

New Advertisements.

THE UNION DISSOLVED. THIS is to certify that my wife, Sarah, has left my bed and board...

NOTICE TO THE VOLUNTEER MILITIA. HEADQUARTERS PENNSYLVANIA MILITIA, Harrisburg, June 17, 1863.

Special Order No. 1. Extract: 10. Captain Dodge, Chief Muster Officer, will at 9 A. M., the 18th inst., commence Muster...

Expected Attack on Columbus and Hickman. The Richmond Sentinel of Saturday says: There is not a word from the south-west...

Commodore Stockton. TREASURY, June 18. At the request of Governor Parker, Commodore Stockton (who was appointed a major general last winter) has consented to take command...

HOUSE BREAKING AND THEFTS. LAST night about 2 o'clock the shop recently used as a shoe shop in State street, near Fifth, was entered from the back yard...

CATHCART & BRO. SHIPPED NO GOODS AWAY DURING THE PANIC. Consequently have a heavy stock to sell AS LOW AS EVER.

Wanted. At the residence of her husband, at Bigler & Witt's Steam Saw Mill, on the 18th inst., MARGARET MAYER, wife of John Mayer.

New Advertisements. WANTED. Two comfortable furnished rooms in a central part of the city, front room and back. Terms must be moderate.

ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND. OFFENSIVE MOVEMENTS OF THE REBELS. BRAGG has undoubtedly received reinforcements—three brigades, viz: Estes, Clayton and Churchill's.

PROCLAMATION. MAYOR'S OFFICE, HARRISBURG, June 18, 1863. FOR the preservation of peace and good order in the city, it is enjoined on all keepers of retail liquor establishments and lager beer shops...

BOARD AT SARATOGA SPRINGS. WASHINGTON HALL, (late Mrs. Mason's) at the Springs, is NOW OPEN for the reception of guests.

FOR RENT. THE room formerly occupied by R. B. Barr as a Daguerreotype Gallery. Require at 74 Market street. j14-1w

WANTED! CARPENTERS and CABINET MAKERS, at the EAGLE WORKS, Harrisburg. j12-2w

WANTED. An active young (single) man as Clerk. Inquire at office of UNITED STATES HOTEL. j17-3s

FOR Letter, Note and Foolscap Paper, Envelopes and all kind of STATIONERY, call at SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE, 18 Market street. j15

LARGE variety of Notions, just received, at SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE. j15

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR—A lot of very choice extra family flour, just received for sale by NICHOLS & BOWMAN, my 20. Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of ground, slum, Ashland and other large or small quantities, by NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

War Democrats No Democrats. In the speech of the Peace Convention in New York, Judge McCunn said: "Let us look upon War Democrats as worse than War Republicans. No man who is a Democrat can be in favor of the war."

Col. Lefferts reported to Governor Seymour his resignation, as follows: "I have received orders from Major General Halleck to proceed to Baltimore, and am now in the cars ready to leave for that city. I presume this will receive the sanction of the Governor."

Our Troops Advancing in Force and the Rebels Falling Back. The Richmond Sentinel of Saturday says: "There is not a word from the south-west. There was considerable excitement here yesterday over the news that the enemy was exhibiting considerable force on the Peninsula, and advancing in a threatening manner."

Expected Attack on Columbus and Hickman. The Richmond Sentinel of Saturday says: "There is not a word from the south-west. There was considerable excitement here yesterday over the news that the enemy was exhibiting considerable force on the Peninsula, and advancing in a threatening manner."

Commodore Stockton. TREASURY, June 18. At the request of Governor Parker, Commodore Stockton (who was appointed a major general last winter) has consented to take command of the division of the State militia which is being raised to assist in the defence of Pennsylvania.

HOUSE BREAKING AND THEFTS. LAST night about 2 o'clock the shop recently used as a shoe shop in State street, near Fifth, was entered from the back yard and about 30 pairs of Boots, a half pound of trisite and three pounds of shoe thread stolen.

CATHCART & BRO. SHIPPED NO GOODS AWAY DURING THE PANIC. Consequently have a heavy stock to sell AS LOW AS EVER.

Wanted. At the residence of her husband, at Bigler & Witt's Steam Saw Mill, on the 18th inst., MARGARET MAYER, wife of John Mayer.

