HARRISBURG, PA.
Tuesday Evening, August 4, 1863.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

PAXTON FIRE COMPANY.—A stated meeting of the Paxton fire company will be held at their hall on this (Tuesday) evening, August 4th, at eight o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested.

AUCTION SALE OF NEW AND SECOND HAND FURNITURE.—Messrs. Esominger & Adams will have another large sale of new and second hand furniture at their stand, between the Market houses, to-morrow (Wednesday) morning. Persons in want of articles in their line will do well to attend the sale.

ARRIVED LAST NIGHT.—The 171st Penna. regiment reached Camp Curtin yesterday evening. Colonel Everard Bierer, of this city, is still in command of the regiment. Since the 171st was attached to the Army of the Potomac, they have seen considerable hard service. The regiment is made up principally from Fayette, Somerset and Tioga counties.

HOW TO AVOID THE DRAFT.—One of the many draft dodges is thus practiced: A sharper advertises in the papers—"Don't flee your country! Don't resist the draft! Learn an honorable and certain way to avoid it! Include $1 to the address of—," &c. The dollar is received, and the answer contains only one word, and that "Enlist," of course.

HYDROPHOBIA.—Now that the fiery dog star reigns supreme, it is the duty of all having dogs to see that they are securely muzzled, for no one can tell how soon the fierce snuff may breed hydrophobia. We see unmuzzled canines every hour of the day running the streets, with tongues protruding, and appearing exceedingly "unamiable." Let them be looked after in time.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR SUBSTITUTES.—The collector of Lancaster county, Pa., Alexander H. Hood, arrived in Philadelphia Friday, with $300,000, that amount having been paid to him by one thousand drafted men of the county in lieu of their personal service. If all the other counties in the State follow the example of Lancaster, the government will derive much money but very few men from the draft.

THE 174TH PENNA.—Sunday morning, about three o'clock, the 174th regiment Pennsylvania drafted militia, (Colonel John Nice), reached Philadelphia. They have been serving in the Department of the South for the last nine months, and came north from Fort Royal, S. C., in the steamer Belvidere. The regiment, not being furnished with transportation, was compelled to lay over in Philadelphia Sunday and yesterday. The 174th is composed of drafted men from the interior of the State, and numbers about four hundred and fifty men. They are expected to leave Philadelphia for Camp Curtin to-day.

THE VOLUNTEER ENGINEER REGIMENT.—The camp of instruction for the regiment of volunteer engineers, now being raised in this State, is to be formed in a few days, and some of the regimental officers made an examination, on Saturday, of the grounds, a few miles west and south of Market street bridge, Philadelphia, with the view of selecting a site. Healthfulness and a stream sufficiently wide for exercise in the construction of military bridges, were stated to be the chief requisites, inasmuch as the sixty-four artificers in each company are to be instructed in the art of directing the work of parties of infantry, when engaged in engineering operations. Artificers, when mustered, receive the pay of sergeants or corporals, and in the camp of instruction they will be prepared to fill the position of non-commissioned officers.

DISORDERLY TEAMSTER.—About two o'clock yesterday afternoon, a teamster, in charge of wagon No. 806, drove up to the Medical Purveyor's office in the Sixth ward, for the purpose of getting some medicines and hospital stores for a regiment. While there he behaved in a very disorderly manner, treating his horses with inhuman severity, and beating them in the most savage manner. He cursed the Government and everything connected with it; called this "d—d abolition war," wished "the Government was in h—l," etc. He wound up his career in front of the office by starting his horses off on a jump, and spilling several boxes of medicines out of his wagon. The Medical Purveyor not being present at the time, '806' escaped arrest and subsequent confinement in the guard house, which would have been just the place for him after his disgraceful conduct.

DEATHS IN THE ARMY HOSPITALS.—The following deaths of soldiers in the city and Camp Curtin Hospitals were reported at the City Medical Director's office last week.

