HARRISBURG, PA Saturday Evening, July 18, 1863.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

Advertisements in the TELEGRAPH, must invariably be accompanied with the CASH.

PENNSYLVANIA SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

The friends and relatives of Pennsylvania soldiers admitted to the hospitals in Philadelphia district, can have information respecting them by application to Jos. Parker, Chief of Hospital Commission, Nos. 1009 and 1011 Chestnut street.

THE GOOD NEWS.

The dispatch received this morning, giving us the cheering information that Charleston had fallen, and is now in the possession of the Union forces, was hailed with delight by many of our citizens, and a general good feeling appears to have spread throughout the city.

MORE REBEL WOUNDED.

Ten freight cars loaded with rebel prisoners, reached this city yesterday evening. The train was detained here until late at night, when the prisoners were sent over the Lebanon Valley road, towards New York. We understand that the destination of the prisoners was Staten Island, near New York city.

VISITING THE HOTELS.

A detachment of the provost guard were on duty yesterday evening and to-day, visiting the hotels, and calling on the officers for their passes. We did not learn of any arrests being made, which shows pretty conclusively that but very few officers are in our midst without leave from the proper authorities.

TO BE DISCHARGED.

The Secretary of War has arrived at the determination to order the honorable discharge of all Brigadier Generals of Volunteers who are absent sick for more than thirty days. This does not apply to brigadiers whose absence is caused by the wounds received in action, but they will be required to furnish satisfactory medical evidence as to the probability of their absence.

DESTRUCTION OF A MILL BY FIRE.

On Saturday evening last the large stone grist mill of Mr. George Ludwig, in lower Macungie township, Lancaster county, near the Berks county line, was totally destroyed by fire, together with all the contents, consisting of over one thousand bushels of grain, flour, &c. The mill was one of the best in the country, built some eight years ago at a cost of $14,000. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is suspected to have been the work of an incendiary.

THE ATTENTION OF THE TEACHERS OF DAUPHIN COUNTY.

The attention of the teachers of Dauphin county is respectfully called to the notice of the meeting of the State Teachers Association, to be held in Reading on the 4th, 5th and 6th of August, published in yesterday's issue. The place is easy of access by railroad, and no doubt arrangements will be made with the railroad company for a reduction of fare. There will also be a reduction of rates at hotels. It is to be hoped that Dauphin county will be well represented at the Reading meeting.

THE DRAFT.

The Provost Marshal for this district has received no order as yet to proceed with the draft, nor has the quota for this district been fixed. Whenever an order is received to proceed with the draft, due notice will be given, and all parties will be permitted to see for themselves that everything is conducted fairly. A ridiculous rumor was circulated throughout the city yesterday that the draft had taken place secretly, and that every one would have to go. It is scarcely necessary to say that it was a copperhead lie.

SENT AWAY.

Eight two deserters, stragglers, etc., were prepared for transportation this morning, as follows: The paroled prisoners twenty-two in number, to be sent to Camp Parole, West Chester. The deserters, ten stragglers, sixty in number, to be forwarded to Baltimore. Every man was ready to be sent forward at one o'clock to-day noon; but doubts were entertained that these destined for Baltimore would not be ordered off, as information was received in Harrisburg that a bridge had been carried away along the line of the Northern Central road, rendering it impossible for the train to pass until the bridge had been repaired.

BENJAMIN H. OBER.

The factious and handsome local editor of the Lancaster Evening Express was among those who drew a ticket in the draft at Lancaster, and he now announces to his readers in terms, only as Ben can proclaim the good fortune of having been provided with a boarding place, at the expense of Uncle Sam, for three years. Ben was in the three and we believe in the nine months' service. He is a good soldier and has no superior as a man. We trust that his star will light him safely through the gloom and night of battle, and that he may return to his old position on the Express after he has fought the good fight for law and order, full of honor.

RELIGIOUS.

LADIES UNION RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The Executive Committee will meet at Mrs. Corby's on Monday, 4 o'clock, P. M., July 20.

THE THREE MONTHS' AND THE EMERGENCY TROOPS.

Preparations are now being actively made to muster out of the service all the three months' and the emergency troops now in the field. As soon as the rolls can be prepared, the mustering out will commence.

PEACE RESTORED.

No disturbance of any account occurred in Lancaster yesterday, after the crowd had been dispersed from the Provost Marshal's office. The Sheriff's posse was armed with muskets belonging to the county, and patrolled the city the whole night after this attempt to commit a breach of the peace was made. All classes of citizens, with the exception of the parties referred to as engaged in the disturbance, used their efforts to prevent the city from being disgraced by a riot, and at last accounts all was quiet, and the draft was smoothly progressing.

THE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Dr. W. S. King, Medical Director of this Department, is establishing an army hospital at Chambersburg, Pa. Dr. Cuyler, Medical Inspector U. S. Army, has been very busily engaged at Gettysburg recently, in superintending the disposal of the wounded, and reports that all of our wounded men are now under cover. Miss Dix reports that the wounded are doing well; that they now have the necessary supplies and medical attendance, although any delicacies sent to them would be very acceptable.

AN ERROR.

In our article yesterday, relating to the 163d regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, we stated that Col. Glantz was with his regiment in the battle of Gettysburg. We have since been told by the Major of the regiment, that our informant was mistaken in his assertions—that he, Major J. T. Truehard, had command of the regiment since the Colonel was taken prisoner at Chancellorville, the Lieut. Colonel being unable to take command by reason of a wound received in said battle. Col. Glantz, it appears, did not join the regiment until it had left the army to be mustered out of service.