New Advertisements. WANTED. Two comfortable furnished rooms in a central part of the city, front room and back. Terms must be moderate.

ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND. OFFENSIVE MOVEMENTS OF THE REBELS. BRAGG has undoubtedly received reinforcements—three brigades, viz: Estes, Clayton and Churchill's.

PROCLAMATION. MAYOR'S OFFICE, HARRISBURG, June 18, 1863. FOR the preservation of peace and good order in the city, it is enjoined on all keepers of retail liquor establishments and lager beer shops...

BOARD AT SARATOGA SPRINGS. WASHINGTON HALL, (late Mrs. Mason's) at the Springs, is NOW OPEN for the reception of guests.

FOR RENT. THE room formerly occupied by R. B. Barr as a Daguerreotype Gallery. Require at 74 Market street. j14-1w

WANTED! CARPENTERS and CABINET MAKERS, at the EAGLE WORKS, Harrisburg. j12-2w

WANTED. An active young (single) man as Clerk. Inquire at office of UNITED STATES HOTEL. j17-3s

FOR Letter, Note and Foolscap Paper, Envelopes and all kind of STATIONERY, call at SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE, 18 Market street. j15

LARGE variety of Notions, just received, at SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE. j15

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR—A lot of very choice extra family flour, just received for sale by NICHOLS & BOWMAN, my 20. Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of ground, slum, Ashland and other large or small quantities, by NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

War Democrats No Democrats. In the speech of the Peace Convention in New York, Judge McCunn said: "Let us look upon War Democrats as worse than War Republicans. No man who is a Democrat can be in favor of the war."

Col. Lefferts reported to Governor Seymour his resignation, as follows: "I have received orders from Major General Halleck to proceed to Baltimore, and am now in the cars ready to leave for that city. I presume this will receive the sanction of the Governor."

Our Troops Advancing in Force and the Rebels Falling Back. The Richmond Sentinel of Saturday says: "There is not a word from the south-west. There was considerable excitement here yesterday over the news that the enemy was exhibiting considerable force on the Peninsula, and advancing in a threatening manner."

Expected Attack on Columbus and Hickman. The Richmond Sentinel of Saturday says: "There is not a word from the south-west. There was considerable excitement here yesterday over the news that the enemy was exhibiting considerable force on the Peninsula, and advancing in a threatening manner."

Commodore Stockton. TREASURY, June 18. At the request of Governor Parker, Commodore Stockton (who was appointed a major general last winter) has consented to take command of the division of the State militia which is being raised to assist in the defence of Pennsylvania.

HOUSE BREAKING AND THEFTS. LAST night about 2 o'clock the shop recently used as a shoe shop in State street, near Fifth, was entered from the back yard and about 30 pairs of Boots, a half pound of trisite and three pounds of shoe thread stolen.

CATHCART & BRO. SHIPPED NO GOODS AWAY DURING THE PANIC. Consequently have a heavy stock to sell AS LOW AS EVER.

Wanted. At the residence of her husband, at Bigler & Witt's Steam Saw Mill, on the 18th inst., MARGARET MAYER, wife of John Mayer.

New Advertisements. WANTED. Two comfortable furnished rooms in a central part of the city, front room and back. Terms must be moderate.

ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND. OFFENSIVE MOVEMENTS OF THE REBELS. BRAGG has undoubtedly received reinforcements—three brigades, viz: Estes, Clayton and Churchill's.

PROCLAMATION. MAYOR'S OFFICE, HARRISBURG, June 18, 1863. FOR the preservation of peace and good order in the city, it is enjoined on all keepers of retail liquor establishments and lager beer shops...

BOARD AT SARATOGA SPRINGS. WASHINGTON HALL, (late Mrs. Mason's) at the Springs, is NOW OPEN for the reception of guests.

