HARRISBURG, PA.
Thursday Evening, June 18, 1863.

FREE BAPTIST CHURCH.—The pastor, Rev. James Collier, will conduct the usual Thursday services this evening, commencing at quarter before eight o'clock.

FROM THE EAST.—Over two thousand volunteers have come to this city from the eastern counties of the State within the last twenty-four hours. Nearly every county east has furnished more or less of these men, and hundreds and thousands are coming on.

FROM LEBANON.—Over three hundred strong, muscular men arrived from Lebanon county last night, to protect the capital of Pennsylvania and drive the rebels from the borders of the Commonwealth. They will probably be assigned to a regiment with the Dauphin county men—the old 127th.

FROM THE NORTH.—We see many old familiar faces from the counties north of Harrisburg, and the Northern Central company is busy furnishing the men with transportation from that direction. Montour, Luzerne, Lycoming, and the other counties, are responding to the Governor's call to rally in defence of the State, and every county will be represented in the capital city before the setting of to-morrow's sun.

ORGANIZING.—The first regiment of militia was not organized yesterday, as expected, and the companies, as yet, are not consolidated into regiments. The Harrisburg companies, so far as practicable, will be placed in the same regiment, and be required to stay in camp until the organization is completed. We learn that the first regiment is to be organized to-day, and sent off up the Cumberland Valley this evening.

RETURNING.—The farmers of Cumberland county, who left their homes so suddenly the beginning of the present week, by reason of the threatened invasion of their territory by a rebel horde, are slowly coming back and crossing the bridge into Cumberland county. Their hurried flight caused the stampede to increase here when they passed through Harrisburg, and their early return to their homes has diminished the fears of many of our citizens one hundred per cent.

FROM THE SOUTH.—The southern counties are not lacking in patriotism, and the men are flocking to the capital by hundreds. York, Adams and the other counties along the southern tier, have responded, and the animated zeal with which our southern counties have pushed forward their respective quotas is deserving of much praise. The whole State is doing nobly, and too much gratitude cannot be shown to those who have responded so cheerfully in the cause of liberty.

BURGLARY.—About two o'clock last night, the shoe shop of T. H. Williams, in East State street, was entered, and thirty pairs of boots, a half pound of bristles, and three pounds of shoe thread were taken. Some of the boots were marked T. H. Williams, on the inside, and shoe dealers are cautioned against purchasing them, or any of the other articles stolen. A liberal reward is offered for the arrest of the thieves, or the recovery of the property. For full particulars, see advertisement in another column.

CORRECTION.—The New Bloomfield Advocate and Press, of the 17th inst., in an editorial states that "the rebels captured about one hundred of our army men near Shippensburg, while on their way to Harrisburg, from Milroy's force, which was driven back from Winchester." This is a mistake. The army train lost but two wagons since they crossed the Maryland line, and these were broken down by the heavy loads they had to carry. These wagons, as soon as found to be useless to us in the emergency, were set on fire and completely destroyed before the rebels could reach them.

FALSE RUMOR.—A dispatch was received in this city last evening, which read that the rebels had driven in the pickets along the Pennsylvania railroad, near Mount Union. This telegram created an excitement among many who heard it, but it was lessened by another dispatch, received shortly afterwards. It appears that a party left the block house, erected near Mount Union, for picket duty. While they were out, another party was organized for the same duty, and on their marching from the camp to take their positions, they met party number one, who caused them to retreat, thinking that they were rebels. This, as a matter of course, was telegraphed to the authorities here, but corrected as soon as the supposed rebels were found to be friends, and men from their own party.

ARREST OF TWO SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.—Two rather seedy looking men were arrested at the Harrisburg bridge, yesterday afternoon, on suspicion of not being altogether of the right stripe. Their captors escorted them to the Provost Marshal's office, where the Provost Marshal closely questioned them, but could find nothing on them to which suspicion might be attached. The men were evidently Germans, and carried tools for tinkering and mending tin-ware, &c. They testified that they left Chambersburg after the rebels had taken possession of the town, and gave some information, (undoubtedly incorrect), that over two thousand of the enemy were in Chambersburg, and fifty thousand encamped two miles and a half from the town. The prisoners could not speak English, but gave what unreliable information they did in the German dialect. They were released by the Provost Marshal, after a thorough examination, no evidence being found sufficient to convict them, or deprive the men of their liberty.

DEERTERS.—Ten more deserters, in charge of Lieut. McClellan, were sent to Washington this morning. They were arrested chiefly in the western part of the State, and belong to different Pennsylvania regiments.

ON PARADE.—Two companies, composed of men employed in the Pennsylvania railroad car shops, were parading the principal streets this afternoon, and visited the entrenchments on the opposite side of the river. The companies are nearly full, and look as though, when the time comes, they can do good execution.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE Young Men's Christian Association will be held at their reading room this evening, at 8 o'clock. All the members of the Association who can possibly attend, are earnestly requested to be present, as important business will be brought before the Association. By order of the President.

THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA IS IN DANGER AND INVADIED BY THE ENEMY! I volunteer, and will pay $5 to each man, until I have fifteen men, who will join the service with me for six months, unless sooner discharged, or during the emergency, to assist in driving the rebels from our borders. JOSEPH J. PILKAY, At Fabnestock's Hardware Store, cor. Market square and Second street. 110

BALLY, OLD MEN!—All persons over forty years of age, not attached to other military organizations, able to do military duty, and willing to defend their homes and families in the entrenchments on the Cumberland side of the Susquehanna, will meet in front of the Morgan House, corner of Second and Pine streets, at 10 o'clock, A. M., on the 19th inst., to organize and appoint their officers, and be ready to march at a moment's warning. A SOLDIER OF 1812.

FROM THE WEST.—Pittsburg is to be protected from the rebels, and the volunteers from Allegheny and the adjoining counties are needed there, to man the fortifications recently constructed near the city. From counties east of that city the men are responding, and the eagerness manifested to reach Harrisburg increases hourly. Thousands have already volunteered from the western counties, but a number of them have been distributed along the Pennsylvania railroad to guard the bridges and other valuable property along the road.

HEAVY POLICE FORCE.—At half past one o'clock, this afternoon, a company of volunteer militia, composed entirely of policemen, arrived in the city on the Lebanon Valley train. The men belong to the organization, bearing the title of "Philadelphia Home Guards," and are the best proportioned soldiers we have seen for some time. They number about ninety-five, and would undoubtedly stand a good chance of whipping an equal number of rebels in a fair field fight. They marched up to the Capitol immediately after their arrival, and are now quartered on the public grounds. The men understand the "heavy infantry" drill, and have a general knowledge of the heavy infantry tactics.

CAPTURED.—Yesterday afternoon four rebel prisoners were brought to this city by a company of militia, from York. The rebels were captured near that borough, and when the militia left to offer their services to the Governor, the prisoners were placed in their charge to be handed over to the authorities here. They gave their names as George Canard, Co. D, 16th Virginia Cavalry; Robert Robinson, Co. D, 16th Virginia Cavalry; Green Adkins, Co. E, 16th Virginia Cavalry; and John Howell, Co. D, 16th Virginia Cavalry. Each one has an oath of allegiance in his possession, but they are supposed to be spurious, and intended for a ruse by which to clear themselves when captured. They are still confined at Camp Curtin.

THE NEW YORK SEVENTH.—The Seventh regiment New York State militia, commanded by Col. Marshall Lefferts, is expected to arrive in Baltimore to-day. The regiment numbers one thousand men, and is accompanied by a band of thirty-six pieces, and a battery of six howitzers. The regiment left New York city at half past eleven o'clock yesterday morning, fully armed and equipped for any service. They are going to Baltimore, via Philadelphia. When the regiment left New York their orders were to report to General Couch, in Harrisburg, but on their arrival at Philadelphia, this order was countermanded, and General Couch telegraphed to Col. Lefferts to report with his men to General Schenck, in Baltimore. This unexpected command will deprive our citizens of seeing one of the best drilled regiments in the country, and the pride of New York city.

FIRST CITY ZOUAVES.—The members of this old corps, and all other respectable young men desirous of joining the same, are requested to meet at the armory this evening, at 6 1/2 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a company of volunteers for service during the emergency, not in any case to exceed six months. Already the roll is nearly full, and it is earnestly urged upon all members to hurry and fill up their company. Those who enter are clothed, subsisted and paid by the U. S. government, on the same terms as the regular army, and if wounded in action a pension is allowed for life—advantages which are not enjoyed under the militia call. If taken prisoners, you will be speedily and regularly exchanged. Hurry up, then, and let us all "Rally round the flag, boys, rally once again!" By order.

RE-EXAMINED.—The rebel arrested near Chambersburg a few days since, on suspicion of being a spy, was taken from Camp Curtin to the Provost Marshal's (Capt. Clement's) office, when he was again closely questioned. Nothing could be pumped out of him worthy of notice. He gave his name as J. W. Fetter, and is one of the most woe-begone looking specimens of humanity that ever entered Harrisburg. While being interrogated, he was "busily engaged in picking 'gray-backs' off his person, and killing them between his thumb nails. His clothes are tattered and torn, and in some places, they are held together by pieces of rusty nails, used as substitutes for pins. He appeared indifferent about everything going on around him, during his examination, and pledged his vocation, "at hunting, picking and killing" until he was taken back to camp.

CATHART & BRO. announce in another column that they have on hand a large stock of dry goods, &c., which will be sold as low as ever. No goods have been shipped.

A REQUEST TO RETURN.—The gentleman who took charge of a lorgnette (opera glass) during the removal of the books from the State Library rooms last Monday night will please return the same and spare himself further trouble. jeh 24

For the Benefit of the Public.

It is not our purpose to disparage the noble science of medicine or say anything that will conflict with its legitimate usefulness, but we hold that the evidence of experience is entitled to some consideration. We refer here to the astonishing virtues of simple remedies, which have been introduced to the public, the attentions of thousands of sick who have been permanently cured, will bear me out in saying that the German vegetable medicines of Mrs. Westhoven now manufactured and sold by Mrs. L. Ball, hold a prominent place among the best medicines of the age for all diseases that they claim to cure, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver and kidney, coughs and fever. They combine in their composition the experience of a long life and close observation. They can be purchased at the residence of Mrs. L. Ball, No. 27 South Pine Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
