THE GETTYSBURG CEMETERY.—The bodies of about 3.100 Federal soldiers have been reburied in the National Cemetery. Several hundred are yet to be removed, the work upon which is steadily going forward, and will doubtless be completed by the first of April.

COPPERHEAD OUTRAGE. -An attempt was made to assassinate Mr. James Hoxie, one of the Deputy Marshals of the Luzerne district, on Monday evening. Two shots were fired at him, one of which passed through the seat of a buggy in which he was riding.

DEAD,—Hamilton Jameson, who fell from one of the freight trains of the Northern Central railroad, on Wednesday last, and was severely injured, (an account of which we published on Thursday,) has since died from the effects of the accident. He was conductor of the train and resided in York.

THE Carbondale Advance, of Saturday last, reports fourteen deaths of the victims of the fever during the past week the previous week there were thirty-three; but while reporting the general aspect of things more hopeful, the same paper records the death of several noted citizens, among whom was the Rev. A NEW TERMINUS PROPOSED FOR THE PHIL-DELPATA AND ERIE RATLROAD.—The U. S. ilroad and Mining Journal says: "There potent public reasons for making Harrisburg, in lieu of Sunbury, the terminus of the Philadelphia and Eric Milroad. The necessity for this change is so palps ble that it needs no elaboration."

PAINFUL .- The Reading Times says: "At had been working at the fire, attempt to pull night; but there was one more than any other, off his gloves, in the act of doing which he dear to loyal American hearts, who shone to also pulled off part of the skin and the nails us, not a star, but a full moon, among a galfrom the fingers of the hand! There are no doubt instances enough from the effects of frost on the occasion alluded to; but this beats all we have yet seen."

A YOUNG LADY, daughter of Mr. George Garrett, in West Manheim township, York county, Pa., while passing through her father's mill, had her clothing caught by an upright shaft, which was in motion, and not being able to extricate herself, had one of her legs broken in three different places, and the other at two different places. She was otherwise injured before the mill could be stopped. *

DROWNED. - Francis Boyer, the only son of S. B. Boyer, Esq., of Sunbury, was drowned on last Tuesday morning, by breaking through the ice on the "Gut," below the Shamokin Valley railroad bridge, while skating. When he broke in there was no one present but another little boy, who ran to Rohrbach's Foundry and gave the alarm, but some fifteen minutes must have elapsed before the child was got out of the water, in a lifeless condition. Every effort was made to resuscitate him, but duced. There is a splendid cast of characters, and all are admirably personated. No play ever before introduced here has created a senof-Leave Man. If we are not greatly mistaken, Mr. Rouse will make a little fortune by its introduction here. Hundreds of persons have production, which has received the encouragement of all classes of persons in the large cities of Europe and America.

BANQUET IN HONOR OF THE TWENTY-SECOND OF FEBRUARY.-Last evening the various Army officers stationed at this post, assembled in the spacious dining-room of the Jones House, for the purpose of partaking of a banquet in honor of the Birthday of the Father of his Country, the Immortal Washington, at which his Excellency, Gov. Curtin, presided.

After the cloth was removed, Major General Stahel proposed as the toast of the evening:

The Memory of George Washington. At the mention of that magic name, the not awe, drank to the memory of the great chieftain. "First in War, First in Peace, and First in the Hearts of his Countrymen."

The next toast in order was. 'The Governor of the Loyal State of Pennsyl-

Amid much enthusiasm, Governor Curtin cose to reply to this sentiment. He said the loyalty of the people of Pennsylvania was of a character which did not need the endorsement of any man, be he an official in high station or a plain private citizen. That loyalty had attested itself where the battle raged and carnage prevailed—where faith in our cause endured until death! The loyalty of the people of Pennsylvania was as firm as her hills and as resistless as her streams. It knows no compromise and stops at no half-way measures in its service of the Government. During the awful crisis through which we have been passing, the people of no State of all the faithful Commonwealths in the Union, had been more prompt in their support of the National authority. They had marched wherever the Government needed a soldier. They had perilled their lives wherever freedom required a defence—on the land and the sea—above the clouds of the mountain, in the valleys and the prairies—wherever and whenever, duty called to arms, there the flag of the old Keystone State was borne through fire and death, to victory! To-day, no State in the Union presented a spectacle such as is seen in every county in this Commonwealth. Men were rushing to arms with more enthusiasm and alacrity than when the first blow of the attack on Fort Sumter summoned the nation to the resistance of treason. This was the loyalty of Pennsylvania. It is the plain performance of a duty which all true Pennsylvanians comprehended. It is the loyalty which springs from brave hearts and brawny arms. The loyalty of a religious faith in justice and liberty. Gov. Curtin alluded in beautiful terms, to the occasion of the anniversary of the birth-day of Washington. Its commemmoration could not be otherwise than inspiring. As we honor the memory of Washington, we strengthen our devotion to the Government which he bequenthed to his countrymen. The closing portion of Gov. Curtin's brief remarks was brilliantly eloquent, and drew from the guests present, the most enthusiastic applause. He referred to the part which our wives and daughters were taking in the contest against treason, characterizing the actions of the women of the loyal States, as worthy of the highest praise—as being Angels of love on errands of mercy. His Excellency then concluded, eliciting the loud applause of the guests, with the sentiment of, The Women of America.

Some were clustered into constellations; some by their more conspicuous virtues, were isolated and alone, the fire on Wednesday, we saw a man who like a solitary star amid the obscurity of midaxy of stars, by her superior light casting all feebler radiance into shade. He would name MARY, THE MOTHER OF WASHINGTON. She directed the growth of the twig. The world admired the stately majesty and grandeur of the tree.