FOR RENT. THE room formerly occupied by R. B. Barr as a Daguerreotype Gallery. Require at 74 Market street. j14-1w

WANTED! CARPENTERS and CABINET MAKERS, at the EAGLE WORKS, Harrisburg. j12-2w

WANTED. An active young (single) man as Clerk. Inquire at office of UNITED STATES HOTEL. j17-3s

FOR Letter, Note and Foolscap Paper, Envelopes and all kind of STATIONERY, call at SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE, 18 Market street. j15

LARGE variety of Notions, just received, at SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE. j15

EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR—A lot of very choice extra family flour, just received for sale by NICHOLS & BOWMAN, my 20. Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of ground, slum, Ashland and other large or small quantities, by NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

SALE of White and brown, of all grades and prices. Call at NICHOLS & BOWMAN, Cor. Front and Market streets. j15

In any suit brought under color of any law of the United States. What base truckling to expediency has been displayed by these Republican papers which affect to doubt the strict legality or constitutionality of the President's course in relation to Vallandigham! We have shown the enactments directly warranted his method of procedure, and it reflects no credit on the Government that with such plain laws on the subject, such demagogues as the Woods and Seymours are still permitted to flaunt defiance in the faces of loyal men.

When Butler was superseded by Banks, Leacock, trusting to the more lenient system of government then inaugurated, ventured back to New Orleans. He soon managed to attract attention, however, was arrested by order of General Banks, and on refusing to take the oath of allegiance, was again banished. He returned to the vicinity of Harrisburg, and has no doubt since been employed in furnishing such information to his Southern masters as he could collect, having been arrested last week by order of General Schoenck. Yet the arrest of this sanctimonious traitor and spy is made the pretext for an outrageously distorted statement in the Patriot and Union, under the caption "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"—intimating that the Government is dealing with Leacock as the Jews of old with the Redeemer. For such base wretches as the authors of this sentiment, hanging is too good.

We trust that the loyal men of Pennsylvania will look to it that parties in this approaching fall campaign dodge no issue of the war in their platforms. If the Patriot and Union, in its persistent misrepresentation of the government, the Age in its half confessed peace doctrines, the Monitor of Kittanning, Bedford and half a dozen other interior towns, in their published opinions of this "unholy war," "abolition crusade," "unjust attempt to destroy the South," etc., etc., representing the views of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, as they are now supported by that party, their platform must take ground openly in favor of such sentiments.—Loyal men, whether Democrats or Republicans, cannot consent again to support a party on a platform so vague as to admit of any after interpretation of such vile sheets as those referred to here.

How the Copperhead Convention Treats the Administration. After the several nominations were made by the conclaves of copperheads on Tuesday evening, and while that notorious demagogue and rebel administration of our Government, a loyal, patriotic soldier, who had passed through the Mexican campaign, as well as the nine months' service, and who bears the scars of three honorable wounds—received in the service of his country, took occasion to manifest his disapproval of the sentiment of the ignoble speaker by saying: "No sooner does that a general clamor of 'put him out,' 'kill him,' 'break his neck,' &c., resounded throughout the hall, and a score of copperheads rushed upon the poor fellow and ejected him from the place.

The soldier but imitated the example of the copperheads, the factions into which they were divided in the Convention, having repeatedly hissed the sentiments of the leaders of the one or other faction. They exercised the privilege of hissing, but are not willing that others should exercise it.

This soldier declared that he had voted for Breckinridge, and had always been a Democrat until the party in his town fired a salute to the intelligence of the nomination of the notorious Vallandigham as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

This is just the kind of treatment the brave men who sacrifice all at the shrine of our beloved country must expect to receive when they exercise the Constitutional right of denouncing those whose sympathies are ever manifested with the enemies of our Government.

GEN. McCLELLAN AND GEN. FRANKLIN.—Gen. Simon Cameron at the Harrisburg meeting, on Monday night, advised the State authorities to place the State troops, now assembling, under the command of Gen. McClellan and Gen. Franklin, in whose ability as leaders the soldiers and the citizens have every confidence.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The above item has been sent all over the country by a well-known copperhead correspondent of the Associated Press. Gen. Cameron said no such thing. He remarked, on assuming the chair as President of the war meeting: "Gentlemen there is no time to civil about small matters. Time for action has arrived, I am willing to shoulder my musket as a private soldier for the defence of this State and city, under the lead of Gen. Franklin, M. O'Leary, Couch or any other man who may be sent here to command us by the Government." This is all that was said about Generals, and when some gentleman arose inquiring how these men would be paid, the General replied that he would give his whole fortune for that purpose, and also that he would pay one whole regiment from this county at once.

