We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:" PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messra. Jones & Evans :- Well, gentlemen cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain B. B. Ayers. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attecked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then remov-ed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one that time I have been about as now as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swal low anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

It was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread archer, fiankly told me they could do no dread aroner, namely total me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch street, advised me, as a forlora hope, to try your bitters, and kind-ly procured a bottle. From the time I com-menced taking them the gloomy shadew of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel anguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a daughter, from the vicinity of Front he has purchased the interest of David Brady, and will now use greater exertions to please his customers and all who may favor him with a call, with the choicest of CAKES, and the best BREAD that clean, careful and experi-
