Daily Telegraph THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT, ABRAHAM LINCOLN HARRISBURG, PA. SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 13, 1864.

The Peace Men.

The disavowal of Senator Clymer of ever having threatened a vigorous peace movement by the joint action of the Erecutives of Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania, in case of the election of Messrs. Woodward and Vallandigham, is attracting the attention of the than once, these assemblages, convening press all over the State, and particularly in the under the most solemn pledges to the people, localities where Clymer made this assertion with great boldness during the late Gubernatorial campaign. There is a perfect concurrence among those who heard Clymer, that •he did indulge in such declarations. Remarking upon these coincidences, the Washington Chronicle says that at the late election Mr. Clymer was unquestionably a strong peace man. He insisted that peace was to be obtained by conciliation and compromise.-But he and those who acted with him are finding out that the people will be satisfied with no peace that is not purchased by the entire submission of the rebels to the authority of the Federal Government, and we should not be at all surprised to find them ere long advocating the most vigorous prosecution of taught the world to believe that the people of • the war. The peace programme will leave its the United States, instead of governing themadvocates stranded amid the political wrecks of the past; and scenting in advance that terrible storm of popular indignation which is destined to sweep out of sight every public man who would betray the nation into the hands of traitors, Mr. Clymer would retrace his steps. He is but one of a large class .-They are learning that the American people will avenge an insulted nationality and maintain the majesty of the law. They are b2ginning to perceive that the people will not welcome back to places of trust the bloodstained traitors who sought to overthrow this proud fabric of our liberties, and though be extended to the repentant, misguided followers of the Great Crime of the nineteenth century, the most condign punishment is de- gies of parties who were in the habit of swadmanded for, and must be visited upon its infamous authors.

"War and Money."

One of the favorite themes with the couper head organs in this and other States, when they seek to disgrace the Government or impair the confidence of the people in the au thorities, is the financial condition of the country. Taking aggregates, or selecting the items of expense which appear the most stupendous to the inexperienced public, such journals as the Tory Organ raise a howl in the ears of the people, that the Government is on the verge of bankruptcy, that the resources of the people are being wasted, and that extravagance must eventually utterly ruin the whole people. These assertions, however, on the part of the hypocrites who control the Tory Organ, are more bosh. They are made to attract attention from the real extravagance which has pushed Pennsylvania into an expenditure of a million of dollars, from which the people of the State will never receive a penny's value of benefit.

-While the tory press of Pennsylvania were attacking the national authorities, and the Presidential succession. charging extravagances on the National Government, a minority of Democrats in the Pennsylvania Senate were engaged in a plot, by which the people of the State were absolutely robbed of a million of dollars-a.million of dollars to fill the pockets of English contributors to the rebel cause, domestic speculators, and small-fry politicians. The people of the State of Pennsylvania will not forget the men who burdened them with this extra million of a public debt. However the Tory Organ may misrepresent the facts in relation to the national finances-however it may. attempt to create the impression that the resources of the people are being wasted in the effort to crush a wicked rebellion, the one great fact that the Democratic leaders of Pennsylvania wasted a million of dollars without doing a penny's worth of good for the State or the nation, will never be lost sight of by the people. RETIRING OF UNEMPLOYED GENERAL OFFI-CERS.-Mr. Schenck, chairman of the Military Committee of the House of Representatives, endeavored yesterday to obtain general consent to have printed a bill to drop from the rolls of the army unemployed general officers. The bill says it appears that many general officers are or have been either entirely unemployed or not on duty corresponding with their rank; thus holding commissions and drawing pay without service, and standing in the way of promotion of other officers; therefore, all major generals and brigadier generals who shall not, on the 15th of March. 1864, be in the performance of service corresponding with their rank, and for three months continuously prior to that date, shall: be dropped from the rolls of the army, and all their pay shall cease, and the vacancies "may be filled by new appointments and promotions But this does not refer to officers absent in consequence of wounds, or being prisoners of war, on parole. Any major general or brigadier general, appointed in accordance with the provisions of the act of 1861, so dropped from the rolls, shall not be discharged, but remitted to his position as a line or staff officer is in the regular army.

