HARRISBURG, PA. Friday Evening, June 19, 1863.

LIEDERKRANZ PICNIC.—The Liederkranz singing association will hold a picnic at Independence Island, on Monday, June 22, 1863. Tickets 25 cents.

A REQUEST TO RETURN.—The gentleman who took charge of a lorgnette (opera glass) during the removal of the books from the State Library rooms last Monday night will please return the same and spare himself further trouble.

MEETING AT THE HOPE HOUSE.—The members of the Hope Fire and Engine Company are requested to meet at their room, this evening, at seven o'clock. Every member is expected to be present to engage in the transactions of the meeting.

POSTPONED.—The picnic of the Good Will Fire Company, on account of the unusual excitement in the city, has been postponed until one week from to-morrow. The postponement will not diminish the attractions, however, and the men intend, if possible, to make it well worthy the patronage of the public.

RE-OPENING OF CITY HOSPITALS.—The store room of the Cotton Factory, corner North and Second streets, is again being prepared for the reception of sick and wounded, and will be ready for the occupation of patients in a few days. Other buildings in the city will be used for hospital purposes, if needed, but none have been decided on, nor will they be actually wanted.

SERENADE.—The band attached to the 23d New Jersey regiment, about half-past eleven o'clock last night, serenaded General Milroy at the Jones House. The General was called on for a speech, and responded to the call in a very able manner. General Couch also made a few remarks, which were approved by the men giving three hearty cheers for the General, the Union, General Milroy, and several other distinguished Generals.

MILITARY MATTERS.—The First Arrival of Troops from other States.—The war excitement continues unabated to-day, and troops are arriving incessantly. The drum and fife is still heard on the streets, and the pavements are thronged with men.

The Twenty-third New Jersey Volunteers.—Four companies of this regiment, accompanied by a band, left West Philadelphia depot on Thursday morning for Harrisburg. They reached Philadelphia late Wednesday evening, but owing to some difficulty about transportation, were obliged to remain, and were quartered during the night at the Odd Fellows' Hall, West Philadelphia. They arrived in Harrisburg about four o'clock, Thursday afternoon, and marched forthwith to camp; but about dark they were ordered to occupy the grounds known as the Harriburg Park, just below the railroad bridge, on Front street, where they remained over night. The officers of the detachment are: Colonel, E. B. Grubb; Lieutenant-Colonel, Miller; Major, Parmenter. Company A, Capt. Ham-buck; Company B, Lieut. Breman; Company C, Capt. Bixon; Company D, Capt. Newbold.

Eighth New York Volunteer Militia.—The 8th New York Militia left New York city Wednesday evening, and embarked on board the steamer Red Jacket, which soon after arrived at Elizabethtown, where it met a train of cars on the New Jersey Central railroad, and came on to Harrisburg, arriving here about half past four o'clock, Thursday afternoon.

The Eighth has about five hundred men, many of whom have seen hard service in the field. This is one of the first regiments from New York that responded to the President's call for troops when the rebellion was in its infancy, and was the advance of the grand army of the Potomac when it crossed long bridges into Virginia, prior to the first battle of Bull Run.

The following are the principal officers: Colonel, J. M. Varian; Lieutenant-Colonel, O. F. Wentworth; Major, Leander Buck; Adjutant, D. B. Keeler; Quartermaster, Sylvester Van Dyke. Co. A, Capt. J. O. Johnson; Co. B, M. W. Wall; Co. C, John Appleton; Co. D, Isaac Cohen; Co. E, Wm. S. Carey; Co. F, J. G. Dimond; Co. G, W. M. Walton; Co. H, E. K. Bicker; Co. I, Capt. Brown; Co. K, E. C. Kushmore.

Seventy-first New York State Militia.—The ranks of the Seventy-first Regiment have been filled in a large degree with returned two-year soldiers, who have been under fire, and who feel elated at the prospect of another chance to fight. The regiment left New York city on Wednesday, about midnight, and reached Harrisburg Thursday afternoon. The regiment is not full, but the men who march in its ranks are of the best material.

The following are the principal officers of the Seventy-first: Colonel, Benj. L. Trafford; Lieutenant-Colonel, William J. Coles; Major, David C. Metchett; Adjutant, John K. Livermore; Quartermaster, George M. Rosevelt; Surgeon, Dr. Wm. M. Pratt; Chaplain, Rev. J. P. Hovey. Company A, Capt. Wm. G. Tompkins; B, Chas. A. Steaton; C, Oliver Libby; D, George W. Stow; E, Frank E. Worcester; F, Jas. W. Dominick; G, George W. Curtis; H, Henry W. Turner; I, George Tyson; K, George N. Archbold. A. We have given a detailed account of these regiments on account of their being the first volunteers from other States who have come to the assistance of Pennsylvania in this hour of trouble, and who deserve much praise for their patriotism and devotion in this great cause of freedom and independence.

IN TOWN.—Capt. J. K. Waltman, formerly a resident of this city, arrived in town on Wednesday evening, with a cavalry company, recruited in Mt. Joy, Lancaster county. The Captain has seen hard service in the Western army, and was compelled on account of disability to leave his command. He will do efficient service if he meets the enemy.

