HARRISBURG, PA Saturday Evening, May 16, 1868

UNION STATE CONVENTION. The LOYAL CITIZENS OF PENNSYLVA NIA, without distinction of party, who desire cordially to unite in sustaining the NATIONAL AND STATE ADMINISTRATIONS, in their patriotic efforts to suppress a sectional and un holy rebellion against the UNITY OF THE REPUBLIC, and who desire to support, by every power of the Government, our heroic brethren in arms, who are braving disease and the perils of the field to preserve the UNION OF OUR FATHERS, are requested to select a number of Delegates equal to their Le-gislative representatives of the State; at such times and in such manuer as will best respond to the spirit of this call, to meet in STATE CONVENTION, at PICTSBURG, on WED-NESDAY, the FIRST DAY OF JULY next, at eleven o'clock, A. M., on said day, to nominate condidates for the offices of GOVERNOR and JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT, and to take such measures as may be deemed ne cessary to strengtuen the Government in this season of common peril to a common country. C. P. MARKLE, Chairman of the Union State Central Committee.

GEO. W. HAMPRELY, | Secretaries. WM J. HOWARD. The Committee also passed the following resolution unanimously, viz:

Resolved, That it be recommended to the Loyal citizens of Pennsylvania, without distinction of party, to organize, in each Election District of the State Union Leagues, for the pur-pose of sistaining the Government in suppress-ing this causeless and wicked rebellion, which now seeks to divide and destroy the Republic.

John A. Magee.

Judging from the last number of the paper published by the late member from Perry county, we are led to believe that our article did not meet his vision in his soler momente, as we had hoped it would, and lostead of acknowledging his falsehoods, wilfully and maliciously uttered against the Postmaster of this city, he threatens to search the record hereafter to prove his assertion. He is welcome to all official or unofficial papers he can produce against the public or private character of the Postmaster, and publish them to the world, and we will gladly give him and all the copperhead falsifiers an opportunity to prove all their asser tions. Since our sober friend of the Perry county Democrat has refused to retract his false hoods, we have concluded to institute criminal proceedings against him in the courts of Dauphin county, where all his brother copperheads and villifiers shall have a full and fair opportunity to prove their assertions.

In the meantime we would advise John A Magee to come down and endorse those docu ments still lying ready pasted up for him, and which he may think were sent away, of which his constituents so justly complain. It was only on Thursday last that the Record No. 53. published during the session of the Legislature. together with Washington's Farewell Address, several Railroad Reports and the Adjutant General's Report, franked by him, were brought to the postoffice here and duly forwarded. The officers of the House perhaps can explain how these documents were detained. The Harrisburg postoffice was certainly not to blame, and John A. Magee knows it.

If this John A. Magee wants proof of his frequent intoxication and incapacity to attend to his public duties he can have it, and we shall inform his constituents of his conduct.

The Issue Made at Last, between the Seldiers and the Copperheads.

