Medical.

DR. JOHNSON'S BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

HAS discovered the most certain, speedy and effectual remedies in the world for DISEASES OF IMPURDENCE. RELIEF IN SIX TO TWELVE HOURS. NO MERCURY OR NOXIOUS DRUGS. A Cure Warranted, or No Charge, in From One to Two Days.

Weakness of the Back, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Langour, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin. Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the Solitary Habits of Youth—those secret and solitary practices more fatal to the victims than the song of Siren, and the flames of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entered listening Senates with a host of eloquence or walked unobscured the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE. Married Persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c., speedily cured.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS

Immediately Cured, and full vigor restored. This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgence. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent. Besides being deprived the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, a wasting of the frame, cough, consumption, decay and death.

The Telegraph.

From our Morning Edition.

THE SITUATION.

From information we can gather from telegraphic dispatches and private sources, there seems to be no doubt that the rebels are again occupying Chambersburg. Some parties assert that they are in great force, while others, who profess to be equally reliable, assert that they are not near as strong as represented. It is certain, however, that they are again invading the soil of Pennsylvania, and our forces must now advance and drive them off. What the authorities are doing would not be proper to state. Gen. Knipe, with his force, is in the valley, and Gen. Milroy is near Bedford with a large cavalry force. We may soon expect a collision, unless the rebels retire. We hope that the farmers in the surrounding country through which the rebels may pass will be prepared to join our forces at once and drive the marauders from our soil.

THE REBELS, WHO WERE YESTERDAY WITHIN EIGHT MILES OF GETTYSBURG, HAVE RETREATED OVER THE MOUNTAINS, AND HAVE NO DOUBT JOINED THEIR FORCES AT CHAMBERSBURG.

Ten o'clock, p. m.—Dispatches have just been received from Capt. Boyd stating that the rebels are, south of Green Village and Chambersburg, and that their forces are not near as large as represented.

CONTRABANDS ARE ARRIVING HERE CONSTANTLY, AND IT IS REALLY A DISTRESSING SIGHT TO SEE SMALL CHILDREN AND WOMEN Huddled together in wagons as they arrive here, with the little household property that they have gathered together in a lifetime. Many of them are carrying everything they possess on their backs or in small bundles.

WE OBSERVE THAT CORRESPONDENTS HERE ARE MAKING COMPLAINTS AGAINST SOME OF OUR BUSINESS MEN FOR CHARGING EXORBITANT PRICES FOR GOODS SOLD TO SOLDIERS. WE HAVE HEARD OF SIMILAR COMPLAINTS, AND HAVE DONE OUR BEST TO OBTAIN THE NAMES OF PERSONS WHO ARE GUILTY, BUT WE CANNOT OBTAIN ANY EVIDENCE SUSTAINING ANY OF THE COMPLAINTS. ON THE OTHER HAND, THE LOYAL CITIZENS ARE SPENDING THEIR MEANS TO MAKE THE SOLDIERS AS COMFORTABLE AS POSSIBLE. IF ANY MAN LIVING HERE DOES NOT DO HIS DUTY TOWARDS THOSE WHO CAME HERE TO DEFEND OUR SOIL, WE WILL BE THE FIRST TO EXPOSE THEM.

THE TOWN, HOWEVER, IS FULL OF PEDLERS, MEN AND WOMEN, WHO HAVE NO HABITATION HERE, WHO ARE SELLING THEIR GOODS FOR WHATEVER THEY CAN OBTAIN, AND IF THEY ARE GUILTY OF IMPOSING ON THE SOLDIERS LET THEM BE SENT OFF. THE SOLDIER HAS THE REMEDY IN HIS OWN HANDS, AND WE SHALL NOT BLAME HIM IF HE EXERCISES IT.

FROM PORT HUDSON.

The Bombardment Vigorously Maintained.

New Orleans, June 23. The New Orleans correspondents, per steamer Locust Point, state that our siege batteries had been opened on Port Hudson, and that a continuous rain of shot and shell was being poured into the enemy's works. Several buildings, supposed to contain commissary stores, were destroyed, and the rebels are known to be suffering in killed and wounded. An expedition had driven away a force of rebels collected at Clinton. Captain Perkins, of our 24 Louisiana cavalry, was killed in the skirmish. Deserters coming into our lines report the rebel strength to be at least ten thousand. The men were well clothed, but suffering for food. Twenty-five or thirty of our men are daily added to the killed and wounded by the enemy's sharpshooters.

Captain Hart, of the gunboat Albatross, had committed suicide by blowing out his brains with a pistol while insane from fever.

A rebel telegram from Mobile, of the 17th, says that the rebels have repulsed our troops twenty-seven times at Port Hudson, and that aid is close to hand.

A courier arrived at Jackson from Port Hudson, stating that the Federals have been severely punished—that the garrison has sixty days provisions and will hold out to the last.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Steamship Canada.

