Extensive Forgery—A Baltimore From the Army of the Potomac-Bank Swindled out $50,000 by a Pittsburger.

WARRESTON, Va., August 29.

We have had a pleasant day here, the occasion of which was the presentation of a sword, agon be Citizens' Bank of Baltimore, by a tavern keeper of this city, named John L. Pichl. It appears that Pichl, who had obtained the confidence of several prominent business men of Baltimore, visited that city a few days ago, and represented himself as a horse contractor for the Government. He went to the Quartermas A Row Among the Spirit-Rappers tavern keeper of this city, named John L. Pichl. of Harrisburg. the Government. He went to the Quartermas, ter at that place, and obtained from his clerk, a receipt for a large lot of horses, valued at a certain price per head, together with an order upon the Paymaster for the sum total—amount—into the paymaster for the paymaste upon the Psymaster for the sum total—amounting to between *48:000 and $50,000. After the succeeded its procuring this receipt and order it is alleged that Pith! forged the endorsement of the Quartermaster, and immediately after obtained an order from the Psymaster, drawn upon the Citizens' Bank, and payable in twenty days. He then repaired to the bank, where he was introduced to the bank, where he was introduced to the capture between the country and although of secession proclivities, they appeared to regard the blue jackets with favor, and if their looks betokened anything they wished "this cruel war was over;" so that their almost desolate town would again be ealight-

He then took checks for the balance, in $5,000 sums, and left the bank. On the following day the cashier became apprehensive that all was her have saways.

And here let me first say, that I fear not to proclaim to the world; that I am a firm believer in the truth of Spiritual manifestions—not in the truth of Spiritual manifestions—not washington, on business. It was supposed, Washington, on business. It was supposed, what he had gone to New York, preserved. paratory to taking the steamer for Europe, which was to sail on Friday. This supposition direct from the Texas shore, and the cutain was strengthened by the fact that Pichl's family of the brig told him he would swear to the fact, had also left the city.