In confirmation of our statement, we find a telegraphic dispatch in the Philadelphia papers, which contradicts the falsehoods completely. The dispatch reads: PHILADELPHIA, June 17. It is reported that you advised taking the command of the State troops from General Couch, and giving it to either General Franklin or McClellan. Is this true? If not, will you authorize me to contradict it? REPLY OF GEN. CAMERON.

HARRISBURG, June 18. My telegram of yesterday was handed to me last night. I authorize you to say that I made no such proposition. SIMON CAMERON.

It was reported from their manhood to us bravely to voluntarily submit whilst we said shall publish the same published at a dispatch of yesterday, about the following, viz: "The rebel troops are still permitted to flaunt defiance in the faces of loyal men."

When Butler was superseded by Banks, Leacock, trusting to the more lenient system of government then inaugurated, ventured back to New Orleans. He soon managed to attract attention, however, was arrested by order of General Banks, and on refusing to take the oath of allegiance, was again banished. He returned to the vicinity of Harrisburg, and has no doubt since been employed in furnishing such information to his Southern masters as he could collect, having been arrested last week by order of General Schoenck. Yet the arrest of this sanctimonious traitor and spy is made the pretext for an outrageously distorted statement in the Patriot and Union, under the caption "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"—intimating that the Government is dealing with Leacock as the Jews of old with the Redeemer. For such base wretches as the authors of this sentiment, hanging is too good.

We trust that the loyal men of Pennsylvania will look to it that parties in this approaching fall campaign dodge no issue of the war in their platforms. If the Patriot and Union, in its persistent misrepresentation of the government, the Age in its half confessed peace doctrines, the Monitor of Kittanning, Bedford and half a dozen other interior towns, in their published opinions of this "unholy war," "abolition crusade," "unjust attempt to destroy the South," etc., etc., representing the views of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, as they are now supported by that party, their platform must take ground openly in favor of such sentiments.—Loyal men, whether Democrats or Republicans, cannot consent again to support a party on a platform so vague as to admit of any after interpretation of such vile sheets as those referred to here.

How the Copperhead Convention Treats the Administration. After the several nominations were made by the conclaves of copperheads on Tuesday evening, and while that notorious demagogue and rebel administration of our Government, a loyal, patriotic soldier, who had passed through the Mexican campaign, as well as the nine months' service, and who bears the scars of three honorable wounds—received in the service of his country, took occasion to manifest his disapproval of the sentiment of the ignoble speaker by saying: "No sooner does that a general clamor of 'put him out,' 'kill him,' 'break his neck,' &c., resounded throughout the hall, and a score of copperheads rushed upon the poor fellow and ejected him from the place.

The soldier but imitated the example of the copperheads, the factions into which they were divided in the Convention, having repeatedly hissed the sentiments of the leaders of the one or other faction. They exercised the privilege of hissing, but are not willing that others should exercise it.

This soldier declared that he had voted for Breckinridge, and had always been a Democrat until the party in his town fired a salute to the intelligence of the nomination of the notorious Vallandigham as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

This is just the kind of treatment the brave men who sacrifice all at the shrine of our beloved country must expect to receive when they exercise the Constitutional right of denouncing those whose sympathies are ever manifested with the enemies of our Government.

GEN. McCLELLAN AND GEN. FRANKLIN.—Gen. Simon Cameron at the Harrisburg meeting, on Monday night, advised the State authorities to place the State troops, now assembling, under the command of Gen. McClellan and Gen. Franklin, in whose ability as leaders the soldiers and the citizens have every confidence.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The above item has been sent all over the country by a well-known copperhead correspondent of the Associated Press. Gen. Cameron said no such thing. He remarked, on assuming the chair as President of the war meeting: "Gentlemen there is no time to civil about small matters. Time for action has arrived, I am willing to shoulder my musket as a private soldier for the defence of this State and city, under the lead of Gen. Franklin, M. O'Leary, Couch or any other man who may be sent here to command us by the Government." This is all that was said about Generals, and when some gentleman arose inquiring how these men would be paid, the General replied that he would give his whole fortune for that purpose, and also that he would pay one whole regiment from this county at once.

In confirmation of our statement, we find a telegraphic dispatch in the Philadelphia papers, which contradicts the falsehoods completely. The dispatch reads: PHILADELPHIA, June 17. It is reported that you advised taking the command of the State troops from General Couch, and giving it to either General Franklin or McClellan. Is this true? If not, will you authorize me to contradict it? REPLY OF GEN. CAMERON.

