A letter written by a Rev. T. V. Moors, for-meily a dergyman of Chambersburg, but now a rebel in Biomond, and in which it was stated that the Union prisoners in Bichmond were kindly treated, has been extensively published This letter was noticed by the Rev. George H. Hammer, Chaplain of the 12th Pennsylvania cavalry, who has been a prisoner to Richmond for some four months, and he takes issue with Mr. Moore in rather unequivocal terms. In a letterio: the Newville Star, dated at that place, he says: 'I have just been shown a letter purporting to have been written by Rev. Thomas V. I cannot expre NONE OTHERS ARE GENUINE; surprise at such a statement so false in fact and particulars as the one alluded to. Bev. Moore, if he has visited the prisoners, (as he says he has done;) knows better, and states with de-liberation a malicious falsehood. He knows that our prisoners there are treated like brutes, and not as human beings. He knows that our citizen prisoners are dirty, almost naked, their heads, bodies and clothes filled with vermin that at no time since their capture have they received of the authorities sufficient food, even of very poor quality, to supply their physical wants. He knows they are confined along with deserters from both armics, and that their con dition is deplorable beyond expression—all this he knows, must know, and were it not on a par with all other rebel statements, I should be surprised at its audacity and falsehood, as coming from a minister of the gospel. The Attorney General tells us that the American division was in general danger of a surprise to act when the division was in general danger of a surprise at Winchester; that it was of no service there commensurate with the risk it incurred, and it ought to be withdrawn. But, atthough he never positively ordered it. Gen. Schenck on the contrary, believed the service of the force at Winchester was worth the hazard, and so did not positively order its withdrawal until it was so late that the enemy cut the wire and prevented the order reaching in contact with him, and his departure is much regretted by the whole command. Capt. E. P. Zinn, of the Seventh Reserves, has taken the command vacated by Capt. Looser. Capt. Zinn is an old resident of this county. He went into the service as a private soldier, and with an indomitable will, coupled with indisputable that the force should be kept as Winchester, at least till the approach of danger; but he diso beyed no order upon the subject.
