

HARRISBURG, PA. SATURDAY EVENING, JANUABY 80, 1864.

EXPANATION. -- During my absence a certain trticle appeared in the local columns of the FELEGRAPH reflecting somewhat severely on ertain witnesses in the trial of the Com. is Hill. The article in question was inserted without the knowledge of the proprietor, and loes not reflect his views. Whatever opinion the public may entertain as regards the verdict rendered, the proprietor has seen sufficient recommendations to convince him that Mr. Pinkerton is a man of character and truth. The robberies in this city were committed three days before he or the witnesses in the trial of Hill arrived in Harrisburg; and the proprietor disapproves of the whole article.

The Quots of the City of Harrisburg. The action of Council has fixed the matter of the bounty to volunteers for the city of Harrisburg. That bounty may now be stated thus: TO VETERANS. CARLES or the aged parents of the volunteer credited to this county, will receive a monthly '-relief fund, which will go to the support of such families and parents. But it must be distinctly borne in mind that all who enlist, having families or infirm parents in this city, and whose enlistments are credited on the draft quotas of other localities, such families and influm PARENTS WILL NOT BE ENTITLED, NOR WILL THEY RECEIVE, ANY SHARE OF THE RELIEF PROVIDED BY DAUPHIN, COUNTY. The Score tary of War has left it with the recruit to deeide to what locality his enlistment shall be credited. Hence, the necessity of all recruits who have families residing in this city, excrcising care in regard to being correctly credited to Harrisburg. If they are not, they subject their families, while they are absent in the army, to the danger of suffering or the disgrace of pauperage. But by exercising ordinary care in being properly credited, the recruit creates a title for his family or parents to the honorable relief which his gallantry earns at the hands of his fellow-citizens.

Total to new recruits..... $500 In addition to these bounties, the family

-We are reminded thus to caution our friends at home, by the temptation which is offered them from other localities, the agents of which are now in this city, seeking to seduce recruits, for a few dollars more bounty, to have themselves credited elsewhere than to Harrisburg. But when it is properly understood that such a credit will forfeit all claim to the relief of their parents or families. of course all recruits belonging to this city will have themselves credited accordingly. In the meantime, it behooves the influential and liberal men of the different wards to interest themselves in the business of saving the city from the humiliation of a-draft. All that is now required to fill our quota, is a combined movement of all our people, and the work will be accomplished. A Delegation of Veterans. The article in yesterday's TELEGRAPH, in reference to the reception and treatment of the soldiers arriving in this city, produced regular flutter among the officials in authority at this post. As we disclaimed then; we now re peat, that we have nothing to do with individuals in this business. We are after those who are commissioned and remunerated to perform a certain duty, for having neglected that duty. to the great injury of the veterans and the foul disgrace of the Government which thos veterans so gallantly and so nobly defended during years of danger and death. This morning a squad of these gallant fellows crowded into our sanctum, to inform us that they were compelled to encamp last night; on the granite steps of the Capitol, the Treas -ury Department and, the Land Office; while some of their comrades bivouacked beneath the leafless branches of the trees in the Capitol grounds, on the damp hard ground, hungry and weary and almost dispirited with their brutal treatment. They referred to the fact that their reception in some of the towns in the South had been far more kindly than that which was tendered them at this post. And yet these men had no complaints to prefer against the Government -no reproaches for the service, but bitter and terrible anathamas for those who represent the Government at this post. Nothing that has happened during the war has so dampened the ardor of our fighting men as the reception and treatment of the returning veterans at this post. It calls to the authoritics at Washington in thunder tones for redress. It points to the fact that thousands of dollars are annually disbursed at this post to Major Generals, Staff officers, Colonels, Captains, Lieutenants and others, in order that the comfort and the care of the soldiers may be seoured: and yet at the very moment when the most worthy of our fighting men march into the post, there is not an officer on hand to give them a soldier's welcome or a man's accommodations. This is shameful, disgraceful and humiliating. The brave fellows who called upon us this morning feel it deeply and terribly. And if the Government does not immediately make an example of some of those who are guilty of these neglects of duty, the time intust come when it will be held responsible for the entire business. 2. Of course, this order thus Postmaster General Blait, a faw days since, to report was not issued without first apprising Addressed the Maryland Legislature on the Light Col. B of the duty thus devolved upon issues now before the country, and in the commodations is one which is deserving of the severest censure, and in view of the enormity of the neglect, we call upon the War Department at once to order a change in the recruiting service at this post. This change was long since demanded by every consideration of success to the service, and now it is necessary for the purpose of saving the volunfer army from actual mutiny, suffering as it is in the troops now in this city, from the most contemptible wrong that was ever offered by a superior in command to an inferior in service. The Regeneration and Redemption of the South sanie with their families. Such an organization of Southern society yould indeed be the opannig of a path of glory and renown to the Southern States, such as the chivalry nover. dreamed of horetofore. It would create interests in the South which the slave-holding aristocracy could never withstand, and give to that portion of the Union a population of vigorous, intelligent laborers who would make its already abundant and rich harvests incroase ten-fold. Then only would we know how rich the Southern States really are, and then, too, only would we have that scennity from that section which alone can conduce to a perfect Union. In this connection, we are impressed with the fact, as we approach the end of the armed struggle for the safety of the National Government, that rebellion is only truly becoming terrible to rebels. As long as the slaveholders could delude "the poor white trash" of the South to arm and battle for the furtherance. of treason, and the perpetuation of slavery, the combat had something exciting, and, to the depraved and sanguinary instincts of the masses of the South; something evon glorious. But as the armies of the traitors are boaten-as their resources fail and defeat becomes more and more apparent, the real penalties of treason present themselves to the trai tors. Those who fell in battle are to-day more fortunate than those who will survive their cfforts to destroy the Union. However terrible has been the suffering of war, the penaltics which are to come to the traitors after the war is over, will be ten-fold more terrible. Then only will they taste the bitter fruits of treason. Then will they behold their lands in the possession of freemen, willing to till them with their own hands-their homes occupied by heroes whose valor won them from the destruction of rebellion. And who will dare to say that such a result of treason is not logical and just? Then to get to get to

