Friday Evening, Sept. 11, 1868.

Gov. Curtin Before the People.

We have private as well as accounts derived from our exchanges, of Gov. Curtin's progress before the people. His Excellency has been addressing large meetings in the western and north-western portion of the State...

South Sixth Street, August 27, 1868. N. B. Browne, Esq. - Sir: You are reported in the Press of this morning as stating to a public meeting your personal knowledge of the opinions of Hon. G. W. Woodward, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania...

But, as my remarks have been thought worthy of your attention, and that there may be no room for misapprehension in regard to them, it is but fair to myself as well as Judge Woodward that I should repeat them for your information. I do so from a written draft of them.

The Tory Organ wants to know why so many troops are kept in Schuylkill and Luzerne counties. To encourage the hypocrites in their pursuit of knowledge, we advise them to consult their own consciences, and they will get for an answer that loyal troops are kept in the said counties to counteract the influences of treason...

It wants to know why 40,000 federal soldiers are kept in New York. Conscience here again can serve it, with the reply, that the Government and the people are compelled to incur and pay the expense of such a body of men, to counteract the influence of a copperhead Governor, who has been prostituting the powers of his position to embarrass the federal authorities...

Blackguardism. Hiester Clymer, a Senator from Berks county, a disappointed aspirant for the copperhead nomination for Governor, and a copperhead of the most malignant qualities, has been haranguing the people in different parts of the State, in favor of the heresies of modern Democracy, the atrocities of the slaveholders' rebellion, and the aspirations of his political co-laborers in rebellion. To a certain extent, Hiester Clymer has a right to do all this. Democracy gives him the right to advocate treason. Treason impowers him to attack the Government, and from the embarrassment and peril of that Government, such demagogues as Clymer derive their means of advocating the claims of their political friends and power the position. But as Hiester Clymer has assumed the right of making personal attacks on the Union candidate for Governor, we deem it only fair to remind the Berks county Senator that he is indulging in a blackguardism which may be gratifying to his own tastes and instincts, but which is most repulsive to the tastes and the practices of honorable and fair dealing men.

A Copperhead Scotched by a Democrat. The following correspondence between Mr. Browne and Mr. Biddle will explain itself. Mr. Browne is one of the most conscientious and respectable citizens of Philadelphia, a Democrat heretofore, but who came into the loyal party with Dickinson, Butler and Brewster. He made a speech, in the course of which he justly spoke of Mr. Justice Woodward as an enemy of the country, and a follower of the doctrines of the late Mr. Calhoun. This statement he strengthened by asserting a former political friendship for Mr. Woodward, and a knowledge of his views, which every other Democrat in this State abundantly possessed.

South Sixth Street, August 27, 1868. N. B. Browne, Esq. - Sir: You are reported in the Press of this morning as stating to a public meeting your personal knowledge of the opinions of Hon. G. W. Woodward, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. You say of him: "He is, if possible, a conscientious Secessionist. No man in the South carries the doctrine of Secession further than he."

Hon. Charles J. Biddle, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 27th inst.; in regard to my remarks concerning Judge Woodward, on taking the chair at the meeting of the National Union Party on Wednesday evening last. The published reports of the speeches delivered on that occasion are obviously incomplete, and not intended to be full or literal. I can not understand or undertake to represent Judge Woodward's opinions on the issues now pending, from my own personal knowledge; for I am not aware of having exchanged words with him since the outbreak of the present rebellion.

But, as my remarks have been thought worthy of your attention, and that there may be no room for misapprehension in regard to them, it is but fair to myself as well as Judge Woodward that I should repeat them for your information. I do so from a written draft of them.

First, as to slavery. He is not content to stand with the State Rights Democracy of other days, and leave slaveholders in the possession of such rights and protection as they had under the Constitution; but in his speech of December, 1860, he boldly proclaims that "human bondage and property in man is divinely sanctioned, if not ordained; and that negro slavery is a just and honorable blessing."

Gen. Crittenden's Forces in Possession of the Town. A special dispatch from Newton, Ga., Sept. 9, says: At 12 o'clock to-day Gen. Crittenden took possession of Chattahoochee. General Wood was put in command of the place. The principal portion of the rebel infantry left Chattahoochee yesterday morning, their cavalry remaining till this morning. The headquarters of the department will probably be at Chattahoochee to-morrow. The rebels are in rapid retreat; but our combinations are such that they can hardly get off with all their forces. They are cutting down trees and using other means to obstruct our further passage over the mountains.

Gen. Crittenden's Forces in Possession of the Town. A special dispatch from Newton, Ga., Sept. 9, says: At 12 o'clock to-day Gen. Crittenden took possession of Chattahoochee. General Wood was put in command of the place. The principal portion of the rebel infantry left Chattahoochee yesterday morning, their cavalry remaining till this morning.

The Evacuation of Little Rock by the Rebels. LEAVENWORTH, Sept. 10, 1868. The rebels have evacuated Little Rock, and removed forty miles to Fort Washington, which they are fortifying. A special dispatch from Davall's Bluff, dated August 29, states that General Davidson moved on the rebel works at Bayou Metot on the 27th, and after an engagement driving the rebels from their entrenchments. The engagement was confined to artillery and sharpshooters firing from under cover. The rebels had three thousand men and three pieces of artillery.

NEWS FROM THE INDIAN TERRITORY. CAPTURE OF FORT SMITH - FLIGHT OF THE ENEMY - THE INDIANS DESERTING THE REBELS, ETC. LEAVENWORTH, Sept. 10, 1868. Official intelligence of the capture of Fort Smith, Arkansas, reached here this evening. The rebels were driven from the fort, and a force of four thousand rebels west of the fort. Next morning he marched to attack them, but they had fled. Colonel Cloud chased Cabell twenty miles south, and had a brief engagement; but after a few rounds Cabell's men fled in all directions. Our loss was slight, but Capt. Lane of the Second Kansas regiment, was killed.