- Camp Curtin Hospital.—John Clock, private, company D, 172d Penna. militia; died August 2.
- William Benks, private, company G, 173d Penna. militia; died July 28.
- Henry Stabler, private, company F, 56th Penna. volunteers; died August 1.
- Booker Perkins, (rob.), private company K, 3d A. Cavalry; died July 25.
- Franklin Weaver, private, company K, 151st regiment Penna. volunteers; died July 27.
- West Walnut Street Hospital.—Patrick Carney, private, company D, 69th Penna. volunteers; died July 30.
- Mulberry Street Hospital.—Gustav Farmer, corporal, company —, 14th U. S. Infantry; died August 1.
- J. H. Rothrock, private, company C, 158d Penna. volunteers; died July 29.

LADIES UNION RELIEF SOCIETY.—The ladies of the Union Relief Association acknowledge the receipt of and return thanks for $10.70, collected from the citizens of Baugh Gap, by Miss Catherine Fry and Miss Row.

ON WITH THE DRAFT!—We learn from a reliable source, that the Provost Marshal of this District has received orders from the Provost Marshal General to proceed with the draft forthwith. Arrangements have been made by which the drawing will commence this or next week.

POLICE AFFAIRS.—Before Alderman Kline.—Five drunk and disorderly persons were in the look-up over night, including the party who participated in the fight at Brant's Hall. Four of them paid their fines and were discharged; the fifth had no money, but was let off with the understanding that he should not make his appearance before the Alderman again on a charge of drunkenness.

COMING HOME.—Capt. Murray's company of independent cavalry left Chambersburg yesterday evening for Harrisburg. We learn from one of the members that the company was in Mechanicsburg this morning, and would probably reach here to-morrow. Capt. Murray's company was one of the first that responded to the call of the Governor to serve during the emergency, and well it has performed its duty. A hearty reception awaits the members by their many friends.

DISTURBANCE IN BRANT'S HALL.—Yesterday evening, the performance in Brant's Hall was unexpectedly interrupted by a dispute originating between several soldiers and a number of citizens in the parquette. One citizen became desperate and struck one of the soldiers on the head four or five times with a "billy." The soldiers took their companion's part, and the citizen also received a few taps on the head. Here the provost guard and police interfered, the parties were arrested, and locked up until this morning, when they were discharged.

LORETTO SPRINGS NOT CLOSED.—We have the pleasure of announcing that the Loretto Springs, situated on the Allegheny mountains, are now open for the reception of visitors.—This is one of the most celebrated watering places in the State, and has no superior. Everything that can add to the comfort of guests will be found there. Colonel George Prince, a prince of landlords, formerly proprietor of the State Capitol Hotel, of this place, has charge of the catering department, and will dispense the civilities of the establishment in his complete style. Half-price excursion tickets are issued by the Pennsylvania railroad company, which tickets can be extended for the season.

RECRUITING FOR THREE YEARS' REGIMENTS.—During the month of July, two hundred and six recruits were mustered into the three years' service at this Post, who had enlisted in this State to serve in the old regiments now in the field. We give their nativity, occupation, average age, average height, which goes far to show of what material the men now enlisting in three years' regiments are composed:

A MODEL SOLDIER.—The Philadelphia Enquirer publishes a noble letter written by Sergeant Albert C. Buon, of the 71st regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, killed at the battle of Gettysburg. He enlisted in the California Regiment at the commencement of the war, and was wounded in the leg during the fight at Ball's Bluff. He rejoined his regiment as soon as he recovered, and was again wounded at the battle of White Oak Swamp, being shot in the head. He passed safely through all the other battles, until that at Gettysburg, when he fell mortally wounded, having previously received two wounds, one in the leg and the other in the arm. He would not leave his post, however, but continued to serve at one of the batteries until a third shot struck him in the head, killing him instantly. He had written a letter the morning before the fight to his mother, and endorsed it with a request that, in case he should get killed, the finder would send it to his mother. The letter was found by one of the First New York Battery. It is as follows:

July 2, 1863.—Dear Father and Mother:—Since I wrote you last I have been constantly on the move; we are now in Pennsylvania, near Gettysburg, and the grand battle is expected to come off this morning. There was a small fight yesterday. We were awakened very early this morning, and were moved up to our present position, where we can hear the roar of the cannon. No matter what happens I will do my duty, and will not get shot in the back, and if it is God's will that I should fall I hope you will not mourn for me, but rather rejoice that you had one son who fell in defence of his country and native State. Your affectionate son, ALBERT C. BUON.