But like a true man he has discovered his error, and now comes boldly to the rescue, as have all the leading minds of the country. Mr. Blair spoke as follows: I have not made this recapitulation of the causes originating and the consequences flow-ing from the bloody rebellion that shakes our country, to embitter animosities on either side. My effort is to expose to view that side.

rooted evil which must beextracted if we would The Regeneration and Redemption of the South (1990) There has been no measure of legislation proposed during the whole course of the strug-gle to crush the slave holders' rebellion. Accom-bining more good sense with a practical influ-ence which will strike home at treason, than that lately introduced in the Senate by Sena-tor Wilson, of Massaoliusetts. (If proposes) to set aside the conquered and confiscated hads of the revolted States, for the uses of the soldiers whose valor redeemed them from rebellion. The object is to erect these lands into farms such as are held in the North, averaging from one to three hundred acros, and then accord them as homesteads to such of the soldiers as have made a title to the soil by valor, and who will at once settle on the same with their. families. Such an organizarelieve the nation from its convulsions. Slavery, fratricidal war it forced on the country, again to be admitted into the system? What patriotic party will sunction such a suggestion? The people of the slave States will repudiate slavery when the durces of the rebollion is removed. Missouri and Western Virginia have already ormally renounced it, and the recent vote of Delaware and our own dear Maryland manifests their purpose to re-neunce it at once. In Kentucky, Tennessee, and Arkansas, the indivisions are also favora-ble. The proclamation of the President to deprive the enemy of this great oioment of power, this since of wat exerted at all points, his announced the extinction of slavory as sile or honorable deliverance but by support-ing with similed attribution of counsels the Chief Magistrate, to whose conduct the issue is committed, and in whose avowed designs the nation, has yoted its confidence? Are, there any who would rescaind the votes of the Border States, and re-establish slavery therein? Are there any who would annul the proclamation to re-invigorate the invitation proclamation, to re-invigorate the institution so skilfully plied to instigate the war, and so essential to provide the means for its proseen

