ADVERTISEMENTS... HARRISBURG, PA. Tuesday Evening, October 13, 1863.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Snow fell on Monday last week, in and around Indianapolis. DEATH OF AN OLD PRINTER.

The rebel government talks of paying the soldiers liberally after the war. Its liberality reminds us of the poor fellow's will.

FISHERMEN'S TOURNAMENT. A few weeks ago we announced that a "Fishesmen's Tournament" would be held at Detroit, Michigan.

THE RICHINGS ARE COMING! The famous Richings Opera Troupe will give one of their popular concerts in Brant's Hall, on Monday evening next.

NATAL CADETS. The examination of applicants for admission to the Naval Academy has just closed, and the following have been admitted from Pennsylvania.

We would again call the attention of persons who have friends interred on the Gettysburg battle field, that if they desire to remove their remains home for burial, they should do so at once.

FUN FOR THE MILLION. We have the pleasure of informing the amusement-loving portion of our citizens that Prof. Harry Lee will give two of his famous exhibitions of Laughing Gas, at Brant's Hall, in this city, on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH. A little girl aged nine years, daughter of Mr. Fogg, of Chester, Pa., was burned to death, the other night. Her father was making some varnish, in the preparation of which alcohol was used.

COLLISION. On Saturday afternoon the passenger train going south on the Northern Central Railroad, from this city, ran into a cattle train at a sharp dip in the side of Cockeyville.

CHAPLAINS RELEASED. The following Chaplains of Pennsylvania regiments have been released from Libby Prison, Richmond, and are now in this State: George H. Hamner, 12th Cavalry; D. C. Eberhart, 87th Regiment; E. O. Ambler, 67th Regiment.

They state that there at Belle Isle over sea thousand U. S. prisoners, the great majority of whom are in a very destitute condition. A large number of them are in their shirt sleeves, and without hats and caps, and are compelled to lie in the open air.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT UPON LOYAL MEN. Mayor Rounfort Encouraging the Assaults. Last evening, as a delegation of loyal men, who were in the city to hear Senator Wilson, were preparing to return home, they were attacked by a party of copperhead ruffians with an undoubted murderous intention.

After the presentation had taken place, the parties assembled partook of what was good for eating and liquids, separating well pleased with each other.

Gen. JIM LANE, the great apostle of liberty in Kansas, made a very patriotic speech at Wilkita Hall, in Pittsburg, on Friday night.

BUSINESS was to be entirely suspended in Cincinnati, to-day—the business men intending to participate in working for Brough, the Union candidate for Governor.

JOHN B. FOSTER, postmaster at Ferrines, Mercer county, and his wife, have been arrested, on complaint of an agent of the Post Office Department, on a charge of opening letters.

Buy a House.—We would advise all persons who have secured permanent employment anywhere, and are opposed to "moving around," to buy a house and lot if they have not already done so.

Rent drains our cellar dry, and keeps our ladder lean—puts out our fire, and introduces hunger, frost and woe.

Who'll Bet on the Election?—A Rich Incident of Partisan Bravado and Official Pompousity. Many rich incidents in connection with the election occurred to-day, all of which would highly amuse our readers, but we can only find room for a single one.

As our friend George W. McCalla was leaving his residence for his place of business this morning, he was accosted by that mighty man, Mayor Rounfort, with the combined interrogation and declaration of,

"McCalla, if you know any damn fool or Abolitionist that wants to bet $500 send him to me, and after I have voted, I will make a wager with him."

Every button on the mighty Mayor's breeches felt the pressure as his Honor, the Mayor, swelled with the importance of his declaration and offer, Mr. McCalla passed on with the assurance that the bet offered by Rounfort would be taken. Accordingly, Mr. McCalla having found a man willing to risk $500 on our gallant candidate for Governor, when he met Rounfort again apprised him of the fact, assuring him that the money would be staked at any time he Rounfort was ready with his funds.

"You must bring your man to my house."

"Very good," responded McCalla, and passed on.

"Stop, McCalla!" shouted Rounfort, "Remember I am Mayor of the city, and if you bring any man to my house to bet, I will arrest him!"

Was there over a more ridiculous exhibition of partisan bravado and official pompousity, than this presented by Rounfort. He first begged of a desire to bet a certain amount of money, for the purpose of indulging the vanity which is fast devouring the poor old man, and when taken at his word, he assumes a mock official dignity to escape the responsibility of his own bravado.

A TESTIMONIAL TO BUSINESS INTEGRITY AND MANLY WORTH.—Yesterday afternoon a very interesting presentation took place at the residence of one of our best citizens, of a magnificent gold headed cane. The donors were Gen. Simon Cameron, William Colder and James Young. It was a gift solely designed to be private, and it is only to do justice to one of our clearest citizens that we have been permitted to refer to the proceedings.