INVING FEMALE COLLEGE.—The fall session of this institution, located at Mechanicsburg, will commence on Wednesday, September 24. Persons having daughters to educate will find living College one of the best institutions of learning in the State. Catalogues, containing particulars, can be had by applying to the principal, A. G. Marlett.

TWO DOLLARS REWARD.—A poor laboring man has lost a carpet sack, which contained all his effects. A very graphic description of the sack and contents can be found in our advertising columns. The owner will have no difficulty in identifying his property among "five thousand other carpet sacks." Consequently the finder will do well to leave it at this office immediately.

XENIADS.—What is life? 'Tis not to stalk about and draw fresh air, From time to time, or gaze upon the sun; 'Tis to be free.—Addison. "Xeniads was a citizen of Corinth, who purchased Diogenes, when sold as a slave. He asked the fat philosopher what he could do. Command freemen, was the prompt and laconic reply, which so pleased his purchaser, that he immediately set him at liberty. Independence, as is usual with true lovers of freedom, was a strong trait in the character of Diogenes. Alexander the Great once visited him in his hut, and asked what favor he could bestow upon him. Get out of my sunshine, was his quick and sarcastic answer. The conqueror of the world turned to his courtiers and said, "were not Alexander I should wish to be Diogenes." How few we have at the present day, who would not dandle into pigmies, and weigh like a feather against a pound of lead, if put in the scale of patriotism by the side of a Diogenes. In his day, the friends of freedom loved and fought for it, for its own sake, not for the sake of the loaves and fishes, as in modern times. As a part of the Government, we also have a business duty to perform, in calling the public attention to the large stock of new and seasonable dry goods received by C. L. BOWMAN, southeast corner of Front and Market streets, on Friday and Saturday of last week. Purchasers are especially requested to call and examine these cheap dry goods. au3-dt

PROFESSOR RAINBOW'S RELIEF AND CURE FOR HERNIA OR RUPTURE. Unrivalled in the world for Ease, Efficacy and Durability—Superior to the old Steel Truss for the following reasons: 1. It cannot get out of place when properly adjusted. 2. Its similarity to the Knee-Cap—becoming rigid and firm by straining or lifting. 3. The pressure can be regulated in one minute by the wearer. 4. You can rest and sleep, and forget it is on you. 5. It will last a life time, and lose none of its efficacy. 6. It does not impede locomotion; neither will it interfere with nature or will. 7. It meets the difficulty by an upward pressure. 8. It does not oppress the Spine—but braces and strengthens it. 9. It presses the proper place at the proper time. 10. It has in all cases superseded the steel, and succeeds where the steel has failed. 11. There is no draft upon the system, by extracting electricity from it, which the metal truss decidedly does. Patented July 31st, 1860, and entered according to law. TESTIMONIALS. Testimonials of the Recorder and Register, and of the Rev. Dymon, both of Chambersburg, Franklin county, Pa. A German friend, Wm. Hinkle, came to my office some time since, and was wearing one of Rainbow's Patent Trusses. He spoke so highly in favor of it that, although I had purchased a new spring one but a few days before, I was induced to lay it aside and buy one of Rainbow's, and find it all it is recommended to be, and just the thing I have been wishing for. Register and Recorder of Franklin co., Pa. Chambersburg, June 10th, 1863. Again, I saw Prof. Rainbow the first day he came to Chambersburg; he handed me one of his circulars; I was forcibly impressed with the representations as being the article right for rupture. I bought one and have worn it since and find myself more comfortable and much better pleased with it than with any truss I ever before used, and believe Prof. Rainbow's statements in his favor to be honest and true. REV. F. DYMON. Chambersburg, Franklin co., Pa., June 10th, 1863. Reference to several citizens of Harrisburg of the highest standing can be given, if desired, of its superior value for Hernia or Rupture, or Protrusion Uteri for females. Prof. Rainbow will be at the Franklin House, corner next the jail, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 11th, 12th and 13th. Any one leaving their address, he will, if requested, visit their homes. No charge for visit or advice. The compliments and thanks of Prof. Rainbow are tendered to his friends and patrons for their past encouragement and patronage, and he hopes to merit a continuance of the same. au3-dt
