REPORT OF NOTIFYING COMMITTEE

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a report on behalf of the committee appointed to call upon the Governor to inform him (in conjunction with a similar committee from the Senate if such committee should be appointed) of the organization of the Legislature. Having received no information of any committee having been appointed by the Senate, our information is merely conditional. We called upon the Governor this morning in con-junction with a member from the Senate, and informed him that the Tegislature, as we understand it, is organized; and the Governor instructed us to sar to the Legislature that he would communicate to both branches of the Legislature at half past eleven o'clock to day.

Mr. BIGHAM, on leave given, presented a petition of qualified electors of Armstrong county, contesting the right of John B. Chambers to a seat in the House of Representatives as a member from that county.

The petition was laid on the table Mr. BIGHAM also presented the following resolution, which was twice read and adopted:

Resolved, That the House will proceed, on Tuesday next, the 12th inst., at 12 o'clock, M., to the election of a committee to investigate and try the contested election in the case of John B. Chambers, now a sitting member of this House from the county of Armstrong. WEEKLY ADJOURNMENTS.

Mr. M'CLELLAN offered the following reso

Resolved, That Rule 60 of the Rules of the House be struck out, and the following in-

That the House adjourn on Friday of each week, in the months of January and February, until half-past seven o'clock, P. M., of the succeeding Monday, except the third Monday in January, when the House shall meet at eleven Mr. SCHOFIELD. The third Monday of January is the day fixed by law for the election of State Treasurer; is it not?

Mr. M'CLELLAN. Yes, sir.
The SPEAKER. The resolution will lie over one day under the rules.
Mr. M'CLELLAN. I move that the rule. requiring resolutions of this nature to lie over one day be suspended, and that we proceed now to the consideration of this resolution.

till Monday. I suppose the gentleman will not object to allowing the resolution to lie over till Monday. We do not want a session to morrow.

Mr. M'CLELLAN. It strikes me we can adjourn over as readily under this amended rule as under the existing rule, because the latter provides only for an adjournment over on every alternate Friday.

The SPEAKER. A simple resolution author izes an adjournment, and so far as that is con-cerned, it is not necessary that the resolution should be passed to-day. I would suggest to members, in regard to amendments of the rules of this House, that they should be approached with care, and that the hasty suspension of the orders for the purpose of amending the rules may at thines be attended with harm. Now, there is a question in connection with this yery proposition as to whether it may not conflict with betain appointments for elections that what is a support of the production of the pro pointments for elections that are devolved by the Constitution upon both branches; and, that matter ought to be investigated before the House proceed to the adoption of this resolu-

I would therefore suggest to the gentleman, if he has no objection; to let it lie over.

Mr. JACKSON. I move that the further consideration of this subject be postponed for

The SPEAKER. I understand that the gentleman from Chester withdraws his metion for the suspension of the rules.

Mr. M'CLELLAN. Yes, sir. The SPEAKER. The resolution, therefore, lies over without any postponement. ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. COLEMAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read;

Resolved, That the Clerk be directed to procure adequate accommodations for the standing experienced the great inconvenience under which the committees labored from the lack of which the committees labored from the lack or sufficient accommodations. Very frequently, agreed to.

The resolution, as modified by the acceptance of Mr. Oliverrap's amendment, was adopted. for the library rooms, which were the only rooms offered to us last winter to accommodate great inconvenience on this account. It is possible, though not probable, that sufficient accommodations can be found in the public buildings. If so, we should be put to no expense; but if not, I think that the expense of renting rooms, if suitable rooms can be procured is an accommodation of the public will adjourn to meet again on Monday next at Mr. QUIGLEY. We have, I think, a sufficient number of Doorkeepers to spare one of them to attend to those rooms if we are obliged to rent them; so that no increase in the number of officers of the House will be necessary.

The resolution was adopted.

LEGISLATIVE MANUAL AND PURDON'S DIGIST. Mr. ALLEMAN offered the following resolution, which was read the first and second time: Resolved, That the Clerk of the House is hereby instructed to purchase for the Governor, the Heads of Departments, each member and the Heads of Departments, each measurer and Chief Clerk of the House, a copy each of Sutherland's Manual and Purdon's Digest.

Mr. LEE. I move to amend the resolution by striking out "Sutherland's," and inserting

'Zeigler's.''
Mr. ALLEMAN. I accept the gentleman's amendment. Mr. BOYEB. I desire to inquire whether it is customary for us to purchase these volumes for the Governor and Heads of Departments I do not think such has been the practice.— The Senate and House have control of their own bodies, and it is right enough that they should pass resolutions for the purchase of such books as members may require; but this thing of mirchasing books for other departments of the are required, is, I think, entirely out of place. I therefore move to amend the resolution by striking out "Governor and Heads of Depart-

Mr. HOPKINS. I think that the resolution to authorize the purchase of these books must be a joint resolution.

The SPEAKER. It must be in the nature of s joint resolution in order to make an appro-

Mr. HOPKINS. I do not think the resoluion is in that form. It is a simple resolution; it is not a joint resolution. It should be amended so as to make it a joint resolution.

Mr. PERSHING. As I understand the mendment proposing to limit the distribution of these books to new members has been with Mr. WELLS. No, sir; it has not been withdrawn.

Mr. PERSHING. Well, sir, I did not desire to say anything on that amendment, but merely to make a suggestion in regard to the esolution itself.

I understand that there is a new edition of Ziegler's Manual now in press. The edition which we had last winter was the old edition, published perhaps eight or nine years ago. The new edition which is in press will not, as I understand, be ready for delivery for a few weeks yet. I suppose the understanding is that we are to have the new edition—not the old one.

Several members. Ceatainly. Mr. HOPKINS. I move to amend the title so as to read, "Joint Resolution relative to the purchase of Purdon's Digest and Ziegler's Manual.

The SPEAKER. I would remark that the Palladelphia, (Mr. Hopkins,) in reference to the form of the resolution is proper and well taken. The proposition must be in the nature of a joint resolution or bill in order to make an appropriation. Being in that form, the Chair might perhaps rule it out of order. The House may have the right to pass a resolution of this kind but it will be inoperative. An appropriation of money cannot be made by a simple resolution of the House.

Mr. BIGHAM. Does the Speaker rule this resolution out of order on that account?

The SPEAKER No, sir; I declare it inperative, and so suggest to the House. But the House has a right to pass the resolution.

Mr. BIGHAM: I was going to say that there is no telling when we may get these books, if we must depend on a joint resolution. The SPEAKER I would suggest that the gentleman from Dauphin have leave, by general concent, to withdraw the resolution in its present form, so that it may be off red as a joint resolution or a bill in place.

Mr. BIGHAM. That was the very thing I desired to avoid. I think we can get along without that. If these books are of value at Mr. QUIGLEY, I trust not. I think it is all, we shall possibly refer to them more before customary for the House to adjourn over to day the Senate is organized than afterward. If the proposition is put in the form of a joint resolu-tion, it may take away half of the value of these books.

I think there is no difficulty. The old usage I know, was that each House acted for itself, and in that I think there is no constitutiona difficulty. There has been, however, I believe (I'am not certain) some legislation directing the contrary and the practice for the last half dozen years has been to adopt a joint resolution for this purpose. Still I feel quite confident that the old usage is not liable to any sound objection. But I should not object to accomplishing the about his total the contract of the confident that the old usage is not liable to any sound objection. olishing the object by a joint resolution, were it not for the fact that the Senate is unorganized, and there is no telling when we may get these books if we depend on a joint resolution.