HARRISBURG, June 18. My telegram of yesterday was handed to me last night. I authorize you to say that I made no such proposition. SIMON CAMERON.

It was reported from their manhood to us bravely to voluntarily submit whilst we said shall publish the same published at a dispatch of yesterday, about the following, viz: "The rebel troops are still permitted to flaunt defiance in the faces of loyal men."

When Butler was superseded by Banks, Leacock, trusting to the more lenient system of government then inaugurated, ventured back to New Orleans. He soon managed to attract attention, however, was arrested by order of General Banks, and on refusing to take the oath of allegiance, was again banished. He returned to the vicinity of Harrisburg, and has no doubt since been employed in furnishing such information to his Southern masters as he could collect, having been arrested last week by order of General Schoenck. Yet the arrest of this sanctimonious traitor and spy is made the pretext for an outrageously distorted statement in the Patriot and Union, under the caption "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"—intimating that the Government is dealing with Leacock as the Jews of old with the Redeemer. For such base wretches as the authors of this sentiment, hanging is too good.

We trust that the loyal men of Pennsylvania will look to it that parties in this approaching fall campaign dodge no issue of the war in their platforms. If the Patriot and Union, in its persistent misrepresentation of the government, the Age in its half confessed peace doctrines, the Monitor of Kittanning, Bedford and half a dozen other interior towns, in their published opinions of this "unholy war," "abolition crusade," "unjust attempt to destroy the South," etc., etc., representing the views of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, as they are now supported by that party, their platform must take ground openly in favor of such sentiments.—Loyal men, whether Democrats or Republicans, cannot consent again to support a party on a platform so vague as to admit of any after interpretation of such vile sheets as those referred to here.

How the Copperhead Convention Treats the Administration. After the several nominations were made by the conclaves of copperheads on Tuesday evening, and while that notorious demagogue and rebel administration of our Government, a loyal, patriotic soldier, who had passed through the Mexican campaign, as well as the nine months' service, and who bears the scars of three honorable wounds—received in the service of his country, took occasion to manifest his disapproval of the sentiment of the ignoble speaker by saying: "No sooner does that a general clamor of 'put him out,' 'kill him,' 'break his neck,' &c., resounded throughout the hall, and a score of copperheads rushed upon the poor fellow and ejected him from the place.

The soldier but imitated the example of the copperheads, the factions into which they were divided in the Convention, having repeatedly hissed the sentiments of the leaders of the one or other faction. They exercised the privilege of hissing, but are not willing that others should exercise it.

This soldier declared that he had voted for Breckinridge, and had always been a Democrat until the party in his town fired a salute to the intelligence of the nomination of the notorious Vallandigham as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

This is just the kind of treatment the brave men who sacrifice all at the shrine of our beloved country must expect to receive when they exercise the Constitutional right of denouncing those whose sympathies are ever manifested with the enemies of our Government.

GEN. McCLELLAN AND GEN. FRANKLIN.—Gen. Simon Cameron at the Harrisburg meeting, on Monday night, advised the State authorities to place the State troops, now assembling, under the command of Gen. McClellan and Gen. Franklin, in whose ability as leaders the soldiers and the citizens have every confidence.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The above item has been sent all over the country by a well-known copperhead correspondent of the Associated Press. Gen. Cameron said no such thing. He remarked, on assuming the chair as President of the war meeting: "Gentlemen there is no time to civil about small matters. Time for action has arrived, I am willing to shoulder my musket as a private soldier for the defence of this State and city, under the lead of Gen. Franklin, M. O'Leary, Couch or any other man who may be sent here to command us by the Government." This is all that was said about Generals, and when some gentleman arose inquiring how these men would be paid, the General replied that he would give his whole fortune for that purpose, and also that he would pay one whole regiment from this county at once.

In confirmation of our statement, we find a telegraphic dispatch in the Philadelphia papers, which contradicts the falsehoods completely. The dispatch reads: PHILADELPHIA, June 17. It is reported that you advised taking the command of the State troops from General Couch, and giving it to either General Franklin or McClellan. Is this true? If not, will you authorize me to contradict it? REPLY OF GEN. CAMERON.

