the Republic.

A Word to the Soldiers.

There are now a large number of brave men at Camp Curtin, awaiting the completion of their pyrrhic rolls, when they will be promptly mustered out of service and furnished with transportation homeward. These men have felt the shock and passed through the danger of battle. They have met traitors, and contended with them face to face. They have won imperishable honor, where death rioted with treason...

The Finances and the War.

The Press of to day says the newspapers of the country are daily printing the best evidence that can possibly be given of the devotion of the people to the Union, and their belief that a war is necessary for its preservation. We speak of the little paragraph that always announces the daily subscription to the national loan at the office of Mr. J. Cope, the agent of the Treasury Department. This is a popular loan of the people to the Government, for the period of twenty years, the interest five per cent.

The Trial of Vallandigham—War on Constitutional Principles.

As we expected it would, the trial of that blatant traitor, Vallandigham, has developed still further the idea of "Democratic support" of the war for the Union, for the Government, for Liberty, and hence necessarily against slavery, slave-holders and the advocates of human bondage.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Gentlemen arriving from the army last night, who certainly speak advisedly, say there are no indications of a movement to the south side of the river by our army.

THE WAR IN MEXICO.

Advices from Puebla, via Havana, to the 21st inst., state that the French were repulsed on the 18th in an attack on the convent of Vaughustin, Carmon and Merced.

THE FRENCH AGAIN REPULSED.

On the 14th a battle occurred at Mexico, between a party of Commonwealth's forces and the French. Both parties claim success, but the chief design of Comenfort to dislodge the French from Mexico was not attained.

Let us carry out the doctrine enunciated in this argument of a bright light in the copper-head ranks. Congress has power to raise and equip an army, and with it to suppress insurrection. A call is made for 100,000 men, and that number of patriotic citizens respond...

The Death of Stonewall Jackson.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, May 13, 1863. The following letter and order are published in the Petersburg (Virginia) Sentinel.

The Situation in 1862 and 1863.

There can be no doubt but we have advanced far in the work of subjugating the rebels since last year. True, on the 10th of May, 1862, our forces were investing Richmond, and Mitchell and his army occupied a small portion of Alabama; but aside from this, we now hold every foot of territory then occupied, and much more, in Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia.

and Mobile to prevent the capture of Jackson and Vicksburg, and that General Grant, being apprised of this movement of the enemy, had fallen back to the river to await reinforcements.

Dishonored Persons Sent South.

Thirteenth male and eleven female rebels were sent South on the steamer Belle, of Memphis, this evening, under the orders of the provost marshal general.

DECLINATION OF A PROVOST MARSHAL.

We trust that our contemporaries will not fail to announce that Hon. W. W. Ketcham has declined the appointment of the Provost Marshalship of his district. It is important that this should be known in every county in the Senate, and as we notice that some of our contemporaries still publish the list of Marshals with Mr. Ketcham's name embraced, we thus remind them of his declination.
