The Venom of Copperheads-The Tory Organ Gloating Over the Atroctics of

In the midst of the poignant sorrow which filled the heart of every humane and every patriotic man, at the atrocious murder of the defenceless citizens of Lawrence, Kansas, by a horde of rebel cut throats, the Tory Organ becomes jubilant over the event, claps its hands with very joy, and shouts in glee to think that a band of drunken slave drivers succeeded in assassinating a hundred or two of defenceless assassinating a hundred or two of defenceless the proposition made by him to a gentleman in Charleston city; and have opened with them Abolitionists. When we read the paragraph the sheriff's office here, to embark with him on after giving Gen. Beauregard due notice of my quoted below in the Tory Organ, its brutality was so gross that we were constrained to believe there was some mistake even in its publication in that vile sheet. But as it has been allowed to pass without a withdrawal or even an apology for its beastliness, we quote it to prove to what extremes the hellish purposes of the secret sympathizers may be driven:

"The Abolitionists of Lawrence, Kansas, who in times of profound peace used to make raids into Missouri to steal negroes, burn and destroy property, and sometimes by way of diversion hang slave holders, have had the poisoned chalice ferced to their lips, and have been compelled to drain it to the very dregs. Judge Woodward's Apology to the Foreigners.

We agree with the Pittsburg Gazette, in the leclaration that nothing meaner has ever come under its observation, in the whole course of its experience, than the letter of George W. That after a lapse of fifteen years he should endeavor to creep out of a difficulty. of this sort, by setting it down to the account of a Whig reporter, who wanted to do him an injury, is about the smallest piece of business for a great man we have ever heard of, and may well satisfy any doubter as to the truth of the story told of ioint account, in speculations at sheriff's sales. It is, however, precisely of a piece with his conduct in the Bond cases, where, after being cornered at every turn, and silenced in open court he skulked from pillar to post, until he was obliged to take refuge at last in the most disoreditable of subterfuges.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF GEN. GILMORE. HEADQUARTERS OF THE DEP'T OF THE SOUTH, ( MORRIS ISLAND, S. C., August 24.

A., Washington, D. C.

I have the honor to report the practical demolition of Fort Sumter, as the result of our seven days bombardment of that work, including two days during which a powerful north eastern storm most seriously diminished the accuracy and effect of our fire.

Fort Sumter is to day a shapeless and harm less mass of ruins. My chief of artillery (o)

pletely a ruin and a mass of broken masonry, but could scarcely be more powerless for the defence of the harbor. My breaching batteries were located at distances varying between 3,380 and 4,240 yards from the works, and now remain as effective as ever. I deem it unnecessary at present to con-tinue the fire upon the ruins of Sumter. I have also at great labor and under a heavy fire from James Island, established batteries on my left within effective range of the heart of intention to do so. My notification to Ger Beauregard and his reply therete, with the threat of retaliation and my rejoinder, have been transmitted to the army headquarters. The projectiles from my batteries entered the city, and Gen. Beauregard himself designates hem as the most destructive missiles ever used in war. The report of my Chief of Artillery gives an accurate sketch of the ruins of Fort Sumter, taken at 12 M. yesterday, six hours before we ceased firing, and is herewith trans-Very respectfully, Your obedient servant, mitted.

GENERAL:—I have the honor to report the ffect that our breaching batteries have had effect that our breaching batteries have had been found secreted, have been destroyed, a upon Fort Sumter and the condition of that well as all the houses of known guerrillas work to night, at the close of the seventh day's bombardment. The gorge wall of the fort is bombardment. The gorge wall of the fort is almost a complete mass of rulns, and several all persons in the border counties outside of casemates, about midway on the face, are removed nearly, and in places, quite to the moved nearly, and in places, quite to the 7th of September, in obedience to a general arches, and but for the and bags with which order. while the raid was going on—fortunately, too; for if Quantrell had caught him, the administration would have lost one of its main props.

But, a man born to be hung is not likely to be falsify the record after the lapse of a generation.

The perversion of facts in regard to the conduct of General Lane is base and wilful, and can only be equalled by the fieldishness with which the beasts who control the columns of the form Convention, restified under oath that the first our projectiles seem to the field of our projectiles seem to the field our projectiles seem to the field our projectiles seem to for forms. The ruin extends around, taking to Miss Mary Ann Kline, both of Harrisburg, A portion of this face, adjoining the angle it makes with the south easterly face is concealed from the great number of my missles, which have struck in this angle during the last two days. It cannot be otherwise than greatly dam aged, and I do not think any guns can be left on the face in serviceable condition. The ramparts in this angle, as well as in the south easterly face, must be plowed up and greatly shattered, the parapet on the latter face being apet and parade in the immediate vicinity of this gun; that it probably could not be served

Rebel System Insupportable. WASHINGTON, August 27.

The Chronicle has received the Georgia Conitutionalist of the 24th of August, containing letter from Robert Toombs, late Senator of the Inited States and late rebel Secretary of State Unter states and late rebel secretary of State. It is undoubted and startling evidence of the utter bankruptcy and failure of the Confederacy. He boldly exposes the wickedness and corruption of the managers of the bogus government, and says that the whole rebellion is rotten, useless, and wicked. The laws are weak, and the rulers oppressive, and a starving community are impoverished and plundered.
