HARRISBURG, PA.
Friday Evening, January 15, 1864.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

A splendid assortment of Looking Glass Frames has just been received at Knoche's, 93 Market street.

Col. Montgomery lectures in Carlisle this evening.

LOOK HERE, EVERYBODY!—Market will open at eight o'clock, to-morrow morning. Let everybody remember the fact.

MILKMAKERS of all styles and varieties, the best in market, at the lowest prices, can be found at Knoche's Music Store.

The Lebanon county man killed on the Pennsylvania railroad, this side of Pittsburg, on Wednesday, was John Carper, merchant, of South Annville.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the Mount Vernon Hook and Ladder Company will be held this evening, at 8 o'clock, at the residence of the President, No. 15 Market street. By order.

DYSPEPSIA and diseases resulting from disorders of the Liver and digestive organs are cured by Kunkel's famous Bitter Wine of Iron, 118 Market street, Harrisburg.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We learn that on Sunday last, Jacob Niskey, late of Frankford township, Cumberland county, died very suddenly at the Carlisle Barracks. He had recently enlisted in the Army of the United States.

The Friendship Fire Company, at their meeting held last evening, accepted an invitation to participate in the inauguration of Governor Curtin, on Tuesday next. We presume our fire companies will all turn out on that occasion.

ATTENTION, "HYRES."—A special meeting of the Hope Fire Company will be held at their hall this (Friday) evening, at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance is desirable, as business of importance will be transacted. By order.

KUNKEL'S BITTER WINE OF IRON will cure every case of chronic or nervous debility, diseases of the kidneys, and diseases arising from a disordered stomach. The best tonic in the world. Try it! 118 Market street, Harrisburg.

We observe that the U. S. Senate has passed an amendment to the conscription act, exempting clergymen from the draft.

The same action of the Senate exempts non-combatants, such as Quakers, Mennonites, and all others opposed to entering the service on account of religious scruples.

VERY CREDITABLE TO THE LEGISLATURE.—A lady, upon returning from the Hall of the House of Representatives last evening, related the incident of the falling of a man in the dense audience. "Perhaps he was drunk," suggested a listener. "Oh, no!" replied the lady, evidently shocked at the atrocity of such a supposition—"I think it was a MEMBER!"

HEAVY ROBBERY.—We learn from the Pittsburg Gazette that a gentleman from Ohio, by the name of A. R. McCown, on his way East, was robbed of $85,000 at the Orphans' Fair in that city—the money having been extracted from the inside pocket of his dress coat, and consisting of sixteen $1,000, eighteen $500, eight $100 and forty $50 notes.

JOHN MILLER, of the 149th Pennsylvania Regiment, who had the bones of his left leg crushed at the time of the accident on the N. C. R. R., on Tuesday afternoon, belonged to Lebanon county. He died a few hours after the accident, and his body has been sent home for interment. He was one of a military guard escorting a lot of stragglers to the army. So says the Baltimore American.

MONDAY EVENING next is the time set apart for the grand Military and Citizens' Dress Ball, to be given in Brant's Hall. The managers are at work perfecting the arrangements so that everything will be complete that can add to the comfort and enjoyment of those who attend. We invite attention to the advertisement, in which will be found the list of floor managers, &c.

PROMOTED.—We are glad to notice the promotion of Sergeant Isaac B. O'Connor, late of Co. I, 20th Pa. Cavalry, to be 1st Lieutenant and Adjutant of the same regiment, which is now entering the three years' service. Adjutant O'Connor was a correspondent of ours from the Department of Western Virginia, and when the gallant 20th once more takes the field we look for many able productions of his pen.

We understand that this regiment has enlisted already over 500 men.

BENEFIT OF MISS SALLIE HOLMAN.—This evening has been set apart for a benefit to this charming young lady, who, since her short stay in our midst, has made many friends and admirers amongst our citizens, and by her careful and magnificent rendering of the many difficult roles she has undertaken, has shown that she fully deserves all the fame and renown which the citizens of Harrisburg will not let this opportunity pass of showing how much her efforts to please are appreciated, but will crowd the house to its utmost capacity. The Opera selected is Balfe's grand "Bohemian Girl," which is peculiarly adapted to her, and which was so enthusiastically received on the opening night of the Troupe. Secure your seats at Knoche's and let there be a grand turnout.

