

The Inauguration of Governor Curtin.

The second inauguration of Andrew G. Curtin will take place in the State Capitol on Tuesday next week, January 19. Within a period of fifteen years, the inauguration of A. G. Curtin, on the 19th inst., will be the first time of the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, entering on a second term of the duties of the Executive office.

The arrangements for the re-inauguration of Andrew G. Curtin are of a character to make the proceedings fitting of the man and the occasion. It is anticipated that a splendid display of military and civic associations will be made, and that large masses of loyal men from all portions of the Commonwealth will be present to do honor to the ceremonies.

The State Treasurer's Report.

We print the State Treasurer's Report this afternoon. In calling attention to this document, we desire to point the reader to the fact that the Treasurer differs with the Governor on the subject of paying the State interest, insisting that the interest should and can only be paid in coin.

We cannot refrain from believing that Mr. M'Grath indulged in this suggestion in order to give the national currency a blow. We are willing to admit his financial ability and the faithfulness with which he has ordinarily discharged his duty, but in his suggestion with reference to paying the interest on the State debt, he suffered his partisan zeal to cloud his otherwise clear perceptions of what is due to the Commonwealth whose interests he has sworn to defend.

A Change in Provost-Marshal-General.

It has long been a question of serious importance, whether the selection of Col. Bumford, as Provost Marshal of the State, was made a point to insult loyal men or favorably effect the implacable treason sympathizers who curse the State Capital with their presence.

We have casually learned that Col. Bumford has been ordered to report elsewhere, and is consequently relieved of duty in this State. We trust that this is true; and if it is really the fact, we congratulate the country and the Provost-Marshal General on the importance of the change. It will satisfy every one in the city of Harrisburg and all over Pennsylvania, except those who will be placed in danger of losing their clerkships.

A LAW has been passed in the rebel Senate to limit the term of office for the Cabinet Ministers to two years, when they may be re-nominated by the President, and confirmed or rejected by the Senate.

Would a Division of the Officers in the Organization of the Senate Satisfy the Minority?

The Senators representing the minority in the Senate have offered to enter on an organization of that body, provided that those representing the majority concede to them a full share of the officers of the Senate. After having shared the patronage of the Senate, after having wrested from the majority the right to organize that body, we submit the question to candid men, whether such a division would satisfy the minority now obstructing and retarding the progress of public business.

The majority in the Senate need no encouragement from us to render them firm in their resistance of the revolutionary scheme of the minority. That majority will not yield a single officer of the Senate, because by so doing the very reputation of the Commonwealth, and the principle upon which we hope to exist hereafter as a State, would be placed in jeopardy if not destroyed.

Gen. Rosecrans' Report of the Chickamauga Campaign.

We have just received, through the politeness of a friend, Maj. Gen. Rosecrans' report of the Chickamauga campaign. The immense length of the document, as well as the fact that its main statements have already found their way into our columns through our regular telegraph reports of the events of the war, debar us from giving it in full to our readers.

LET CONGRESS LOOK WELL TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LET CONGRESS LOOK WELL TO THE NEW YORK HERALD, and every loyal Senator and Representative carefully guard his honor and his pocket, as Bennett evidently has some designs upon that body, from the fact that he is applauding its actions. The old dog, Bennett, is after no good. He has done his adopted country more harm than any other rascal enjoying its benefits and its privileges, so that of all mean fellows in the country, he is least to be trusted.

THE DAILY NEWS.—We had almost forgotten to notice that The Philadelphia Daily News had increased its dimensions and donned a clean suit of new type within a fortnight.

A MERITED COMPLIMENT.—The publishers of the Baltimore Clipper have been designated by both branches of the Maryland Legislature as Printers to that body for the present term. This is a deserved and a worthy compliment, because the Clipper steadily supported the Government through all the dark trials it was forced to pass within the last three years.

The Late Major O. W. Sees.

In a cable report to the Governor, Col. M. S. Quay, Chief of Telegraphing and Transportation, thus fitly alludes to his predecessor, the late Maj. O. W. Sees:

"The United States having assumed the expense of transportation, Maj. Sees was placed temporarily in their service, and assigned a position upon the staff of Maj. Gen. Couch, commanding the Department of the Susquehanna. He was followed by Gen. Couch, at his own request, on the 7th of July, and was immediately afterwards ordered to Gettysburg by you to look after our dead and wounded."

The extraordinary labors he found necessary during this period, extending at times through successive days and nights, with the exposure and fatigue sustained at Gettysburg, undoubtedly produced the illness through which your administration lost a faithful and competent officer, and his family a husband and father who was their only support."