The People and Abraham Lincoln. the country, when the politicians were more end.' puzzled by the people, than the present. Heretofore, it was the rule with the politicians who swarm about the departments at Washington, and quarrel at the doors of the National Capitol for the crumbs which fall from the bounties of Congress, to arrange Presidential successions, to construct Cabinets, ture to become a law: and (in plain English) lead the people by the The bill, as passed by the House, provides that the quote of each ward of a city, town, township, precinct, or election district, or of nose to the execution of any plan which these demagogues had agreed upon. History ble substitute, who is not liable to draft nor at the time in the military or naval service of attests these facts. They have subjected our the United States, and such persons so fur-nishing a substitute shall be exempt from system of free government to the ridicule and the contempt of the world. They have made draft during the time for which such substi-tute shall be exempt from draft, not, however, us, as a professedly free people, a mockery in exceeding the time for which such substitute the sight of the statesmen of other lands, shall have been accepted. But no private solwho do not believe in man's ability for selfdier, musician or non-commissioned officer being actually in the military service of the government; because the very frauds to which United States, shall be procured or accepted as the substitute. The boards of enrollment we have submitted in this particular, have are to enroll all persons liable to draft under the provisions of this act, and of the enrollselves, succumb to the rule and the dictation of ment act, whose names may have been omitted by the proper enrolling officers; and all persons who shall have arrived at the age of the leaders of cliques, men of the lowest instincts and the worst principles. At length, 20 years before the draft; all aliens who shall however, the people have awakened to a declare their intention to become citizens; all realization of their true power. Feeling that they are competent to connot been in such service two years during the trol and exercise their own preferences, the people have almost unanimously resolved to re-elect Abraham Lincoln. They have rement, but who are not exempted by the pro-visions of this act; and the boards of enrollsolved to do this regardless of the objections of the leaders of cliques, or the self-elevated and self-anointed politicians. Never before having taken the load in the initiatory proceedings of a political campaign, the enwords of forgiveness and acts of mercy may thusiasm with which the people are proclaiming for "Old Abe" aunoys the politicians. It looks, to the old fodling and panegoricizing every candidate for high offices, before the masses were permitted to see "the people's choice," as if their occupation was gone, as if they would be compelled to follow instead of lead, the freemen of America ! Nor are the political hacks of the nation mistaken in their vision. Just as they

HEADQUARTERS, HILTON HEAD, S. C., Feb. 5, 1864.—To-day or to-morrow an expedition of considerable size leaves this harbor for un-known parts. It will be under the immediate command of Brigadier General T. Seymour. General Gillmore will accompany it and see t fairly at work.

ANOTHER BLOCKADE RUNNER COME TO GRIEF. On Tuesday morning last, at daylight a large Clyde built iron steamer, schooner rigged, and with two smoke stacks, was discovered by our troops at Battery Strong, Cummings' Point, Morris Island, apparently ashore in Maffitt's channel, off Fort Moultrie, Sullivan's Island. When first discovered large number of men wore observed on her discharging cargo and transporting it to the heach. In a short time one three hundred pounder Parrott and other heavy rifles were trained upon and soon opened fire. The first shell from the huge rifle struck near her and persons discharged from the military and uadashed immense volumes of spray in the air. A second shot followed quickly after, and the rebels began to desort the vessel and hur-ry ashore in the most excited manner, which been exempted under the provisions of the second section to which this act is a supplewas not at all quieted by the third shot, which crushed through the iron sides of the steamer and sent the fragments flying in all directions The steamer was instantly deserted by the destruction most effectually, by knocking the anglo-rebel to pieces with their fifteen-inch shells. Perhaps some of the cargo may float ashore from the wreck, but the great bulk of it is undoubtedly lost.

The steamer was ovidently imward bound, and came very near effecting a successful "run." She had run by the naval cordons of blockaders, and run ashore nearly under the guns of Moultrie. But for that unfortunate mishap, she would have been lying at the dock at Charleston before breakfast time on Tuesday morning. We had supposed the idea of running into the harbor of Charleston had long ago been relinquished; but it would seem that some are daring enough yet to attempt the run. It will not succeed in the future any more brilliantly than in this, the last at tempt. The name of the ship is unknown.

scientious scruples against bearing arms lieve and feel morally certain that the great masses of the people thereof are to-day unalterably fixed in their preference for the reelection of Abraham Lincoln. We not only firmly believe this, but we also strongly incline to the faith that any effort to interfere. with this purpose and resolve, will result in disaster to the men who make the attempt as well as to the country itself. There was a time when politicians could interfere with and frustrate the wishes of the people in such matters, but that time has passed. Nevertheless, it behooves the people to be on the watch for these politicians. Henceforth, the people must lead. Henceforth, all combinations of individuals-all arrangements of politicians-all plans to subserve personal aspirations, must yield to the wishes of the people, or make direct issue with their will and be borne down beneath their mighty progress. The destiny of the nation demands this sacrifice on the part of the politicians.

Recruiting.

If any man doubts the devotion of the people of Pennsylvania, let such a one stand for an hour in Third street, near the recruiting offices, and behold the spectacle daily there presented. It has no equal for grandeur in anything contained in history. There is nothing in the whole course of the war to compare to the exhibition thus made, by a people rushing almost en masse to the resoue of their country. From early dawn until late in the evening, a continuous marching of men is heard and seen in that direction. As fast as one squad is sworn in, another comes up, and thus recruiting is conducted. The recruits are hardy-looking men, all having more or less experience in the field as soldiers, or at least a knowledge of the discipline of the camp. From these indications, we are satisfied that the draft will not be made necessary in a majority of the counties, if indeed it actually takes place in Pennsylvania. The recruits are exceedingly jealous as to being properly credited to their different homes, evinc ing that pride and affection for home which come next to the greater pride and devotion to the country at large. All honor and a liberal reward are due to the gallant defenders of
