What is Involved in the State Election. While thousands of our fellow citizens are absent in the field, contending in a death struggle with armed traitors, the spectacle of a di vided people at home is perhaps the most humiliating of all the results of the war. "Why is this division tolerated?" ask the people of friendly nations. "It is the evidence of the instability of Republican institutions," insist our foreign aristocratic neighbors. "Have the National or State Governments no power or in fluence to change such a condition of affairs?" beseechingly inquire the timid friends of civil liberty-and thus from foreign friend and foe o domestic conservative or neutral, this seeming division among the people of the free States is misunderstood, and used to advance the evil opponents of the present unboly rebellion, are purposes of the demagogues in our midst, and invited to assemble in County Convention for the tyrants abroad. Justice Woodward on a Button Hole. When George W. Woodward received and the rebels have in these waters. I she ventures counted the nemination for Governor, as the outside the shoals Admiral Porter says she will accepted the nomination for Governor, as the candidate of the anti-war, pro-slavery and treason sympathizing party of Pennsylvania, he announced, with the mock dignity which he is in the habit of clumsily assuming, that his position as a Judge of the Supreme Court would prevent him from participating in the campaign for his own election. At the time, we considered this position justifiable and proper; while many good men were of the conviction that Woodward would be paying a tribute to his fire to and destroyed fourteen ships, among seat on the bench of the Supreme Court, as them nine large ones, the machinery of which was intended to be sent to Selma, Alabama, for the gunboats building there. There are no more placed him in nomination, if he resigned. Indeed, if Woodward had any regard for his position as a Judge, or confidence in the power of his party as an influence capable of electing him Gov ernor, he would immediately resign. But it appears he has neither respect for the one or regard for the other-while he is daily violating his unsolicited pledge that he would refrain from taking any part in the contest for Governor. Instead of taking the stump like a man-instead of inviting his opponent to meet him fairly before the people—instead of debating the grave questions involved in the contest, George W. Wood ward is perambulating the State privately and secretly, button-holing men to vote for him for Governor for purely personal reasons. He disclaims that there are any other issues involved in the contest, but the purpose of re-organizing and strengthening the Democratic party by his election. He appounces in his conversation with men, that the Democratic party must succeed in order to prove to the traitors in arms, that, even after they have been worsted in fair much rather that men should avow than sup- fight, there is still hope that all which they press their treasonable sentiments. GOVERNOR CURTIN AND THE MILITARY. -The members of Colonel McComba's Pennsylvania regiment held a meeting at Parkersburg, West-ern Virginia, the other day, and passed a series of resolutions endorsing the Union candidates for Governor and Judge of the Suprme Court. Among the resolutions adopted was one declar-ing that "Governor Curtin, by his earnest, effient and constant support of the Federal Gov untiring and successful efforts to promote the honor, efficiency, welfare and comfort of the thousands of Pennsylvania's sons who have taken up arms in defence of their country, whether found in the field, the camp or the hospials has placed our noble old Commonwealth in a proud position are successful. proud position among the loyal States, and has won for himself the grateful thanks of the good people of our State and nation, and proved himself the soldier's friend, as he is the people's on the premises an excellent Orchard of choice favorite."

(with spring house.) About 20 acres of the above land is covered with thriving timber. RELICS.-A Washington dispatch says that $15,000 in confederate bonds, certificates, &c., of various amounts, recently captured by a Pennsylvania regiment, have been sent to the Treasury Department, to be kept as specimens and mementoes of the currency of the confederate States. According to Toombs, of Georgia, these bonds are of no value even at this date, save as relics of a "wicked and corrupt" rerebellion, for Toombs admits that the rebel se curities are at one hundred per cent. discount while Federal currency is but thirty per cent. discount.