—We think that the State is under obligations to the family of Maj. Sees, and for the services that he rendered, by which he lost his life, a grateful people would justify their representatives in any generosity which they might exercise towards the widow and the orphans of the gallant dead. We trust that this act of simple justice will be among the first of the proceedings of the Legislature when its business is allowed fairly to progress.

In the Southern States the only divisions of the day by which the people grieve their business or social engagements, are morning, noon, and evening; the one reaching from midnight to noon, the other from noon to midnight. In view of the frequent embarrassments which arise from the use of such division, the Louisville Journal urges the recognition of the morning as the part of the day which is included between sunrise and 9 o'clock A. M. The forenoon from 9 A. M. to 12 M. Noon at 12, or immediately contiguous to that hour of the day. Afternoon from the hour of noon to 5 P. M. Evening from 5 to 7 P. M., and night from 7 P. M. to midnight.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF N. C. VOLUNTEERS.

Arrest and Release of a Loyal Citizen.

REBEL RANKS BROOMING DEPLETED.

Celebration by the Colored People.

NEWSPAPER, Jan. 7.

The 2d regiment of North Carolina volunteers is rapidly organizing at the headquarters at Beaufort.

Perry Carter, a prominent Union citizen of Murfreesborough, was arrested a few days ago by Confederate soldiers, and sent to Weldon, charged with treasonable correspondence with the public enemy. So great was the indignation excited by this new outrage upon the rights and liberties of citizens that Carter was immediately released and returned to his home at Murfreesborough. Carter is the father-in-law of Charles Henry Foster.

While the various rebel commands near our lines are fast becoming depleted by desertion, it is a remarkable fact that the 1st North Carolina regiment, so far, has lost but one man by desertion, and the 2d regiment not one.

The 1st of January was celebrated by the colored people of Eastern North Carolina with imposing ceremonies at Sanford. The united melodies of freedmen of African descent were largely represented. An eloquent oration was delivered by A. H. Galloway. Resolutions were passed in which strong grounds were taken in favor of negro suffrage in the re-organization of the State Government in North Carolina.

Col. M'Chesney, of the 1st North Carolina Union Volunteers, is complimented in the publication of Gen. Cook, for heroic conduct in the recent Greenville engagement.

XXXVIII Congress—First Session

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.

Mr. Washburne (Ills.) presented a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the expediency of amending the act of 1790 in regard to the admission of vessels and of a law for the punishment of masters and owners for changing the names of their vessels, and similar fraudulent practices; also as amending other acts on the same subject.

Mr. Wilson, (Iowa), from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill to change the places for holding the Circuit and District Courts, in West Tennessee. The bill was passed. Also a bill defining the jurisdiction of the Court Claims. Mr. Wilson said there was some danger of the Court assuming to act upon claims for the property destroyed or appropriated by the military or naval authorities during the present war. This bill is to restrain them from acting on such subjects, reserving those matters for the future consideration of Congress.

The Chesapeake Pirate Case.

HALIFAX, Jan. 12.

The Wade rescue case was closed last night. Several witnesses for the defence were examined, but their evidence did not shake the evidence of the policemen, from whom Wade was rescued when arrested for participating in the piracy on board the Chesapeake.

Almon, for himself and colleague, gave a lengthy version of the affair, full of ridicule of the Yankees and abuse of the American telegraph. The main features of the case, the Mayor said, must be governed by the law, and he therefore had decided to hand the propositions over to the crown officers.

The prisoners were ordered to appear on Wednesday and give bail for their appearance before the Supreme Court.

U. S. Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.

The U. S. Supreme Court in two cases against the city of Dubuque has reversed the judgment of the District court of Iowa and remanded the case for further proceedings, in conformity with the opinion of the Supreme Court.

The suits involved the question of the constitutionality and legality to issue municipal bonds for railroad purposes.

In a case against the city of Madison, Indiana, the issue being as to the legal authority to issue bonds with coupons attached, the judgment of the district court was reversed, and the case remanded for proceedings in conformity with the opinion of the Supreme Court.

Rebel Boasting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.

The Herald contains interesting rebel news to December 21st, which states that Longstreet's forces are with Lee, and that the latter has matured and is about to consummate a series of movements, and albeit bloody battles too. The writer says the day cannot be far off when we shall embrace each other in Maryland, on the old homestead—in Baltimore, beneath the victorious cross of the free and recognized South.