THE INAUGURATION BALL.—The arrangements for this affair are now all complete, and from the list of managers, we have no doubt that the ball will be a success. It is the first time in many years, that a Governor of Pennsylvania has filled two terms, and hence it is the desire of the managers to make this occasion particularly grand, as the ball will be in honor of the second inauguration of Andrew G. Curtin. Tickets can be had of any of the managers.

EAST WORK FOR A SOLDIER WHEN FIGHTING MEN ARE WANTED IN THE FIELD.—The cry is now heard in almost all parts of the Union, that soldiers are wanted in the field. In view of this fact, we have just heard of a soldier having a light duty to perform in this city. It is to this effect: An officer in the army at this post, uses his orderly to carry his skates to the skating pond, and when there the orderly is compelled to place the skates on his superior! What do the people think of this? Is this the way to make heroes of soldiers, or slaves of men? And does the Government enlist her children for no better labor? Who can answer?

THE VOICE OF A REPENTANT REBEL IN THE CAPITAL OF PENNSYLVANIA.—Speeches of Brig. Gen. Gantt and Col. Montgomery.—The House of Representatives was crowded last evening with a very intelligent audience, to hear the speech of Brig. Gen. Gantt, of Arkansas, late of the rebel army, and who was lately pardoned by a special proclamation of the President, after having taken the oath of allegiance. The remarks of Brig. Gen. Gantt were principally confined to, first, the unprovoked injustice of rebellion; and second, the folly of attempting to destroy the purest and most beneficent Government on the face of the earth. He showed that the rebellion was the result of a desire for power on the part of the politicians of the South—that the wrongs alleged to have been done to slavery, were made the pretext to assault the Government and destroy the Union—and that the scheme of secession was as old as slavery itself, as the upholders of that institution never freely and honestly recognized the power of the Federal Government. He claimed that it was the aggression of the slave power which induced the people of the South to revolt. It was not for that which slavery had lost, but that which its upholders could not achieve in the Union, which roused them to revolt for the overthrow of the Government. The Government had faithfully discharged all its obligations to that institution. Every law in its favor had been conscientiously enforced—every compromise in its behalf was tenaciously maintained—but even while this was the course of the Government, the slaveholders could not shut their eyes to the fact that the progress and prosperity of the free must eventually overshadow the slave States—and hence the rebellion was a revolt not urged by a real wrong, but an outbreak to overthrow the good and glory which traitors had no hope of ever equaling or equalling. This made the rebellion unprovoked—devilish—wicked and bloody. And now its folly was seen in its failure. No effort of any of the States could ever succeed in destroying the American Union. A dozen churches might as well attempt to destroy the religion of God, as a dozen States essay the destruction of the American Government. The principles of freedom, which form the basis of this Government, are as eternal as time itself. They might be improved for the better security of the happiness and peace of the people, but they never could be changed for the worse. This opinion is fast taking hold of the people of the South. They have felt the evil of rebellion—they are now discovering its unprovoked atrocity and injustice, while the folly of attempting to destroy a Government like ours was impressing itself upon the minds of the people, from the highest to the lowest. In alluding to the action of the Democracy, and their efforts to compromise with the rebels, General Gantt said the day had gone by for that—the rebels would compromise with the most rabid Abolitionist rather than enter on a settlement with the Democracy. And why? Because the Democracy had deceived the South. The rebellion would not have been precipitated when it was had not the Democratic leaders promised to aid the traitors in their revolutionary efforts. And what was the aid sent? Let the blue uniforms and the bright bayonets of the Federal soldiers, now converging as they march into the South, answer for the aid which the Democracy promised to send. The same leaders had also confidentially assured the South that the business and the currency of the North would become a wreck. But what were the facts? Instead of confusion, General Gantt said he found order and prosperity all over the North, the sure indications that the Government had a hold upon the people which nothing could shake. General Gantt made statements of facts and figures, which we cannot repeat in this sketch, but which had a most telling effect upon his audience. His remarks were listened to throughout with great attention, and were frequently also interrupted with the most enthusiastic applause.