CONNECTICUT.—In our local department of yesterday, we noticed the examination of a suspected rebel spy by the provost marshal, giving his name as J. W. Fetter. It appears that a young man of the same name, was arrested on the Cumberland Valley railroad, between this city and Carlisle, suspected of being a friend of another sitting with him in the car, alleged to be a rebel spy. Mr. Fetter, whose name was misconstrued for that of the spy, is a respectable young man, of undisputed moral character, and a more loyal citizen does not live. We make this correction with pleasure, sorry that his name should be implicated with that of a suspected rebel.

THOSE PRISONERS.—On the 18th inst., we noticed the arrival of four rebel prisoners, in charge of a volunteer company from York. Since that date we have learned the particulars of their capture, and to whom the credit is justly due. The four rebels were discovered by scouts sent out from Gettysburg, last Tuesday, who succeeded in taking them prisoners, and conveyed them to Gettysburg. They there took the oath of allegiance, and were placed in charge of the "Penna. College Guards," who brought them to Harrisburg. The "Guards" are now in the service and appear as well satisfied in their new berth as when engaged at their studies in college.

UNINSURED.—It was generally supposed that the call for six months volunteers would injure the three year recruiting business in the State of Pennsylvania. Such is not the case, however, and more than three years' recruits are coming in at this time than for several months previously. Nearly thirty men were in the quarters at Camp Curtin, this morning, waiting transportation to Washington; New York and Fortress Monroe. Many of the recruiting officers in the State have asked permission to assist the militia in driving the rebels from the Southern border, but the authorities have decided that it is best for them to continue on at their posts, on account of the increased number of men enlisting for three years or during the war.

RELEASED.—Rev. Dr. Leacock, who was so unceremoniously carried off from this city last week, by an order of General Schoenck, has been released. On reaching Baltimore, inquiry was made concerning his case, and it was found that there was not a particle of ground for his arrest. It would have been much better if some inquiry had been made before the arrest, and some cause given for the steps taken, before the guard left Baltimore on this errand.

FROM ALL WE CAN LEARN, the old gentleman, who was stopping with his nephew at the time, lived among us in the most complete retirement, receiving but few visitors, making no disturbance of any kind, and never conversing on political topics. He was far more harmless than many who are to be found in this city, and, as the Philadelphia Bulletin remarks, not half as dangerous as thousands of Secessionists that are under General Schoenck's immediate notice in Baltimore.

COLLEGE STUDENTS IN ARMS.—A company of young men, composed of students in the Lutheran Theological Seminary, at Gettysburg, arrived in Harrisburg on Wednesday, and have offered their services to the Governor. A number of the members of the company were in the three months' service, including the Captain, Frederick Klinefelter, who was called upon to lead the men in the present emergency.

We also learn that another company, composed of students from Lafayette College, Pa., arrived in the city, and have reported themselves for service to the military authorities. Last night the young company visited the mansion of the Rev. Mr. Cattell, on Front street, who was formerly a professor in Lafayette College, and the instructor of many of the young men composing this patriotic body. After singing several of their old and familiar college songs, the Rev. Mr. Cattell appeared on the steps, complimenting them for their patriotism in this trying emergency, and expressing his surprise and delight at seeing them here in a way to protect the old Commonwealth from invasion and rebel rule. The men cheered heartily for the cause they had volunteered to sustain, and their old instructor will never have cause to regret the time the young men were placed under his paternal care, in old Lafayette College, in Easton.

"THE MANLY ART" IN STRAWBERRY ALLEY.—About half past ten o'clock, three men belonging to one of the militia companies entered a lager beer saloon, in Strawberry alley, began talking about matters and things in general, and finally wound up by stating that they could whip any three men in the "shanty." This was an excellent chance for three gentlemen of the art, to try their pugilistic skill; but several respectable looking men, belonging to the police company from Philadelphia, concluded that matters were getting rather personal, and interfered the trio of men. The advice only formed the three men more boisterous than ever, and they swore they could "haul any four men in the room over the coals." Three of the policemen immediately walked out the saloon, preceded by the "men of muscle," but they never touched the pavement than one of the fastmen found himself sailing over against the fence on the opposite side of the alley, with his underpinning stretched out beneath him. (This satisfied man No. 1. No. 2 then stepped up, but found himself going in about the same direction, but his pegs struck in a favorable position, and he landed on his feet, braced up against the fence. No. 3 didn't come to time, but thought discretion the better part of valor, (a wise thought, though not an original one), and tramped up the street. Vengeance was pronounced on the occupants of the lager beer saloon by the remaining two, but the policemen from the Quaker city soon quieted this harmless and disgraced couple, who left the saloon still standing when they retired from the scene of action.

ATTENTION, FIRST CITY ZOUAVES!!—The members of this old corps and all others desirous of joining the same, are requested to meet at the Exchange this evening at 6 o'clock, to perfect the organization of the company, and to be ready for muster into service to-morrow morning, for the emergency, not to exceed six months. The company will positively enter the service, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Hurry up, boys, only a few more wanted. The offices of the company are all vacant.

SILVER GRAYS.—At a meeting of citizens—too old to be enrolled in the militia, but anxious to do something in defence of our homes and families—held at the time and place mentioned in the call of the 19th inst., the following resolutions were unanimously passed: Resolved, That in order to carry out our intentions we proceed to elect officers. Major John Maganulla was elected Captain; James Porter, First Lieutenant, and George Krichbaum, Second Lieutenant.

Resolved, That we hold ourselves in readiness to march at the call of the Captain—at one moment's warning. E. M. FOLLOCK, Chairman.