HARRISBURG, June 18. My telegram of yesterday was handed to me last night. I authorize you to say that I made no such proposition. SIMON CAMERON.

It was reported from their manhood to us bravely to voluntarily submit whilst we said shall publish the same published at a dispatch of yesterday, about the following, viz: "The rebel troops are still permitted to flaunt defiance in the faces of loyal men."

When Butler was superseded by Banks, Leacock, trusting to the more lenient system of government then inaugurated, ventured back to New Orleans. He soon managed to attract attention, however, was arrested by order of General Banks, and on refusing to take the oath of allegiance, was again banished. He returned to the vicinity of Harrisburg, and has no doubt since been employed in furnishing such information to his Southern masters as he could collect, having been arrested last week by order of General Schoenck. Yet the arrest of this sanctimonious traitor and spy is made the pretext for an outrageously distorted statement in the Patriot and Union, under the caption "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"—intimating that the Government is dealing with Leacock as the Jews of old with the Redeemer. For such base wretches as the authors of this sentiment, hanging is too good.

We trust that the loyal men of Pennsylvania will look to it that parties in this approaching fall campaign dodge no issue of the war in their platforms. If the Patriot and Union, in its persistent misrepresentation of the government, the Age in its half confessed peace doctrines, the Monitor of Kittanning, Bedford and half a dozen other interior towns, in their published opinions of this "unholy war," "abolition crusade," "unjust attempt to destroy the South," etc., etc., representing the views of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, as they are now supported by that party, their platform must take ground openly in favor of such sentiments.—Loyal men, whether Democrats or Republicans, cannot consent again to support a party on a platform so vague as to admit of any after interpretation of such vile sheets as those referred to here.

How the Copperhead Convention Treats the Administration. After the several nominations were made by the conclaves of copperheads on Tuesday evening, and while that notorious demagogue and rebel administration of our Government, a loyal, patriotic soldier, who had passed through the Mexican campaign, as well as the nine months' service, and who bears the scars of three honorable wounds—received in the service of his country, took occasion to manifest his disapproval of the sentiment of the ignoble speaker by saying: "No sooner does that a general clamor of 'put him out,' 'kill him,' 'break his neck,' &c., resounded throughout the hall, and a score of copperheads rushed upon the poor fellow and ejected him from the place.

The soldier but imitated the example of the copperheads, the factions into which they were divided in the Convention, having repeatedly hissed the sentiments of the leaders of the one or other faction. They exercised the privilege of hissing, but are not willing that others should exercise it.

This soldier declared that he had voted for Breckinridge, and had always been a Democrat until the party in his town fired a salute to the intelligence of the nomination of the notorious Vallandigham as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

This is just the kind of treatment the brave men who sacrifice all at the shrine of our beloved country must expect to receive when they exercise the Constitutional right of denouncing those whose sympathies are ever manifested with the enemies of our Government.

GEN. McCLELLAN AND GEN. FRANKLIN.—Gen. Simon Cameron at the Harrisburg meeting, on Monday night, advised the State authorities to place the State troops, now assembling, under the command of Gen. McClellan and Gen. Franklin, in whose ability as leaders the soldiers and the citizens have every confidence.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The above item has been sent all over the country by a well-known copperhead correspondent of the Associated Press. Gen. Cameron said no such thing. He remarked, on assuming the chair as President of the war meeting: "Gentlemen there is no time to civil about small matters. Time for action has arrived, I am willing to shoulder my musket as a private soldier for the defence of this State and city, under the lead of Gen. Franklin, M. O'Leary, Couch or any other man who may be sent here to command us by the Government." This is all that was said about Generals, and when some gentleman arose inquiring how these men would be paid, the General replied that he would give his whole fortune for that purpose, and also that he would pay one whole regiment from this county at once.

In confirmation of our statement, we find a telegraphic dispatch in the Philadelphia papers, which contradicts the falsehoods completely. The dispatch reads: PHILADELPHIA, June 17. It is reported that you advised taking the command of the State troops from General Couch, and giving it to either General Franklin or McClellan. Is this true? If not, will you authorize me to contradict it? REPLY OF GEN. CAMERON.

HARRISBURG, June 18. My telegram of yesterday was handed to me last night. I authorize you to say that I made no such proposition. SIMON CAMERON.