perhead Democracy. That issue has been made by the soldiers, and it was reserved for the heroes of two adjoining and two of the mightest counties in the Commonwealth to make sympathizers knew all this, and yet abotted the this issue with these desperate men. The sol- fell design. diers of Democratic Barks county refused to accept a welcome tendered them by a corpo rate city, whose authorities attempted to thrust forward, on the attention of the people, such men as Glancy Jones and Ancona. The soldiers of Republican Lancaster county declined a reception at the hands of the municipal authorities of Lancaster city, because the ceremony involved the necessity of coming in contuct with a copperhead Mayor, who has been one of the active agen's of the sympathizers with treason ever since the war for slavery was It is a mercy to him that wiser and better mer inaugurated. What better evidence need we have than these simultaneous refusals, by the men of two counties, of the estimation in which the copperheads are held by those who fight the battles of the Government? Never before has such a rebuke been administered to any party. Never before, has there been a but giving in addition countless voluntary conmore just condemnation placed upon the acts of those who have in vain attempted to conceal their treason in their zeal for party. In so many words it proclaims to the Democratic leaders that loyal men cannot com? in contact, with them without being defiled. In this these domestic foes mistake their own trace plain terms it asserts the truth, that the Democratic leaders are unworthy the respect of those who have perilled their lives in defence of the Government—that coming from the battle field where liberty was at issue with slavery, the soldiers of the Republic want no welcomes from those who have defended and upheld slavery and its offshoot, treason, during this entire condict. By this refusal, the soldiers make a ciating the agency of a firm, and settled govbroad issue with the copperheads. That issue ernment in promoting the general welfare, and has a vague idea that his personal interests the tender of a hypocritical reception. It is for would remain intact whilst insubordination and the copperheads to decide whether it shall be rebellion were raging around him. His error extended to blows such as are being dealt out ily and decendants, and therefore, if every to the traitors who are in arms in the South. It enlightenment dissipate the fogs which obscure is for the miscreants who have done all in their his mental perceptions, he will fervently thank power but bear arms in the cause of treason, to those loyal men who, equally for all Americans decide whether the war shall be inaugurated nationality, are determined to preserve the rehere—here in the loyal States, where freedom public. and the Government have been assailed and insulted too long with impunity. -The issue thus made, is a condition in the come in all its terrible fury and portentous tyrdom to the cause of Liberty power. The triumph of Democratic treas n is at an end. The majestic in lignation of the must either content itself to live in silence and allow the treasury to be tapped to support the obedience to the authorities, or prepare to be National Intelligencer. The glory of the reputawelcomed to a bloodier grave than that which tion which old Joe. Gales made for that concern neither anarchy or riot in the loyal States, but ten, by a set of shameless treasury leeches who they would be preferable in comparison with a hang about the Intelligencer, that one gets sick to longer submission to the intolerable conduct of notice the manner in which that sheet is still all claim further to be exempt from the penalty | the means of living afforded to those who never which their acts and their speeches merit. Let them beware, then, to what further lengths they push the issues which they have just made money which is yearly spent on the Intelligencer, with the returned troops of the army. And we repeat, it is for them to decide whether these issues shall be increased in their width or their depths, because the hour has come when mere opinions and all preferences, when party and individuals, when all but God and religion, must be yielded to promote the great end of saving this land and government from the destruction of its slave driving enemies.

Loyalty and its Opposites.

The North American utters a solemn truth, when t declares that a patriot adheres to his country under every adverse circumstance, as well as in the day of her prosperity. Whether the rulers be of one political party or the other, if lawfully elected, he yields a cheerful support to all legal requirements. Even when a combination of couthern slaveholders with northern politicians controlled the Government, and did many things exclusively for the interest of slavery the patriot submitted with no thought or threat of resistance or insurrection, for he saw no other course to avoid confusion and anarchy. Loyal men deemed it a monstrous error to inculcate rebellion, even though more than once their cherished convictions of public policy were set at nought, and wide spread ruin followed as an inevitable consequence.

The copperhead politician, and his southern friends, would revolt for trivial causes, and convulse society to its foundations for ends contemptibly small or utterly Utopian to coerce northern freemen to absolute silence on the subject of slavery; whereas they had willingly acknowledged it could not rightfully be meddled with except by the States wherein it existed. Thus were these madmen willing to encounter civil war, with all its horrors and uphravals, and to shatter into fragments this fair temple of liberty. They would invoke a fratricidal contest most wantonly and unnecessarily, for the government against which they warred had never wronged them, and was most solicitous to comply with their every wish. To this unnatural rebellion the foolish and ungrateful copperhead lends all the aid he safe y can by disparaging and weakening the National Administration. To this end are all its efforts censured with acrimony and unfairness-its purposes misrepresented, its plans derided or exposed to the enemy, and all its measures thwarted, so far as is possible. The unworthy politician can never forget the old party civisions, and he villifies the men who hold the reins in this perilous hour, as though the country had better perish than salvation come through any other than Democratic agencies. Even the most decided and glorious victories achieved by northern armies seem in his jaundiced eye as inferior advantages, and he exults with ill-concealed glee when southern refels libe port of New York over eighty large packobtain some temporary triumphs.

