HARRISBURG, PA.

Tuesday Evening, October 20, 1883.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

FOR SALE.—A Bay Mare will be sold cheap by applying to Edward Balthasar, at Mrs. Black's boarding house, on Third street, between Market and Walnut. [Oct 16 dtf]

THE PERSON who received in mistake on Saturday, Oct. 10th, a black frock coat (repaired) will please return it to Sayford's clothing store and get his own. 21c

A MEETING of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in their Reading Room this evening at 8 o'clock. Every member is cordially invited and requested to attend punctually. JOHN M. SAYFORD, Secy.

COURT.—The next term of court for this county will commence on Monday, the 16th day of November, and continue two weeks.

"BEHIND TIME."—The "Fast Lice" from the West, due here at 5 45 this morning, did not arrive until near eight. We have not learned the cause of the delay.

LOCAL ITEMS ARE SCARCE. We hope somebody will do something worthy of note. We would be pleased to serve up something startling to our local readers. Won't somebody give us an item?

RAILROAD DIVIDEND.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of five per cent on the Capital stock of said company, clear of National and State taxes—payable on and after November 15th.

ALTERED GREENBACKS.—Treasury notes altered from $1's to $10's, have been passed in Philadelphia. The alteration is effected by pasting "10" over the "1," but can be readily detected, as the ones have a portrait of Secretary Chase, and the tens a likeness of President Lincoln.

WOMAN DROWNED.—Mrs. Sarah Latta, daughter of Wm. Latta, of Allen township, Washington county, was drowned on Thursday of last week by falling into a well, while laboring under a temporary fit of lunacy. She was aged about forty-three years.

WATCHMAN KILLED.—On Saturday morning, John Johnston, a watchman employed by the Penn'a Railroad company, was found dead and horribly mangled, on the track, at the outer Depot, at Pittsburg. It is supposed he was knocked down by a passing train, which run over him.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On the 10th inst., the body of J. W. Hoffer, one of Adams Express messengers, was found below the bridge at Newark, Ohio. It is supposed that he must have stepped off the cars while the engine was taking in water at the tank just above the bridge, and must have fallen through. He belonged to Greencastle, Franklin county, Pa., and was about 23 years of age, and unmarried.

WE learn from our exchanges that in a number of places the barbers intend charging an advance on the regular rates of shaving, when they have to deal with Copperheads—owing to the extreme length of their faces, since the late election. We think the barbers of Harrisburg would find such a raise profitable. Some of our Cops. have had considerable added to the length of their frontispieces, since Tuesday of last week.

GOING UP THE VALLEY.—Prof. Lee, of Langhans Gas notoriety, whose amusing exhibitions have been attended by large and select audiences in this city, is about making a tour of the Cumberland Valley. He will exhibit in Carlisle, Chambersburg and other places. We take great pleasure in recommending him to the public wherever he may go. The most fastidious may attend these amusing yet harmless exhibitions. Prof. Lee will be accompanied by Haller, the wonderful magician, whose feats will astonish all who may witness them.

THE KISSERS OF SOME of the Lager Beer saloons in the First ward seem to be determined to wreak a revenge on all men who come within their power for having voted for Andrew G. Curfin. We are told that some of these keepers as aforesaid, are using their influence to have certain men expelled from different German societies, on the ground that they voted for a loyal man. We give such characters as these fair notice, that if the war is to be carried on in this manner, we will have a word to write in reference to the conduct of the saloon keepers in question, and invite them to a settlement that may involve a residence in the county prison for a few months. Men who are so open to attack, for violating the Sunday law and the liquor laws generally, should be careful how they proceed against their neighbors. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones. A word to the wise is sufficient.

POLICE AFFAIRS.—Before Alderman Kline.—There are but few police items to report. We are not prepared to account for the scarcity of arrests since Saturday. There may be a "change for the better" on the part of rum euckers, but there is no certainty in this direction. That rum-sellers have refused to supply the demand is also a doubtful case. Let the cause be what it may we hope the apparent "improvement" may continue, and that the lock-up may receive its occupants. The following cases were brought from the lock-up this morning: Clara Chapman, for vagrancy, was committed for five days. She was arrested by Officer Campbell. William Hoffman, arrested by Officer Kane, for drunkenness, was discharged. William Stewart, drunk and disorderly, was arrested by Officer Kane. He paid $1 fine and was discharged.

"The British Lion," With voice angry and rough, Growls the triumph of Bacon, While our copperheads tremble and quail: And while they are weeping, He holds for safe keeping, VALLANDIGHAM under his tail.

SALE OF BLOODED CATTLE.—Jacob E. Greybill, Esq., held a sale on his farm near Marietta, Pa., on the 15th inst., at which he sold some of the very best breeds of blooded cattle. The Columbia Spy says:

The prices of the cows ranged from $40 to $100 per head. The bulls brought from $50 to $130 per head. John P. Stamen bought the splendid bull "Second Liberator" for $106—his equal is perhaps not to be found in the county; also a splendid heifer "Garland" for $70—The young bull "Gladstone" sold for $125. John Homer, G. W. M. Hatley bought the bull "Brigadier" for $50, and a cow "Isabel" for $70.

