HARRISBURG, PA.

FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 19, 1864.

An Able Discussion.

A session was held last evening, in the House of Representatives, for the purpose of considering the resolution offered by Mr. Kelley, of Washington county, some days since, providing that none but loyal citizens shall secure indemnification for damages and and losses sustained during the rebel raid into Pennsylvania. Messrs. Kelley, Smith, of Chester, Smith, of Philadelphia, and Orwig, made some eloquent and able remarks on the subject. We shall publish all these speeches in the regular edition of the Tele-GRAPH in a few days, as they were reported. phonographically especially for this journal.

Members and others desiring extra copies will please leave their orders at the publication office at once." Every loyal man in Pennsylvania should read them.

They Misrepresent the People.

The other day we heard a singular excuse offered for the stubbornness of the sixteen men who have blocked the wheels of legislation in the Senate of this State for the last six weeks, at a cost to the tax-payers of four dollars per day for each member of the Legislature. It was this: "One of the Republican Senators, who had a majority of the people's and soldiers' vote in 1864, lives in a district which gave Woodward 300 or 400 majority in 1863: therefore he should resign, and a new election be ordered." It is a new wrinkle in Democracy that a person only elected shall not serve out the term for which he was elected simply because the people of his district happened, on another issue, afterwards, to vote against a candidate of his party!

Suppose we adopt the principle. The present Auditor General and Surveyor General of Pennsylvania had 3,500 majority in 1862-but 1863 records a verdict of 15,000 against them -therefore, Messrs. Barn and SLENKER, with all their clerks, must resign, Will they do it? Our Union Senators will resign if they will, Again-Charles R. Buckalew is serving as United States Senator, having had one majority of legislators and 3,500 of the people in 1862; but the present Legislature is seven against him, and the people 15,000. "As sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," we call on Mr. Buckalew to resign.

A large number of COUNTY OFFICERS, elected in 1861 and 1862, are clearly instructed out of their stations by the larger vote of 1863.— When they "throw up," it will be full time for our Senator to do what not one of them will

But let us take another view:

VOTES	OF THE SO	IDIERS IN 18	63.
I I			Majority.
California,	4,143	140	4,003
Iowa,	17,041	3,004	14,027
Missouri,	8,827	777	8,050
Ohio,	42,315	2,391	39,924
Wisconsin,	9,257	747	8,510
	81,583	7,059	74,514

If we figure right, here is 92 per cent. Republican to 8 per cent. Democrat.

Now, Ohio gave 432,468 votes at home and 44,706 in the army. Pennsylvania's home vote was 523,667. In the same proportion as Ohio, Pennsylvania would have 53,627 votes from the soldiers.

The Senate of Pennsylvania comprises thirty-three members. Divide 33 into 53,627. gives 1,625 soldier votes to each Senatorial district. Dividing these votes as they were divided in other States, and we have 1,422 Republican to 203 Democratic votes—an average Republican majority of 1,219 to each district. Now, take the vote for Curtin in their Senatorial districts, and add these soldiers' votes, and you wipe out the majorities for Senators Donovan, of Philadelphia; Kinsey, of Bucks M'Sherry, of Adams; Bucher, of Cumberland; Clearfield. The same test would leave less than a hundred majority for Smith, of Montgomery, and Lamberton's "Clarion"—a majority which President Lincoln's popularity will sweep from under any opponent. By the same test every Union Senator would have from one to five thousand majority. Will the above named gentlemen resign in view of this disclosure of their actual or virtual repudiation by their respective districts; or will they adhere to their seats with the tenacity of the King of Terrors to a defunct American of African complexion? We don't expect to see them-nor that our Senator will be fool enough to resign until they do.

Take we next our twenty-four Congressmen. Divide the soldiers vote among them, give each 2,234—Republican; 1,955; Democratic, 279—Republican majority, 1,676. Now let us see the vote under which seven Democrats misrepresent their constituents in the National

Add Curtin's vote, and they are 1,000 to 1,500 behind. Will they resign?-They were elected in the small vote and disheartening time of 1862, and are fairly instructed by the large, direct vote and canvass

Of the fourteen Democratic Congressmen from Ohio, only one (Finck) is sustained by the popular vote of 1863. The soldiers not voting in 1862 and the friends of the Government disinclined to make a party contest that year, the opposition stole a march on us: they rallied and elected thirteen men who notoriously misrepresent the people of Ohio on the great question of the day.

In New York, Indiana, Illinois and half a dozen other States, Congressmen were elected in the calm and the small vote of 1862, who are repudiated and disowned by the full, explicit vote of 1863. Yet these men sit in our National Council, defy the will of the people and throw every obstacle in the way of the Government in its efforts to put down the rebellion. And their friends in Pennsylvania, blocking the wheels of legislation, have the hardihood and the folly to demand that one of the fairly-elected Union Senators shall give up his seat to give them - modest, candid innocents a chance to fill it! "When the sky falls we'll all catch larks." But until sixty or eighty 'Democrats," (?) misrepresenting the people, set the example, they will have no 'resignation" to aid them in carrying out their infamous designs.