General Clement further said he felt reluctant to obtrude so frequently upon the patience of the company; but one great and good man, essentially an American, who in the fullness of years and honor, had gone to his rest, wept for by his countrymen. He need not name him. Let memory touch with tender hand the chords of feeling, and fame and gratitude, with all their tongues, pronounce the name of HENRY CLAY. He then proposed the memory of the Sage of Ashland, silent and standing.

To a toast of "The Loyal Press," Mr. George Bergner, editor of the TELEGRAPH, responded. The Press of the country had dealt and received hard blows in the great struggle for the Union and Constitution; and at no period perhaps, in the history of the world's journalism, have the newspapers of this country wielded a more powerful influence on the deswithout effect. He was about nine years of times of mankind, than they do at the present moment. Every journalist in the land was TICKET-OF-LEAVE! TICKET-OF-LEAVE! > SALE OF GOVERNMENT HORSES. A lot of one hundred and nine condemned Government horses were sold by public auction on Friday, at the Fair Grounds in Reading. A number of farmers and others attended the sale, and the bidding was quite lively. All the animals were knocked off at prices ranging from $7

WOOD FOR PAPER.—There has been quite ar active trade going on in the northern part of Chester county, in poplar wood. It is in demand for making paper. The mills at Spring ville, Chester county, are very extensive, and are worked by New York capitalists. The price of wood delivered on line of Chester Valley railroad is $4@5 per cord.

ACCIDENT AT READING.—A Mr. Gregory, an engineer on the Reading railroad, employed in running a "pusher," was killed on the siding that leads to the Reading Steam Forge, on Saturday, by coming in collision with another engine, which happened to be on the same track unknown to him. Heattempted to jump, and fell under the other engine, by which he had a leg cut off, and received other injuries from which he died. He was a resident of Sixth street, Reading.

A NEW ENTERPRISE. - We see it stated in one of the Philadelphia papers that our townsman, S. S. Sanford, proprietor of the Opera House, is about to build a theatre in this city. If any person is capable of entering into such a speculation, Sanford is the man. Harrisburg has been in great need of a building of this kind. Her places of entertainment are too small. Our citizens have been compelled to go abroad to witness the principal plays of the times, because we had no place sufficiently large to warrant a large company coming here. That a theatre could be supported here, there is no doubt. Witness the crowded state of Brant's Hallat each entertainment given by the company now performing there. At the same time the Opera House is thronged nightly. Sanford is desirous of forming an association of ten or more men of capital, and proceed at once to the erection of a dramatic temple. If immediate action be taken, a property can now be purchased at very little cost. Let our capitalists consider this matter. If an association cannot be formed, let Sanford push the matter forward himself we have no doubt he will do so.

THE CASE OF F. P. HILL, convicted at the last term of the Court, on a charge of embezzlement, was finally disposed of, as we General John Kay Clement then said he stated yesterday, by the sentence of the Court. We will not repeat opinions heretofore exgreat skill on both sides; and the defendant was most ably represented by strong counsel. In justice to District Attorney Herr, we must candidly admit that he exhibited profound learning in the promptness with which he met and answered the points sprung, and has wen for himself additional reputation as an eloquent advocate and sound pleader. The indictment of Hill stood the test of a rigid examition, and will be regarded as a precedent in all subsequent cases of this kind.

Take this case altogether, and we think it will rank as one of the most interesting, it involves more law and more erudition than any other one that has excited public attention for many years.

THE anniversary of the Ridge Avenue Sunday school, last night, in the Ridge Avenue M. E. church, was a decided success. Indeed, the crowd that was turned away unable to get seats, justify the managers in repeating the proceedings this evening. The doors will be open at 7½ o'clock. We advise our friends to give this noble enterprise the encouragement of their presence.

DEPLORABLE. -- Yesterday two little girls of perhaps thirteen years of age, were arraigned before Alderman Kline, for co-habiting with soldiers. It is indeed deplorable, that those so young in years, should become public prostitutes. The Alderman committed them to prison for thirty days.

A well-dressed "nymph," older in years as well as in crime, than the above cases, was also sent up to Fort Simmons for a month. When arrested she was in company with some of the "bold soldier boys."

WASHINGTON'S BIRTH-DAY. -What a pleasing sight, yesterday, to see a number of beautiful young ladies, dressed in holiday attire, repairing to a place appointed for the purpose of celebrating the birth-day of a great and good man, whose memory, though the material frame-work has mouldered and decayed, still lives in the grateful hearts of the fair daughters of our country. It is fitting thus to give ters of our country. It is fitting thus to give praise, while our loved stars and stripes are the inspiring emblem and magic genius that cause thousands of our noble countrymen to enroll their names upon the books of the different recruiting offices to protect the land of Washington. The LONDON TIMES, in speaking of this great moral drama, mentions a fact to which the Provincial Press of Great Britian and Ireland has given confirmation.

A clerk, who had abscended from Liverpool with £2,500 the property of his employers, and after visiting many places arrived at Birmingham, about five o'clock, and after taking some refreshments, went to the theatre, to while away an hour. As it happenad, the piece which was being performed on the occasion of this visit was

THE TICKET-OF-LEAVE-MAN, THE TIGKET-UF-LIEAVE-MAN, and the guilty man seems to have drawn a moral from the representation; for when the scene in the interview between Hackshaw, the detective, and the "Tacket-of. Leave Man" took place, Parker, the clerk, became so affected that he went out of the theatre, got three envelopes, and sent £1,500 back to his employers.

Oh! the prophetic vision of Shakespeare.

"I have heard

That milty creatures stitus at a play."

"I have heard

That guilty creatures sitting at a play
Have by the very cunning of the scene,
Been struck so to the soul, that presently
They have proclaimed their malefactions."