RAID.—The term "raid," now so frequently used, is not an Americanism, as has been supposed; but is a word of British origin, having the sanction of Sir Walter Scott. In his boat song in the Lady of the Lake occurs the following couplet:

"Widow and Saxon maid
Loag shall lament our raid."

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—Child Burned to Death.—On Monday evening, 12th inst., about 9 o'clock, a little girl aged three years, daughter of Mr. Nathaniel Weigle, residing on Beaver street in the borough of York, was burned to death. She had been put to bed a short time previous, and a lighted lamp left in the room, the flames from which communicated with the bed clothing. The fact was not discovered until the smell of the burning bed clothes attracted the attention of Mrs. Weigle. When she entered the room the child was dead, having been horribly burned about the body. The immediate cause of her death, however, is thought to have been suffocation from the thick volume of smoke which filled the room.

FUGITIVITY IN SCHOOLS.—Nothing is of greater importance in any kind of business than promptness and punctuality. An hour, or even a few minutes, lost in the morning or at the commencement of an important exercise, is a loss not easily estimated. Many parents hardly seem to realize the importance of this truth.—Children are detained from school in the morning and at other times, without reference to the arrangement of classes and lessons. A pupil should never be kept from school, without the parent or guardian understands the specific work required of him, at specified hours, by the teacher. We are glad to learn that particular attention is being paid to punctuality in our schools, and that every proper means adopted to secure it.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—The Northern Pennsylvanian, published at Susquehanna Depot, Pa., gives the following account of a very singular yet fatal accident, which occurred in that vicinity: "On Wednesday of last week, Ogden Weed, a man of about 60 years of age, fell off the bank of the Susquehanna and lodged between the limbs of a tree, and there was suspended, singular to relate, by the head until he expired. This is one of the most remarkable accidents on record. Being suspended by the head, the limbs of the tree holding it as in a vice, it was impossible for him to extricate himself, and help did not reach him in time to be of avail. Thus he perished like a culprit on the gallows, though his execution was accidental.

LIFE IN OLD TIMES.—The Antediluvians must have had a good time, compared with life of the present day. Just think of it, living four and six hundred years. We do not understand how people got along with it who were sent to the penitentiary for life, or how they could stand it so long if their whisky was as bad as ours is. Dyspeptics too must have had a tough time of it, especially after the disease had become chronic by a hundred years' standing. Dentists we suppose made money in those days, for people had time to wear out several sets of false teeth. Quick consumption must have been tedious, and they doubtless had some peculiar way of preserving the age of their unmarried ladies. A maiden lady five hundred years old, for instance, would not "seem well." And then the idea of balancing one's books once in two or three hundred years! We presume that the butter and cheese and steak which is now served up at boarding houses is some of the productions of these old people. It would not do for the people of the present time to live as long as the folks of before the flood. We would become so bulky from the use of lager as to step up all the moisture of the earth and sea, or so thin from dissipation as to be mistaken for ghosts!

PENNSYLVANIANS KILLED AND WOUNDED.—The following Pennsylvanians were killed and wounded in the fight at Bristol Station, Va., on Wednesday last:

NEW YORK SEWING CLUBS.—New York appears to me to be a city in their efforts to secure an increase of wages. The umbrella sewers of that city recently struck for an advance of two cents per umbrella, but they met with so little encouragement from their employers that they endeavored to effect a compromise by reducing their demand to one cent. But even in this they did not succeed, and all were obliged to return to their work except a few who still hold out.

THE GREAT EASTERN has been seized under an Admiralty warrant by the owners of the ship Jane, which vessel she ran down off the Irish coast. It is rumored that the Cunard Company propose to purchase the Great Eastern to convey coal to various ports for their vessels. A general meeting of shareholders was held in London on the 23d, and the proposition referred to a committee, with instructions to report in ten days.

CHICKAMAUGA, as it has been generally pronounced since the river became historically famous, is harsh and unsmooth. Some writers give it a softer intonation, and call it Chokamaya.

It is stated that Judge Advocate General Holt's review of the evidence in the investigation of the evacuation of Winchester by General Milroy, entirely exonerates that officer from blame.

THE FALLING LEAVES.—The falling of the leaves, and indications generally of the changing season, reminds us that prudence, guided by the experience of the past, would suggest the advantage of providing against the coming winter. Prudence generally advances as the weather becomes cold, and the unsettled condition of our country at this time makes room for the opinion that dry goods will run up to very high prices. Now is the time, then, to supply your wants from the large stock of seasonal dry goods, at the cheap store of O. L. Bowman, No. 1, corner of Market and Front streets.