General Cameron presented the cane with that facility of speech for which he is peculiar in such matters. He merely said that it was well for all men to have something to lean upon; whether it be the arm of affection, or a staff of oak, and therefore, in consideration of the many good qualities of his friend Thomas, he, and those with him, who had contributed to the manufacture of the beautiful gift, he was about to bestow upon him, deemed it best that he should have a staff for his old age, upon which he could lean, and upon which his children could look as the proof of their sire's good standing among men.

Mr. Thomas, in receiving the cane, merely thanked his old friends for this further proof of their esteem and their confidence. He had no tongue for specchifying; but he had a heart to feel, and while he lived he would ever remember the friends who thus honored him with their confidence and respect.

The cane was manufactured by Mr. William Brady, of this city, from a portion of the celebrated rebel ram, Merrimack. It is surmounted with a massive gold head, richly chased and elaborately carved. On the top of the head appears the inscription:

PRESENTED TO HENRY THOMAS By Simon Cameron, William Colder and James Young, as an evidence of their high appreciation in a large business transaction had with him.

The socket in which the staff is fitted is triangular in shape, on one side of which appears a locomotive, drawing a train of coal cars; on the second side an engraving of the Lykens Valley coal mines, with surrounding scenery, handsomely and graphically executed in miniature; while the third side represents Mr. Thomas himself, with gun in hand, and a dog standing on a covey of pheasants. In all our examination of this description of engraving, we have never seen a more beautifully executed series of engravings. They are life-like and graphic, and in the highest style of art.

We congratulate our friend Thomas on the sentiment of respect and confidence which accompanied this beautiful gift. The evidence of that feeling from such men as the donors is of more value than the intrinsic worth of the cane itself. And as such we know it is estimated by the donee.

After the presentation had taken place, the parties assembled partook of what was good for eating and liquids, separating well pleased with each other.

THE ELECTION is progressing quietly. The persons afflicted to vote have not yet attended to that important duty, let them go and vote at once.

POLICE AFFAIRS are dull. There was but one case of drunkenness before the Alderman this morning—John Harris, arrested by Officer Stock. Discharged.

Sam'l T. Buzzard and John R. Lynch, charged with burglary, on oath of David Basehore, were held in $500 each to appear at the next term of court.

IMPORTANT ARREST OF RAILROAD CONDUCTORS.—Alleged Embezzlement of Large Sums of Money.—Quite a sensation was created in this city, yesterday, by the arrest of several of the conductors on the Lebanon Valley and the Reading and Philadelphia railroads, charged with having, at several periods, while running their trains, embezzled large sums of money. Other arrests were made, at different points on the road, including baggage masters and conductors, who are all implicated in the same charge. It appears that the company have had in their employ a number of detectives, who have been traveling on the different trains, in coys., noting the number of passengers who were in the cars, the distances which they traveled, &c., and on the returns made by these detective officers, when they were compared with the returns made by the conductors themselves, the evidence of embezzlement is derived, and the arrests in question have been made.

We know nothing of the merits of the cases involved, but from what we can gather of the manner of making these arrests, we have no hesitation in declaring that a gross outrage is either committed on the parties arrested, or the company assumes judicial power not granted to it by its charter. For instance: A conductor is approached by some one of the high officials of the company, and in a confidential way, the conductor is informed that the President and Directors have reason to suspect that he (the conductor) is engaged in embezzling the funds of the railroad road. Before the conductor thus charged has time to offer a word of explanation, he is informed that he can save himself by refunding whatever he has stolen. If the party charged has any property, he is importuned to deliver it to the company, and thus by threatening the terrors of the law, and confronted by an awful charge, the conductors must either disgorge or resign themselves into the hands of a policeman. But in all this there is a great outrage committed by the representatives of the corporation in question. Railroad companies should remember that the community has rights to protect: as well as corporations, and that the company or individual attempting to compound a felony, becomes guilty of an offence equally as heinous in the sight of the law, as the offender in the first case. If these conductors have been guilty of stealing, let them be punished. In order to "make itself whole," no railroad company has the right to turn loose on the community a set of thieves to plunder the unprotected and the unsuspecting. We refer to this matter thus frankly, because we know some men who have been arrested in this instance, whom we believe, to be as strictly honest as either the Presidents or the Boards of Directors of the roads in question. With some of these there is no alternative. They must sink beneath the crushing force of such a blow, innocent of all crime, their families disgraced, and all to satisfy the suspicion of a mighty corporation. Against this we enter our solemn protest.
