They alleged then that the draft was illegal-that compulsory service in the army, by means of the conscription, was degrading-and thus in many ways and with all sorts of excuses, the tory sympathizers with treason endeavored to obstruct and defeat the purpose of the draft. These leaders now find themselves confronted with what is to them a new embarrassment. They cannot comprehend the enthusiasm with which the people are rallying to the different standards now raised in this State. They see thousands of men crowding to the support of the gallant Hancock-they behold hundreds more enrolling themselves to fight with Burnside-and they cannot explain to themselves why the people thus rush to arms. Determined, however, to arrest this patriotic enthusiasm, the copperheads have hit upon a plan which they imagine will succeed. rebel leaders must now feel ill at ease, as The plan is to give currency to rumors that the President intends to call for more troops

These journals represented the most advanced antithe hour of adjournment slavery sentiment in the North at that time, if we except the handful of Garrisonian Abolitionists in New England. How far behind the spirit of the times are such sentiments at this time? The great civil war in this country, which is now fast coming to an end, will not prove an exception to the rule that revolutions always result favorably to humanity. The slaveholders rebelled in order to establish a government, with slavery as its "cornerstone," that they might forever perpetuate their peculiar institution, which they felt was repugnant to the spirit of the age, and their rebellion will certainly end with the destruction of slavery and in giving freedom to four millions of bondmen.

If the allies of treason in the North can induce the people not to volunteer, they will. of course, be adding just so much for every man kept out of the federal armies, to the chances of rebel success. This is the actual object of those who are constantly repeating the assertion that the President intends to call out additional troops-that it is useless, therefore, to offer bountieseto avoid conscription, as the draft is bound to come, sooner or later

-We repeat our assertion, justified to do so by reliable and positive information on the subject, that no calls for additional troops are contemplated by the Federal Administration. All that is asked, all that is required, is the filling up of the quotas now apportioned to the several districts. With these troops the Government will be fully able to crush rebellion, end the war, and restore the land to peace and prosperity !

Our friends are fighting a noble battle in •the Granite State, and if indications can be relied upon, we will have the pleasure of recording a brilliant victory for the Government motives of the Tories, we are led to discover in that region. The best evidence that we that they have a personal object in view are gaining ground in New Hampshire, is the in endeavoring to impeach the veracity of fact that the Tory press are maligning the men who are nobly battling for the Union and the Constitution in that Commonwealth. Hence, we may accept the bitter abuse of the his possession the names of the Pennsylvania copperheads as the evidence of their conviction and anticipation of defeat. As the first election in this, the Presidential year, the contest in New Hampshire is of peculiar interest. It is the evident determination of the copperhead leaders there to make a desperate effort to defeat the friends of the Union. We do not entertain a doubt that the result will The object is to break down the repentant be the success of the Union ticket; but, to make the victory sure and complete, every patriotic nerve should be strained. In the last State election several thousand War Democrats refused to go with the usurped organization of the old pro-slavery party, and voted for Colonel Walter Harriman for Governor, a Democrat then, and now at the head of his regiment in the field. In the contest soon to indignation which a disclosure of their con-

The Tories Don't Like Gen. Gantt. The petty spite displayed for Gen. Gantt, an old line Democrat and a repentant rebel, by the Tory press of the North, and particularly by the Tory Organ, has more of a meaning than most people will at first be able to comprehend. The tories hate Gen. Gantt, because, in becoming true once more to his country, he becomes a traitor to Democracy. True to the Democracy and false to the country, is the standard of the Tory leaders, and as Gen. Gantt has repented of his errors and is now seeking to make amends for the past, it is natural that the Northern sympathizers with treason should assail and traduce him, and, if possible, counteract the influence which he may wield on the actions of the masses who still cling to the organization of the Democratic party. But in going deeper into the Gen. Gantt. It will be remembered that while the repentant Arkansian spoke to the people in this city, he declared that he had in Democratic leaders who had encouraged the South to rebel by offers of assistance as soon as a Southern army was put in the field to assail the Government. Since that declaration, every Democratic leader and the entire Tory press of the Commonwealth, have been busily engaged in traducing and maligning Gen. Gantt.

following: The Ballimore American says:—This Pipe has many of the qualities of the costly Turkish "chibouk," giving to the smoker the pure exhibition of the tobacco, free from its particul plottine.

its noxious nicotine. The Daily Gazetic sigs:—Its economy and the greater urury it imparts while sinoking, recommend it favorably o all lovers of the weed. The Daily Clipper says:—It possesses merits never be-fore obtained in Pipes. There is no doubt but that in a short time it will be the only Pipe used. For sale by the dealers generally in this city, and whole-sale at liberal rates, by "The Tobacco Pipe Company," at their manufactory, No. 1 Granby street, opposite Pratt Street Bridge, Baltimore, Md. 99. P. S.—The attention of Sutlers and others is called to this Pipe, now so popular throughout the army. feb20-diw.