CAPE HORN, June 23. The royal mail steamship Canada, with a view from Liverpool to the 18th and Queenstown the 14th, was intercepted at this point at eight o'clock on Monday evening.

The steamer City of Cork, from Liverpool on the 12th and Queenstown on the 13th, was also boarded on Monday evening.

President Lincoln, through minister Adams, has returned his warm thanks to the Liverpool Emancipation Society for their friendly address. The announcement of satisfaction on 'Change in London, and Mexican bonds advanced 2 1/2 per cent.

All the telegraph wires from Warsaw have been destroyed.

The ship Charles Hunt, ashore near Bremer Haven, has got off.

LATEST COMMERCIAL.

Liverpool, June 15.—Cotton is firmer but unchanged. The breadstuffs market is dull but steady. Provisions are flat.

London, June 18.—Consols 91 @ 92 1/2 per cent.

Illinois Central shares 30 1/2 @ 31 1/2 per cent. discount; Erie 69 1/2 @ 70 1/2.

The steamer China, from New York, arrived at Liverpool on Saturday.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

General Pleasanton's Cavalry Fight.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 23, 1863.

General Pleasanton had the greatest cavalry fight on the 21st inst. that has yet taken place. Early on Sunday morning he advanced on the enemy at a point beyond Middleburg, being supported by Gen. Barre's division of infantry. A light ensued, which was kept up all day, Stuart being driven steadily, with heavy loss, clear into Ashby's Gap, beyond Upperville, a distance of twelve miles. General Pleasanton captured two guns, one a "Blakely," and three caissons, and blew up a fourth. He also captured upwards of one hundred prisoners, including one Lieutenant Colonel, one Major and five other officers.

THE ENEMY LEFT THEIR DEAD AND WOUNDED ON THE FIELD, AND IN THE TOWN OF UPPERVILLE A LARGE NUMBER OF WOUNDED REBELS WERE FOUND.

General Pleasanton describes the engagement as a most disastrous day to the rebel cavalry. Our cavalry behaved with the greatest intrepidity, and, as usual, did great execution with the sabre. Stuart has fortified Ashby's Gap with artillery, and will probably hold it against our further advance. Considering the extensive nature of the fight our loss is light and will not exceed in killed, wounded and missing one hundred and seventy-five. The enemy left a 10 pound Parrot gun carriage on the field. They probably threw the gun into Goose creek after it was dismantled. Two rebel colonels are known to have been killed.

Gen. Vincent's Infantry Brigade (Butterfield's old command), were actively engaged, and behaved with great courage. Gen. Buford's cavalry column opened on the rebels and successfully drove a large force of the enemy before him and captured a number of prisoners, including two Lieutenant Colonels. The cavalry justly feel grateful over their late exploits, and the infantry partake of the same spirit, and are now ready to back up the cavalry in their achievements. Four hundred wagon loads of wounded are reported by the citizens to have been taken through the Gap, but this is believed to be an exaggerated statement.

THE MARYLAND RAID.

The Rebels Driven out of Frederick.

FREDERICK COUNTY CLEAR OF REBELS

RESUMPTION OF TRAINS.

OCCUPATION OF LEESBURG.

LATEST FROM FREDERICK: BALTIMORE, June 23. Regular Cavalry, from Washington, was yesterday sent to operate against the rebel scouts who have been prowling about Frederick and vicinity for several days past. On reaching Mount Airy they found a picket on the road, and drove them into Frederick, capturing a portion of them.

Without halting to inquire as to the number of the enemy in Frederick, they dashed in after the rebel pickets, and after a brief skirmish through the streets, drove the entire force out of the city and pursued them until they crossed South Mountain, some twelve miles from Frederick. The enemy did not number over two hundred, and their horses being fresh, they succeeded in out-running our cavalry. They reported last night from Frederick that there was not believed to be an armed rebel in the whole county.

The intelligence from Frederick this morning is that, with the exception of three rebel scouts, the whole force of the enemy is west of South Mountain in the vicinity of Boonsboro' and Hagerstown, and at Williamsport. The whole rebel force in Maryland is believed not to exceed seven thousand, and little or no credit is given to the dispatches from Harrisburg announcing that the enemy is again making a force on Pennsylvania. With the exception of Cairo, we know of no locality so famous for unreliable intelligence as Harrisburg.

Whilst the rebels occupied Frederick they opened a recruiting office and obtained a number of recruits. In the panic of the approach of the Federal cavalry these recruits were left behind, and were captured. Had the horses of our cavalry not been worn out they would have captured the whole party.

OCCUPATION OF LEESBURG.

We have received information this morning that the whole line of the Potomac on the Virginia side of the river up to and beyond Leesburg, was yesterday in the possession of Federal troops, a large force occupying that town. This, of course, relieves the Maryland side of the Potomac from raids from that direction. The trains consequently commenced to run again to Frederick this morning, and the city being in our possession, regular communication will probably be re-established as far as Harper's Ferry to-morrow.