It was reported from their manhood to us bravely to voluntarily submit whilst we said shall publish the same published at a dispatch of yesterday, about the following, viz: "The rebel troops are still permitted to flaunt defiance in the faces of loyal men."

When Butler was superseded by Banks, Leacock, trusting to the more lenient system of government then inaugurated, ventured back to New Orleans. He soon managed to attract attention, however, was arrested by order of General Banks, and on refusing to take the oath of allegiance, was again banished. He returned to the vicinity of Harrisburg, and has no doubt since been employed in furnishing such information to his Southern masters as he could collect, having been arrested last week by order of General Schoenck. Yet the arrest of this sanctimonious traitor and spy is made the pretext for an outrageously distorted statement in the Patriot and Union, under the caption "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"—intimating that the Government is dealing with Leacock as the Jews of old with the Redeemer. For such base wretches as the authors of this sentiment, hanging is too good.

We trust that the loyal men of Pennsylvania will look to it that parties in this approaching fall campaign dodge no issue of the war in their platforms. If the Patriot and Union, in its persistent misrepresentation of the government, the Age in its half confessed peace doctrines, the Monitor of Kittanning, Bedford and half a dozen other interior towns, in their published opinions of this "unholy war," "abolition crusade," "unjust attempt to destroy the South," etc., etc., representing the views of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, as they are now supported by that party, their platform must take ground openly in favor of such sentiments.—Loyal men, whether Democrats or Republicans, cannot consent again to support a party on a platform so vague as to admit of any after interpretation of such vile sheets as those referred to here.

How the Copperhead Convention Treats the Administration. After the several nominations were made by the conclaves of copperheads on Tuesday evening, and while that notorious demagogue and rebel administration of our Government, a loyal, patriotic soldier, who had passed through the Mexican campaign, as well as the nine months' service, and who bears the scars of three honorable wounds—received in the service of his country, took occasion to manifest his disapproval of the sentiment of the ignoble speaker by saying: "No sooner does that a general clamor of 'put him out,' 'kill him,' 'break his neck,' &c., resounded throughout the hall, and a score of copperheads rushed upon the poor fellow and ejected him from the place.

The soldier but imitated the example of the copperheads, the factions into which they were divided in the Convention, having repeatedly hissed the sentiments of the leaders of the one or other faction. They exercised the privilege of hissing, but are not willing that others should exercise it.

This soldier declared that he had voted for Breckinridge, and had always been a Democrat until the party in his town fired a salute to the intelligence of the nomination of the notorious Vallandigham as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

This is just the kind of treatment the brave men who sacrifice all at the shrine of our beloved country must expect to receive when they exercise the Constitutional right of denouncing those whose sympathies are ever manifested with the enemies of our Government.

GEN. McCLELLAN AND GEN. FRANKLIN.—Gen. Simon Cameron at the Harrisburg meeting, on Monday night, advised the State authorities to place the State troops, now assembling, under the command of Gen. McClellan and Gen. Franklin, in whose ability as leaders the soldiers and the citizens have every confidence.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The above item has been sent all over the country by a well-known copperhead correspondent of the Associated Press. Gen. Cameron said no such thing. He remarked, on assuming the chair as President of the war meeting: "Gentlemen there is no time to civil about small matters. Time for action has arrived, I am willing to shoulder my musket as a private soldier for the defence of this State and city, under the lead of Gen. Franklin, M. O'Leary, Couch or any other man who may be sent here to command us by the Government." This is all that was said about Generals, and when some gentleman arose inquiring how these men would be paid, the General replied that he would give his whole fortune for that purpose, and also that he would pay one whole regiment from this county at once.

In confirmation of our statement, we find a telegraphic dispatch in the Philadelphia papers, which contradicts the falsehoods completely. The dispatch reads: PHILADELPHIA, June 17. It is reported that you advised taking the command of the State troops from General Couch, and giving it to either General Franklin or McClellan. Is this true? If not, will you authorize me to contradict it? REPLY OF GEN. CAMERON.

HARRISBURG, June 18. My telegram of yesterday was handed to me last night. I authorize you to say that I made no such proposition. SIMON CAMERON.

It was reported from their manhood to us bravely to voluntarily submit whilst we said shall publish the same published at a dispatch of yesterday, about the following, viz: "The rebel troops are still permitted to flaunt defiance in the faces of loyal men."