FROM THE HAMPTON HOSPITALS.

About daylight this morning a train arrived from Baltimore with a returned New York regiment. Three hundred and fifteen invalids, from the hospitals near Fortress Monroe, were also on the train, who had been sent to this city to be mustered out of service with their respective regiments. The following regiments were represented: 165th, 166th, 167th, 174th, 176th, 177th, 178th and 179th Pennsylvania. One hundred and sixty-five of the invalids were in charge of Lieut. O. B. Collier, of the 165th regiment Pennsylvania militia, and the remainder, one hundred and fifty, under command of Lieut. M. B. Munson, of the 171st Pennsylvania. The officers expect that several of the regiments will reach here the beginning of next week.

DISINTERESTED GENEROSITY AT GETTYSBURG.

An officer of the Nineteenth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers (Col. P. Lytle's), and attached to the staff of the First corps, and who was wounded in the first day's fight, speaks in the highest terms of the Rev. Professor H. L. Baugher (President of Gettysburg College), his estimable wife and kind hearted daughter. Some eighteen of the wounded of the First corps were carried to the mansion of the Professor. Day and night the family were unflinching in their attention to the wants of the sufferers, and although the rebels held possession of the town for three days, and the house was searched repeatedly, the officer was so effectually concealed that he escaped being taken prisoner. This noble family, unlike many other residents of the place, refused any compensation whatever, and we consider it but a just tribute to mention the occurrence.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.

Between twelve and one o'clock last night, a fire was discovered on the southern corner of the carpenter shop of Mr. Jesse Vandever, corner of Liberty and Church alleys, and an alarm immediately sounded. The fire companies were soon in the streets, but before they had reached the scene of action, the fire had been extinguished. Upon examination, it was discovered that the shop had been set on fire in two places—on the corner above mentioned, and under the back end of the shop—nothing but the damp condition of the boards prevented the entire building from being destroyed. This is the second case of incendiary in the city within forty-eight hours, and if some steps are not taken to prevent these outrages, we will some night be surrounded from our plumbers, by a more destructive fire than either of the ones which have been discovered in our city since last Thursday noon. We also learn that a fire was seen over the river, by some of our citizens, during the night, but we could not ascertain the locality, nor hear whether any valuable property had been destroyed.

IMPORTANT TO ALL CONCERNED.

Especially to those Wanting Substitutes. A circular has been issued by Col. J. V. Bonford, Provost Marshal General of Pennsylvania, giving instructions concerning the draft for the information of the Provost Marshals. It says that "an enrolled man may be accepted as a substitute after the draft in his district in which he is enrolled, provided he is not drafted himself." One of the most important sections in the circular is the one referring to any person furnishing an equivalent for himself. It reads, "Any man who is an equivalent for the person drafted may be received as a substitute, but a negro, under existing laws, is not a military equivalent for a white man." Neither can a person be accepted as a substitute unless he be between the ages of 20 and 45 years.

Six months' and three months' men are to receive credit for the time they have served, and are to remain, should they desire it, in the same regiments they enlisted in until their term of volunteer enlistment expires, when they will be placed in three years' regiments for the remainder of their time of service. Those who are in the State's service, and not mustered into the United States' service, will be drafted, but will not be required to report to the Provost Marshal of the district in which they were drafted, and will be enrolled into the United States' service for three years from the date of their enlistment.

POLICE MATTERS.

Before Alderman Kline. James Mooney, an officer of a New York regiment, had come trouble, yesterday afternoon, with Wm. D. Jack, the news vendor, about a newspaper. Jack thought he was not treated right, and he reported to the Squire, who called for the "ficer of the day," Mr. Brooks, and placed Mooney in confinement sufficiently long enough for the offence he had committed. The officer's regiment was on the point of leaving when arrested, which made the arrest more odious to him and satisfactory for Jack.

Christian Shultz, an "old boarder," was brought up again for drunkenness, last night, and placed in the lock-up. Shultz was in good circumstances at one time, but the evil effects of liquor had done its work, and now there are "none so poor as to do him reverence."

Joseph Hook was arrested for drunkenness and bad conduct, and placed in jeopardy. Joseph is the manufacturer of those small boxes containing mills for grinding the roasted berries of a tree belonging to the genus Coffea, grown in Arabia and Persia, otherwise known as coffee.

Myr. Coon, a German teamster, was unceremoniously taken from his horse last night, for incompetency—it being evident that he could not, from a confused state of the brain, drive as straight as the law requires, having endangered the lives of several children in his efforts to learn. When interrogated, it was also learned that he could not even speak English from over exertion, and he was confined to sober up.

The Philadelphia City Troop.

Harrisburg, Penna., July 18th, 1863. Editor Harrisburg Telegraph.—I have read a paragraph in this morning's issue of your paper which does injustice, I think, to the Philadelphia City Troop. The two companies of cavalry (Adams County company and City Troop) were sent across the bridge at Columbia by positive orders from Major J. Haller, A. D. C., through myself. This was done to allow the plans to be taken up preparatory to blowing up the bridge by the rebels. The City Troop and the Adams County company did most excellent service in Adams county. A detachment left on picket at Gettysburg, when the rest of our troops were withdrawn, behaved with such coolness as to be mentioned by name by Major Haller in a dispatch to Major General Couch. I think this is but justice to a body of men who armed, equipped and subsisted themselves at their own expense, and who really did excellent service, ready at all times to do whatever was required of them from the South Mountain to the Susquehanna. Very respectfully, OTHAS. McLEAN KNOX, Major 9th N. Y. Cavalry.
