A NATIONAL BANK is about being established

THE WEATHER, for the last ten days, has been variable and inconstant as a "Miss in her ns." Sometimes we have had snow and est; then again rain and thaw; and bright d pleasant sunshine—then snow again, and "next will be something else."

Sanford hung out his banner this morning, me very beautiful bills of varied description, ouncing his opening on Monday evening.ir. S. promises us a first class entertainment, perior to any he has yet given, and if such true, he may depend upon a brilliant season. enday evening we expect to see the union of same military faces that took the last look Sanford on his closing some eleven months o, since which time Mr. S. and his Troupe re been South, performing twenty-seven hts in New Orleans. During Mr. Sanford's ace, his house has been rented to different ties, but none succeeded in gathering the that Sanford's Troupe draws. His presce again is a source of great joy and jollificain to all our citizens; so prepare for some nghing Monday evening.