DESTRUCTION OF RAILROAD BRIDGES.

There has been another great destruction of the bridges of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, by the rebels. It is believed that every bridge on the line of the road, from Harper's Ferry to Cumberland, a distance of over one hundred miles, has been swept away. These include the bridges over the Opequan, North Branch, Son B Branch, Patterson's Creek, County Road, Great Cacapon, Little Cacapon, and Evert's Creek. This last bridge had never been destroyed by the enemy before, but it is now known to be a wreck.

FROM MARYLAND HEIGHTS.

The information from Maryland Heights this morning indicates the presence of the enemy in the mountains only in small forces, but no attempt had been made on the part of the enemy to advance on that spot. The town of Harper's Ferry was still nominally in our possession. No rebels had yet appeared there, and the bridges were fully protected by our guns. The nearest rebel force is about five miles distant, at Little Antietam.

FROM HAGERSTOWN.

The rebels are understood to be in considerable force at Hagerstown, and have thrown out their pickets and are making raids in the neighboring counties of Pennsylvania. The rebel force there is not believed to exceed six thousand.

Rebel Evidence of the Worthlessness of Rebel Money.

When the rebel steamer Calypso was captured by the United States steamer Florida, while on her way from Nassau to a port in North Carolina, a rebel mailbag was found on board, from which the following curious letters were taken:

A GEORGIA MERCHANT TO HIS PARTNER.

NASAU, June 7. "Nasau, June 7. Dear Brother— If I am not mistaken some of the blockade runners will lose a pile of money, as Confederate money is becoming at such a discount they cannot get price enough on the goods to pay the difference of exchange, as all goods have to be paid in gold or sterling exchange, and all freights prepaid, and then take all chances of getting them through, besides paying duties on them at Charleston. Some of the blockade men here think the next steamer from Dixie will bring bad news, and there will be a much greater discount on Confederate money—say seven or eight hundred dollars for one hundred in gold, and my opinion is it will soon be that. Yesterday I bought here (Nasau) five hundred dollars in Confederate money at four cents on the dollar, and some was sold here for even a greater discount. So you can see what the people here think of Dixie money, and in fact no one here will take it at any price for goods or for freight money; and if I had a million of gold dollars I would not invest one dollar here and take the chance of getting through and take Confederate money. "If you have any Confederate money on hand when you receive this, get clear of it on the best terms you possibly can, and in future do not take any more Confederate money, only what you can sell it for gold, and turn it into gold as soon as you receive it. The best investment of Confederate money is good sterling exchange, the next is gold, or silver, and the next is cotton, for none or later, I am confident, Confederate money will not worth the paper it is made on, although I may be mistaken. "Yours, truly, J. B. JACQUES. "Messrs. J. B. Jacques & Bro., Columbia, Ga." This is the testimony of a rebel merchant, whose exodus from the South seems to have opened his eyes to the hopelessness of the rebellion. According to his statement, Confederate money is already such a fearful discount that the English merchants of Nassau, favorable as they are to the rebels, refuse to have anything to do with it; while according to the following letter, Confederate bonds are still more unavailing in their results.

A RICHMOND AGENT'S TESTIMONY.

NASAU, June 3, 1863.

WM. E. SIMMONS, Richmond, Va.

DEAR FRIEND— I have not been able to find sale of the bonds, though there has been sales heretofore, but now no one seems ready to buy. I could sell at 45 cents, but am not willing to sell at that figure. I have concluded to deposit them in a house here, to be disposed of at a fair price, and proceed myself to New York, as we talked of before my departure from Richmond. Until my return I shall not be able to make any shipment to you. [Probably intends to buy goods in New York.] "The feeling here by residents seems to be in favor of the South, but I do not think it exists any further than dollars and cents are concerned. They are all making money out of the war, and do not care, in my opinion, how long it may last. As to England herself, from what I can see and hear, she is in favor of the South, on account of the gallantry shown by Southern soldiers, and would be willing to recognize her, providing she would emancipate her slaves, which can never be done. "Yours very truly, "HENRY WOODWARD."

A Rebel Steamer on the Coast.

New York, June 23.

An arrival here reports that on the 14th inst., in lat. 34 deg. 38 min., long. 72 deg., passed a large screw steamer, painted lead color, having two masts and two smoke stacks, and showing the rebel flag.

The Position of Lee's Army.

New York, June 23.

A dispatch from General Hooker's headquarters, dated yesterday, says it is beyond a doubt that the enemy's main infantry force, including the corps of A. P. Hill, is on the immediate western slope of the Blue Ridge, between Snicker's Gap and Winchester.

Arrival of a Prize.

New York, June 23.

The British brig Isabella Thompson arrived here this morning, prize to the gunboat United States. She was captured on the 19th inst., on suspicion of having run the blockade. The captain reports that he was from Nassau for Halifax. The cargo consists of 87 bales of cotton and 480 barrels turpentine.