The Democratic party of the North was se duced to countenance the measures of the Southern oligarchs proparatory to the war against the Union, under the idea that they were designed as more menace, and were ro-ally conservative. The event has shown that the whole policy of the dominant class in the South has been war for absolute dominion in the slave States—war to extend the despotie system on which it built at home and abroad. Is this the conservatism to which Dentoeracy dnywhere should lend itself? Bulwer, though a Tory, has this aphorism in one of his late pa-pers: "A true conservative policy for a nation s the policy of progress;"; and he, gives his ionservative friends the admonition that "reopnervative friends the admonition that "re-sistance to progress is destructive to conser-vatism." The Democracy was in its better days a progressive party. on this side of Florence, repulsing the enemy. Our loss in this affair was fifteen killed and wenty-five wounded.

After the most careful inquiry on this subiect. we have traced the neglect which has so foully disgraced the service to its properi source. It appears that the returning volunteer veterans were ordered to report to Lieut.

Some of our cotemporaries have stated that this land scrip issued by the order of Congress is now offered for sale by the Surgeon General of the State of Pennsylvania. Of course the error is a clerical one, and the intelligent sale by the Surveyor General of the Commontoealth. The inducement to invest in these lands is two fold. First, those purchasing land offered for sale. Second, the object being to promote the cause of education, the investment will have the character of a donation when it really does not ask the donor to disburse a copper without a return of land. Seven hundred and eighty thousand acres of land are thus to be disposed of, every acre of which can be located in the most fertile parts of the great territories of the West. -It would be well for those desirous of inrestment in these lands, to make their purchases of scrip as early as possible. Already a great demand has been made, so that it is anticipated that the amount allotted to Pennsylvania will soon be exhausted.

A TRAITOR'S DEBTS TO BE REPUDIATED. A bill has been introduced into the Missouri House of Representatives, to repudiate all debts or liabilities contracted under the administration of C. F. Jackson, since the first day of April, 1861, unless the holder of the claim can prove clearly, to a committee of the General Assembly, that the debt was created for loyal and necessary purposes. The bill will probably pass, and will be a prompt and just settlement of the claims of those who were wuch idiots and traitors as to assist Jackson with their money and means in his traitorous attempt to take Missouri out of the Union. In the above appendiance of the start -----

A NEW RAILBOAD ROUTE TO THE COAL FIELDS.—Petitions are in circulation in Lancaster county, praying the Legislature to pass an act. authorizing the construction of a railroad, to start at some point on the Susquahanna river, between the mouths of the Conestoga and Conewago creeks, and thence to run westwardly by the most practicable route to the Broad Top and Allegheny Coal Fields, to be called the Susquehanna and Allegheny railroad.

as one meant to draw a line between conter-minous nationalities. It is a war in the boreader will understand that the scrip is for som of one nationality, of a people of the same race and language; on an arens bounded by the lakes, the ocean, the Gulf, and the great tributary streams that unite and insulate and mark it as the domain of one great Govthis serile, can locate their acres upon any ermannt. It is a war of principle and for do-and offered for sale. Second the object has minion. If the dynasty founded on the slave system triumphs, it will give law to the con-tinent. If it fails, as full it must, unless the tendency of the age becomes inverted, there is an end of slavery among civilized nations. What a humiliating contrast is presented for the new world in the attempt of Jefferson Davis and his coadjutor rebels striving to fetter their, poorer and more ignorant, fellow-citizens in the chains of their four millions of negro slaves, while the Autocratuof Russia proclaims the freedom of forty millions serfs, delivering them from the yoke of a haughty nobility and his own rights of seign." f seigniory, and establishing them as freeholders!

A special dispatch to the Commercial, dated five miles north of Tunnel Hill, Georgia, on the 29th, says: General Palmer, with Davis division, moved from here yesterday on a. re-connoissance. The 28th Kentucky and 4th Michigan regiments drove in the rebels' advance pickets and captured a company of rebel cavality. The robols retreated from Tunnel Hill during the night. They lost 32 killed and wonaded. Our loss was only two wounded. The object of the reconnoissance was offected was effected, Clairborne's division is above Thnnel Hill on the Dalton road. The balance of the rebel army has disappeared. They have probably gone to Mobile or East Tennessee.