Col. Montgomery, editor of the Vicksburg Whig, followed Gen. Gantt. He confined himself principally in allusions to the effect which the efforts of Northern sympathizers had upon the efforts of the Southern traitors. In allusion to the attitude of the factionists in the State Senate, he declared that their position was of more importance to the rebel cause, than if every copperhead Senator led a rebel brigade against the National Government. The South accepted such conduct as the assurance that the North was divided, and while there was hope in such a direction, the South would continue the fight. In this strain the gallant Colonel continued to speak, denouncing all sympathy for treason, and characterizing all who opposed the operation of the Government, whether by factious conduct in legislative bodies, or actual fighting in the field, as traitors.

No two men ever made a more favorable impression upon the people, than that which was made by these two sons of the South, in the Hall of the House last evening. Their speeches struck terror to our local rebels and will awaken a new joy in the hearts of those who have been loyal to the Government during all its perils.

"Gonna Up"—The sleighing.

Those who want to invest in the five-week tickets must be in a hurry about it, as they will soon all be disposed of, and when the government shall have no more to sell they will soon command a premium.

CITIZEN FIRE COMPANY.—A meeting of the Citizen Fire Company will be held in their hall, this evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock, to make arrangements for participating in the exercises of inauguration day. A full attendance is requested.

NOTICE.—A special meeting of the Paston Fire Company will be held at their hall, on Saturday evening, January 16, at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested of every member, as business relative to participating in the inauguration will be transacted.

The minister who married Zilac Morgan (now confined in our prison on a charge of bigamy) and Miss Lauer, informs us that they were married in the early part of last summer, instead of September, as stated yesterday. We obtained our information from the officer who committed Morgan.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.—Counterfeit money is now so plenty that in almost every payment, in small change, there is apt to be some bogus specimens among it. There seems to be a large quantity of counterfeit postage currency in circulation, and when the paper becomes defaced it requires the most expert judges to detect it.

HAYANA CIGARS.—C. A. Bannard & Co. have now in store the best and largest assortment of imported cigars ever brought to this market, to which they invite the attention of smokers. They will be happy to show to all who may favor them with a visit the various brands, and feel confident that their stock cannot be equalled. Remember the place—drug store under Jones House.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last, Mr. Samuel Leivy, of Millcreek township, Lebanon county, while engaged in hulling cloverseed, attempted to adjust the strap on the pulley of the cylinder, when he was caught by the strap, and had his left arm, terribly mangled. His head was also badly injured by a fall upon the floor. He died shortly after the accident.

THAT SUPPOSED HOMICIDE.—As we went to press yesterday the report was current that Mr. Harmer, who was stabbed in the affray at the depot, was dead. We are pleased to state that the rumor was incorrect, and it is said that Harmer is in a fair way to recover. He did not prosecute those engaged in the fight, consequently they were discharged. Thus ends what was supposed to be a case of homicide.

SUDDEN DEATHS IN HOLIDAY TRAVEL.—Lloyd, eldest son of Mr. James Stewart, engineer, died very suddenly, on the 9th inst. He was in apparent good health on Friday evening on retiring to bed, but took sick during the night, and died on Saturday morning, at 7 o'clock.

Another.—Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. John Mahoney, was in her usual good health on Sunday last, but died during Sunday night.

THE PENALTY FOR REFUSING TO VOTE FOR WOODWARD.—The Clearfield Business Journal, of this week gives the following account of an outrage that was perpetrated in that neighborhood:

We have been reliably informed that on Thursday evening last, a Mr. Starr, of Curwensville, who was living in a rented house, had his household goods thrown into the street by order of the owner. A cradle, in which was lying an infant child, was carried out and set into the snow in the street gutter, and but for the timely arrival of a kind-hearted neighbor, who assisted the woman to his house, she too would have been turned into the street, although she had been confined but a week or two previously. The weather was exceedingly cold at the time. The reason assigned for this outrage, it is said, was the refusal of Mr. S. to vote for Woodward at the last fall election. We withhold the names of the parties concerned in this inhuman procedure, as we understand that legal proceedings have been instituted against them, when the facts in the case will be fully developed.

