HARRISBURG, PA. Wednesday Evening, May 27, 1863.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

ADJOURNED.—The Supreme Court, which convened in this city early in May, adjourned today at one o'clock, sine die.

THE MARKET this morning was unusually well attended, and prices ruled as high as ever. Then the market hours closed, scarcely an article remained unsold, except a few flowers in pots, these appearing to be in demand for these.

CHANGES IN THE COMMISSARY DEPARTMENT.—Capt. W. H. Bell, C. S., U. S. A., at this post, has been relieved from duty, and ordered to Santa Fe, New Mexico. John M. Page will accompany Capt. B. as clerk. Capt. Smith, U. S. A., will temporarily assume the duties of Commissary at this post.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—The annual election of officers of the Harrisburg Cemetery will be held at Fehnestock's hardware store, in Market Square, on Monday next. Polls open from 2 to 5 o'clock, P. M. The following candidates will be voted for: President—Hamilton-Alricks. Managers—William Jennings, George W. Williams, William C. Mack, Dr. John H. Fager and Chambers Dubbe.

ARRIVAL OF THE 137TH PENNA. VOLS.—The 137th Regiment Penna. Vols., composed of men from Butler and four of the adjoining counties, arrived at Camp Curtin, this morning. This Regiment has now been in the service nine months, and came here in order to be mustered out of the service. The muster-rolls of the different companies are nearly ready, and it is expected the whole regiment will be mustered to-morrow.

THE HARMONIC SOCIETY REHEARSAL.—The Harmonic Society will meet this evening in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of giving a full rehearsal of the Cantata of the evening. The society are to sing on the evening of the 31st inst. at the house of the Rev. Mr. Campbell, in the Court House. The officers of the Christian Church, who were present, would urge upon each member the importance of giving this meeting a full and attentive attendance.

A FAITHFUL OFFICER.—Police Officer Campbell has earned the confidence and respect of every good citizen by the coolness and daring with which he has conducted himself during the two days of excitement and outrage in this city. The notorious imbecility of the city government, and the people and property of Harrisburg at the mercy of the mob, until by the coolness and daring of such men as Officer Campbell, order was partially restored. We have been gathering up the most disgraceful character connected with these proceedings, which we shall lay before our readers at the proper time, when the decent and order loving people of the State capital can judge of the capacity and sincerity of those placed at the head of our municipal affairs.

REMOVAL OF DISTURBANCES BETWEEN THE SOLDIERS AND NEGROES.—All day yesterday the soldiers kept unusually quiet in the vicinity where the outrages occurred the night before, noticed in the TELEGRAPH of yesterday, and no disturbance occurred worth chronicling during the entire day. As the shades of night closed the day of day, an evident restless and uneasy disposition began to work in the minds of some of the soldiers, who, evidently, had prepared an attack in a quarter least exposed to the vigilance of the police. This supposition was verified, about ten o'clock in the evening, by an unearthly shrieking and screaming in the locality known as "Bull Run," formerly called "Judytown," at the lower end of Third street.

The soldiers had commenced an attack on the wellings occupied by the colored people in this vicinity, and made sad havoc while their hearts lasted, compelling the inmates of the houses to fly to another locality, and breaking the windows, doors and furniture in a reckless and dastardly manner. Their triumph was exceedingly short lived after the police heard the disturbance, and their early arrival on the ground slackened the operations of the mob and compelled them to retreat to the alleys in the vicinity, by which all of them, save one, effected their escape. Nine shots were fired at the fugitives without effect, causing them to retreat and scatter in every direction. Barney Campbell conveyed his prisoner to the Mayor's office, where he was committed to a jail and immediately locked up.

This victory by the police had the effect of setting the lower section of the city for the night, but only increased the depredations of the soldiers elsewhere, until a squad of four men were arrested on Ridge Road by the provost guard, who were patrolling the streets in the vicinity. The prisoners had an escort assigned to them, and were marched down to the jail, in Walnut street, in which the provost guard thought the prisoners would surely be confined. What was their surprise, however, when the Mayor appeared, addressed a few remarks to the prisoners and ordered their release. Some of the guard protested against this somewhat, stating it was no encouragement to march through the streets until midnight after unlawful and roving depredations, and then, when these same depredators are caught, to release them without even a hearing. This had no effect on the Mayor, however; he persisted in his order, and the men were released.

From that time until morning no further disturbance was noticed, and to day the role is but one person under arrest to answer the call of justice for the numerous and devilish deeds done in this city the past two days by a lawless mob.

