their friends mounted the stand. The proceed ings were opened with an appropriate prayer, by the Rev. E. S. Johnston, Pastor of the church. An appropriate anthem, was then sung by the choir, under the direction of Mr. Silas Ward, one of the leading musical directors of Harrisburg.

The Rev. Mr. Parsons, of Muncy, then de livered a fervent and affecting prayer, invoking the blessing of Providence upon the enterprise, and asking that the good work thus inaugurated by the officers and members of the old church, might never diminish.

Rev. Mr. Fry, of Carlisle, was introduced. and made a congratulatory address to all connected with the church, and the encouragement rising by the rapid increase of members of the murch of God.

A hymn was then sung by the choir, many of the members of the church joining in and meisting them.

Rev. Mr. Conrad, of Trinity Church, Lancas ter, delivered an address, consigning the church to God, and calling the blessings of Heaven to assist in the work so nobly and perseveringly begun.

Rev. Charles A. Hay next proceeded to read from a manuscript a recital of the principal o'clock. had marked the existence of the church from the biginning of 1858 to the present time.

The ceremonies of laying the corner stone were then commenced by the Rev. Dr. Lochman,

Almighty God, entreating him to assist in this religious undertaking, and to crown the labors of those engaged in the good cause with an eternal reward. A number of articles, consisting of a Bible; an Midd autograph letter of Washington; Luther's Catechism, with the Augsburg Confession; History of the Church; a miniature National flag; several religious papers, &c , were enclosed in a tin box, which was placed in a cavity formed by the corner stone, and the corner stone was laid The concluding ceremonies were as follows: collection taken by several of the officers of the c. tion-

For the Benefit of the Public. It is not our purpose to disparage the noble science of medicine or say anything that will conflict with its legitimate usefulness, but we hold that the evidence of experience is entitled to some consideration. We refer here to the astonishing virtues of simple medicines that have been introduced to the public, the attestations of thousands of sick who have been permanently cured, will bear me out in saying that the German vegetable medicines of Mrs. Westhoven now manufactured and sold by Mrs. L.