The inauguration of Gov. Curtin promises to be a grand affair. Extensive preparations are being made for an imposing display. The Legislative committee of arrangements have issued the following general invitation:

STATE CAPITOL, HARRISBURG, Jan. 14, 1864.
Officers of the regular army, volunteer officers, soldiers on furlough, together with the various military organizations, in the State of Pennsylvania, are respectfully invited to participate in the inaugural ceremonies of Governor Andrew G. Curtin, at Harrisburg, on Tuesday, the 19th instant. The various organizations will be good enough to signify their acceptance to the chairman of the committee as early as possible, so that the necessary and satisfactory arrangements can be made accordingly. They will report to Major General Couch, who will be chief in command.

Excursion tickets will be issued on all the leading railroads in the State.

H. M. ALLEMAN,
W. F. SMITH,
GEORGE D. JACKSON,
Legislative Committee of Arrangements.

The Legislative committee extended an invitation to Major General D. N. Couch, to act as Commander in Chief on the occasion. The General has signified his acceptance of the invitation.

Ex-Mayor W. H. Kepner has been selected as Chief Marshal for the occasion, and has consented to act in that capacity.

NEW BAKERY.—Mr. John Alcorn announces that he has opened a new bakery, on Broad street, between Second and Third street, West Harrisburg, where he is prepared to supply bread and cakes at reasonable rates. Mr. Alcorn is an old and experienced baker, and was for a number of years superintendent of one of the largest bakeries in this city. He is now selling his bread by weight at the rate of five cents per pound. Persons in want of good bread and wish to get the worth of their money will do well to give him a call.

Bread will be supplied to customers in all parts of the city, and all persons desiring anything in his line of business can leave their orders at the bakery in Broad street, between Second and Third, or in Mr. Alcorn's box at the counter in the DAILY TELEGRAPH office.

Congress has passed a bill allowing small packages of clothing to be sent through the mails at the rate of two pounds for eight cents.

ISAAC KONES, President of the Bank of Northern Liberties, Philadelphia, died on Wednesday.

GOOD WILL FIRE CO.—The Good Will Fire company will hold a meeting in their hall on Ridge Avenue, at 7 o'clock, this evening, to make arrangements to participate in the inauguration of Gov. Curtin, on Tuesday next.

POLICE AFFAIRS.—Before Alderman Kline.—The following cases have been before the Alderman viz:

Joseph Diller, for assault and battery, with intent to ravish. Held in $300 bail.

Andrew C. Brown, malicious mischief, on oath of Ann Martin. Held in $200 bail.

TO HORSE OWNERS.

DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSES is unrivaled by any, and in all cases of Lameness arising from Sprains, Bruises or Wrenching, its effect is magical and certain. Harness or Saddle Galls, Scatches, Mange, &c., it will also cure speedily. Spavin and Ringbone may be easily prevented and cured in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a radical cure. No case of the kind, however, is so desperate or hopeless that it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and its faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative ease.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless. Notice to Magistrates, Prosecutors, Witnesses and Jurors.

NOTICE is hereby given that hereafter all parties or witnesses bound by recognition to appear in any criminal prosecution in this county, will be called on Monday afternoon, at the meeting of the Court, and if not then in attendance, their recognitions will be forfeited, unless before that time a sufficient excuse for non-attendance be sent to the District Attorney. And such parties and witnesses, under like penalty of forfeiture, must remain in Court during the session thereof, and answer when required, and that no forfeiture of a recognition will be taken off by the Court, except on clear proof of the inability of the recognizer to attend at the time. And the Magistrates throughout the county are respectfully urged to require sufficient surety from all persons charged with crime, and to bind over all prosecutors and witnesses brought before them, and that fines will be imposed on all jurors failing to attend, except when they have sufficient legal excuses for non-attendance.