Frands in the Recruiting Service. From what we can see ourselves, and from what we have heard from others, we are satisfied that there are great frauds now being perpetrated on the Government, in the cost of the recruiting service. Field and line officers have been detailed for recruiting duty in this and other States, but it is now strongly suspected that these men are conniving with authorized agents of the recruiting service, by which connivance the Government is being daily actually robbed of thousands of dollars, and the community imposed upon to an equal amount of money. The recruiting agent receives for a veteran $25, and for a new recruit $15. In order to know how the field and line officers detailed for recruiting service enter into a combination with the recruiting agents, we will illustrate the fact of the frauds as follows:

The field and line officers detailed to re cruit, receive their regular pay, besides commutation for quarters, light, fuel, &c., which additions almost double the pay they receive while in the field. So much for the first point. The recruiting agent gets nothing more than his premiums, which amounts to $25 for a veteran, and $15 for a new recruit. So much for the second point, and now for the fraud. The recruits procured by the field and line officers detailed for recruiting service, are brought to the recruiting agents of the different districts. when such men are mustered into service as having been furnished by the aforesaid recruiting agents, who receive the premium of twenty-five dollars and fifteen dollars per man. This sum is then divided by the recruiting agents and the officers detailed from the field for recruiting service. The officers who are regularly detailed to recruit for their regiments—we do not assert that they alledo this transfer the results of their labors, for which they are liberally paid, over to the speculative greed of the recruiting agent, until the transaction becomes a offence against the Government. The fraud thus made apparent is indeed most appalling and humiliating, when we consider that it carries perjury with it, as the officers are all sworn. It is bold and disgraceful; and by its operation bad men are filling their pockets with the money thus filched from the nation in the hour of its most dreadful

We are surprised that these frauds are tolerated where it is known so many officers of the regular army are stationed. These regulars are men of experience, integrity and sagacity; they certainly must understand that the Government which they love and are Hopkins, of Washington, and Wallace, of ready to die for, is being thus shamefully robbed. Why not attempt to put a stop tothis evil, by reporting the facts to the proper Department? Is it reserved for the journalist to discharge a duty which others are commissioned to perform? We intend to give this business a further thorough ventilation.

> Relief for the People of East Tennessee. The recommendation made in the last annual message of Governor Curtin, to the effect that the Legislature of Pennsylvania should appropriate a sum of money as a relief to the people of East Tennessee, has had the influence of inducing the Governors of nearly all the Eastern States to recommend similar appropriations to their respective Commonwealths. We had the pleasure, this morning, of meeting Colonel J. E. Peyton, of New Jersey, who accompanied Colonel Taylor, of Tennessee, on a tour to the East. It will be remembered that Colonel Taylor spoke in this city, in behalf of the suffering people of East Tennessee. Colonel Peyton now reports that the appeal made to the Legislatures of Eastern States has already been handsomely responded to, so that thus, by the generous example of Governor Curtin, in making this relief a duty to devolve on an entire State, our suffering brethren in East Tennessee will receive a most liberal assistance.

-Colonel Peyton, of New Jersey, has taken a deep interest in this movement to relieve the people of East Tennessee. His action has been entirely disinterested. Believing in this measure of relief as an act of humanity, he also had faith in it as a principle of policy, whereby the people of the entire South would be impressed with the fraternal and patriotic feeling which animates the loyal masses of the

This rellroad company has made large profits on the immense travel to that sacred locality, and it is highly necessary that persons should be able to travel the route with some safety and comfort, and we hope that the bill will be passed at an early day:

THE ESCAPE FROM RICHMOND.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Some of Our Officers Tracked by Bloodhounds and Recaptured.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18.

The steamer from Fortress Monroe, which reached here at an early hour yesterday morning. Bringht as passengers twenty five of the Union officers who had escaped from Libby Prison. One remained at Fortress Monroe, viz: Theutenant Colonel J. F. Boyd, United BALTIMORE, Feb. 18.

States Quartermaster.
On the passage up from Fortress Monroe the escaped officers held a meeting, and selected one of their number, Captain J. M. Johnston, of the Sixth Kentucky Infantry, to prepare a thorough and trustworthy account of the entire affair from its conception to the necessful issue. Captain Johnston was one of the originaors of the scheme, and we were informed by the party yesterday that at no time were there more than twelve persons engaged in the work, and who were aware of the arrangement, until the day before the escape was The following is a statement of some of the incidents of the escape, as derived from

On the excepted prisoners.

On the evening of the escape, the first man entered the tunnel at half-past eight o'clock, and about every five or ten minutes another one would follow. As each man would ge out under the shed he would signal his brother prisoners in the cellar, by means of a rope, that all was well. Five days were occupied in making their escape to the Federal lines, and some were compelled from exhaustion to give themselves up to the confederate cavalry who themselves up to the confederate cavarry wno were on their track.

A number of the escaped officers were caught in the city, while others were tracked and caught on the Peninsula with the aid of

The whole party then left this city for Washington, in the three o'clock train of yesterday. They purpose holding a meeting there this afternoon at two o'clock; for the purpose of organizing into a regular association. They will call upon the President and other officials; and, as they are now all free, without parole, and all apparently in good health, many of them will return to the duties of the field.

The full and correct narrative of the escape will be soon published by Capt. Johnson. will be soon published by capt sonnson.

A number of the officers came into our lines by way of the Chickshominy river. "How did you cross?" asked a gentleman of one of them. He replied, "Two trees had providentially asked to the control of the c feeling which animates the loyal masses of the free States.

JOHNSTON'S ARMY.

ALARM AT MOBILE AND SELMA

CINCINNATI, Feb. 18. A dispatch from Chattanooga to the Gazette says that the information received from the rebel army is contradictory. Some persons declare that Johnston's entire force is around Dalton, and others that large portions, including the artillery at Kingston, have gone to reinforce Longstreet.

John Morgan is said to be in the vicinity of Dalton, with a considerable cavalry force, preparing for a raid.

Gen. Watts, of Alabama, had telegraphed to the citizens of Selma to prepare to receive a number of non-combatants from Mobile, as that city was soon to be attacked by the United States forces.

The steamer Denbigh was lost recently in attempting to run the blockade from Mobile.

The Mobile papers express the opinion that it is the 'plan of Gen. Sherman to penetrate to Central Alabama, thus compelling the evacuation of Mobile. They also say, "There is no indication in the news reports that Grant s preparing for active operations.