AS AFFRONTING INCIDENT.—This morning the through Express train from New York, via Allentown, brought to this city ten persons of both sexes, who had managed to escape from the clutches of the rebel government, and reach New York City. Their stories, like hundreds of others from the South, are filled with interest. Six of the number came from Tennessee by way of New Orleans, and the other four from Concordia Parish, Louisiana. They represent their sufferings in rebellion as awful, and say they came to the free North to escape the conscription act, which forces into the rebel ranks all males who are able to bear arms, a young boy scarcely fifteen years of age, and not over four feet tall, states that he was conscripted to fight for the South, but deserted the first opportunity and made his way, in company with two others of the party, down Pearl River to New Orleans. Their appearance bore evident signs of suffering and fatigue, and but for the kindness of a few strangers who noticed their condition, they would not have left the city to-day, but had to remain and provide for themselves as best they could. The President of the New Jersey Central road kindly furnished them with transportation to this city, and when we left them, they were preparing to go over the Pennsylvania road to Tyrone, where they intend to stop and travel over land to Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, where one of them has several relatives and friends. From Reynoldsville, six of the party go to Luthersville, Clearfield county, in expectation of finding employment, and ascertaining the whereabouts of a number of relatives in that vicinity.

PRESENTATION OF A SERVICE OF SILVER.—The Commissioned Officers of the 127th Regiment, P. V., to their Colonel, W. W. Jennings.—Last night a delegation of the commissioned officers of the 127th Regiment, P. V., waited on Col. Jennings, at his residence, charged with the pleasing duty of presenting to him a magnificent service of silver. After the formalities of welcome and congratulatory usual to such a visit had been concluded, Lieut. Col. Allen announced to Col. Jennings the object of the visit. Lieut. Col. Allen then proceeded to speak as follows: Col. Jennings.—Upon the eve of our return to civil life, the officers of the 127th Regiment desire to give you a further, if not more satisfactory proof of the respect which they entertain towards you as a gentleman, and their regard for you as a commanding officer, by presenting you with a service of plate. It was customary among nations of antiquity to hold inquiries upon the characters of public men, and their verdicts would stand as lasting monuments of fame, or infamy, and history would glorify their greatness, their bravery and their achievements, or would condemn their sins and their crimes. You, Sir, have been the officers of our command, and have for the last nine months set in solemn judgment upon your conduct. They have watched your movements closely, and scrutinized your career narrowly, and have called upon you this evening to render a just, a unanimous and an impartial verdict. Col. Jennings.—I have a great honor and an efficient officer. What a verdict!

Col. Jennings, in reply, spoke briefly as follows: GENTLEMEN:—Nothing could be more gratifying to me than this evidence of your esteem, although you have already given me repeated assurances of your friendship. You all know that I am seldom given to praise, and never to flattery, but justice demands of me a free and unequivocal acknowledgment for your bravery and uniformly faithful conduct. You can return to your homes with the proud consciousness of duty gallantly and faithfully performed, and with my kindest wishes for your future welfare.

I am proud to accept this tribute of your esteem, and will ever cherish it as a fond memorial to my gratitude and gallantry. I will teach my children to love the name of the 127th Regiment, and will be proud to recount to him your name and deeds of valor and of patriotism.

THE SERVICES OF SILVER PLATE.—Consists of five pieces, all of solid silver, given in presentation to Col. Jennings by George W. McCalla, No. 12 Market Street. The taste and mechanical skill displayed by Mr. McCalla in getting up this service, are in keeping with the reputation he has in that line of his business. He certainly has reason to be proud of this service, as being one of the most beautiful ever manufactured.

THE SALTER is oval shaped, surrounded with heavy filigree border, and engraved in most exquisite style, with a graphic and life-like landscape view. In the centre of the Salter appear the initials "W. W. J." This piece is a beautiful and elaborate specimen of workmanship. The Fisher is unique and beautiful in design, and is perhaps the most finished piece of jewelry ever brought to this city. The gift is elaborately engraved, while the portrait engraved can only be appreciated when examined. On the front, immediately beneath the mouth, appear the words: Presented to Col. J. W. Jennings, 127th Regiment P. V., By the Officers of his Command, as a Token of Esteem. The two Golds are of the same pattern of the Fisher, finely chased, with graphic representations of the same on both sides. In addition to these four pieces, designed expressly as tokens of the admiration of the officers of the 127th, for their late commander, we noticed a small cup, of modest though beautiful workmanship, which could scarcely be regarded as belonging to the magnificent service we have just noticed. On enquiry, we were informed that the cup was intended as a present to the first-born of Col. Jennings, a sprightly and darling boy, Master Frederick Jennings. The gift was well received, and we know that the gallant Colonel will esteem it as highly as that with which he was honored. It may not be out of place to state here that Master Frederick Jennings is named after Col. Frederick C. Bane, his great uncle, and one of the most patriotic and popular men of this city. After partaking of the hospitable of their late commander, and relating some of the interesting incidents of the campaign through which they passed together, the officers retired from the residence of Col. Jennings, well pleased with the beautiful tribute that had been paid to a gallant soldier.