Our copperheads prate of Southern rights withheld, although the record shows that we were solicitous to grant whatever was possible, and were rudely repelled by the declaration We have at length an open issue with the cop- that union was impossible on any terms. > The factious politician professes to desire peace, but by aiding rebellion he prolongs the war. He says he want; reunion, but his actions tend to disseverance wide and perpetual. He encourages a principle of revolt which would always insidiously work our disintegration, and never permit that repose and security essential to happiness and advancement. He is his country's worst enemy, whether he knows it or not, and his own as well; for he and his must share in the general calamity. stand in the breach to avert our national ruin. Were it otherwise, Southern barbarians would rush in to work our destruction. It would be easy to demonstrate that in all interests; for if their secession theories were carried out to the point of absolute fulfillment, the very pelf and preferment for which these base politicians would barter their souls could not possibly have an existence. The material wealth which has heretotore fed them would disappear amid convulsion and aparchy. The genuine copperhead seems incapable of appre-

MOUNT RENO. - The Frederick (Maryland) E. aminer says that the bold peak in the South relations between loyal men and the copperhead Mountain, near the "Mountain House," on the traitors of the north, which we have long anti-border of Frederick and Washington counties, cipated. We have predicted that such would Md., where the gallant and accomplished Gen. be the result of the presence of the soldiers in Reno fell, is named and announced by the inour midst. We have implored the misguided habitants of that vicinity as "Mount Reno," in of those who were assailing, the Government, honor of the lemented hero. This is a befitting and warned the deliberate who were daily af tribute to his memory, and no nobler monufording treason sympathy, that an hour of re- ment could record his fame, than the everlast tribution would deeme, and it has at length ing mountain which was the scene of his marThe National Intelligencer.

It is a wonder to us, that the in authority earned a dollar in honest labor, and 'who have been living off of the Government for years. The by the Government, would almost support a bat tallon of brave men in the field for the same period. It would thus be expended in defence of the nation, while that now actually thrown away on that newspaper is contributed to support s class of convivial songeters, lecherous frequenters of the saloons and the representatives of that aristocracy in Washington city who look upon every principle of this Government which claims p ecedence for freedom as radically wrong. No occasion has presented itself, during the war for the Union; which afforded an opportunity for a thrust at the Administration, which was not embrackd with avidity by the Intelligencer yet its broad columns teem with official adver isements, and each appropriation bill of Congrees is laden with a fat item for the Intelligen cer. The people are becoming disgusted with this sort of business. The Intelligencor of to-day is not the Intelligencer when Gales presided with dignity and statesmanship over its columns. It has no claim upon the Government, and if it is to be pensioned, it should at least be taught to respect the power which supports it, and vited to attend without further notice. not allowed to rend the hand which furnishes it with the luxuries of "victuals and clothes."

Vallandigham Canard.

It now appears that the story of Vailandigham's sentence to the Tortugas Islands is The Cincinnati Daily Times of the 14th iast, says that it has positive official assurance that the reported sentence of the arch traitor s unfounded, and that it was gotten up by his friends to test public feeling, so that they might nake their calculations as to the success of any esistance to the real sentence, should that be objectionable, when announced. Up to the 14th inst. the result of the investigation was not known to any but the General command ing the Department in which the offence was committed and the trial took place, and to the court which heard the case.

Brig. Gen. Charles Campbell.

This gallant and veteran officer, though still suffering from his wounds, has insisted upon being placed in command, where he could serve the great cause to which he is so earnestly attached. After reporting bimself for duty, a few days since, he was ordered to repair to the acrthwest and report himself to Gen. Pope. This will afford Gen. Campbell a wide field of action; and we are satisfied that in any engagement he may have in the Indian country, he will cover himself with new glory, and further prove his capacity as a soldier and a fighting