CROWDED OUT.—"Our Public School" article, intended for to-day's paper, was crowded out by other matter and will appear to-morrow.

GREAT GATHERING OF DUNKERS IN BLAIR COUNTY.—Our Blair county contemporaries say that during the past week Hollidaysburg has been thronged with those broad-brim, long-bearded men whom we are all accustomed to seeing in Morrison's Cove, in this county. They come from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and our own State, Maryland and Virginia, and are on their way to Martinsburg, in Blair county, near which place is convoked the National Annual Assembly of Dunkers, of which sect these men of such striking individuality are members. The Dunkers are a Baptist denomination, and are quite numerous in the above named States. They originated in Germany in 1708, under the leadership of Alex. Mack and a few others. By their reading of the Bible they were led to reject pedo-baptism, and their church government is much like that of other Baptists. They are called Dunkers from the German word taken to dip—in order to distinguish them from the Mennonites. They kneel in the water and dip the head in first. They have no educated ministry, but every brother is allowed to exhort the congregation. If any one is thus found to be an apt teacher, he is chosen minister, and ordained, by the laying on of hands, with fasting and prayer, and the hand of fellowship. They use the plain dress and language of the Friends, object to the oath, and are non-combatants. They do not go to law, and until recently would take no interest on money. They are very religious, and consist in washing feet the day before, (before meal) the kiss of charity, and the right hand of fellowship. They are a very worthy and honest people, and are distinguished for their brotherly kindness towards one another, and for their industry and thrift.

Closely allied to this sect are the Seventh Day Baptists, a distinguished representative of whom appears periodically in our streets. The Dunkers must not be confounded with the Mennonites, also a Baptist denomination, organized by Menno Simon, in Holland, in the sixteenth century. They also reject child baptism, and baptize by sprinkling, instead of immersion. They are averse to war, oaths and capital punishment. They observe the ordinance of feet washing, and require their members to marry with their own sect. They are much more numerous than the Dunkers. The Omaha are a branch of the Mennonites, and are called after Jacob Amen, of Switzerland, who organized them. They are much more rigid than the true followers of Menno, though in many respects like them. They are sometimes called Hooker Mennonites, from the fact that they wear hooks and eyes instead of buttons. It is said that at the present assembly or meeting of Dunkers at Martinsburg there are several thousand in attendance. Preparations have been making for months for these visitors in the "Cove," and we have no doubt our broad-brim friends from abroad will find them ample for that region's "islands of the granaries of the world," and the garden spot of Blair county. Hundreds of our citizens have been visiting in quaint assemblages of people, and the splendid road from here to Martinsburg is thronged with vehicles going to and from this meeting. The weather is fine, and we trust the followers of Alexander Mack will have nothing to complain of in their national annual meeting among their brethren in Blair county.

Mr. Editor: Permit a subscriber to call attention through your columns to a most disgusting practice some of our citizens have of throwing garbage on the bank of the river. Just below the Mulberry street bridge there are two huge piles composed of coal ashes, decayed vegetables, still ashes, &c. The Mayor some time since issued a proclamation enjoining the "use of Front street, from North street of city, as a public street, and that no refuse or filth be thrown on the bank of the river." "Barney" but for some reason or other, was left in the cold, or dirt. Was "Baltimore" was "other times for the Super" not the custom. It is of garbage and filth to remove such a plan would be eminently practical, and one which would conduce much during the hot season to the health of the city.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS! Am not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years' trial by the American public, and their reputation and sale are not rivaled by any similar preparation. The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent OLEGGYMEN, LAWYERS, PHYSICIANS AND CITIZENS. If you do, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

PARTICULAR NOTICE. There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed. This class of Bitters has ceased, and will continue to cease, as long as they can be sold, hazardous to the health of the drunkard, and as they are kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death. For those who desire and WILL HAVE A Liquor Bitters, and wish the following receipt:—Get ONE BOTTLE OF HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS and mix with THREE OUNCES OF GOLD BRANDY OR WHISKY, and the result will be a preparation that will FAR EXCEED in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will COST MUCH LESS. You will have all the virtues of HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS in connection with a GOOD ARTICLE OF LIQUOR, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS! AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS! We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposure and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion of the cases are Cholera, Typhoid, and other diseases. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters": PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862. Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouchsafed for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who are fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayers. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State, of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water in my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread anchor, finally told me they would do no more for me and advised me to seek a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinborn, of Sixth below Arch street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE. We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.
