HARRISBURG, PA

Tuesday Afternoon, October 25, 1859. LARGEST CIRCULATION .- By a recent de. cision of the Harrisburg Post Master, the DALLY TELEGRAPH has the LARGEST CIRCULATION, within the delivery of the Post Office, of any Paper, Daily Weekly, published in this place

PENNSLVANIA ELECTION.

The result of the lateral oction in Pennsylvania shows what the poposition can do when thoroughle consolidated and acting in union and harmony. We went into the contest not as Republicans, or Americans, or old-line Whigs, but as a consolidatad "People's Party," enlisted under the same banner, occupying a common platform, and making a united war against a common enemy—and the result was a total route of the sham Democracy It is to be regretted that the same policy has not been pursued in the Empire State, where the Opposition are divided and distracted, instead of presenting a solid front to their enemies. The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, an American paper, commenting upon the Pennsylvania election, holds the following language:

A word about Pennsylvania. The strength of the Opposition there, its uniform harmony of action, its brilliant triumphs, are due to a unity of purpose which pervades all the ele-ments of the Union. They have a representa ments of the Union. They have a representa-tive man in Senator Cameron, whose personal popularity and identification with all the great material interests of the State, enables them to rally around him with a hearty consent and without those deep seated personal animosities which exist in this State, and which are justified and sanctified, made dear to the hearts of scores of thousands of Opposition men, by the insults and wrongs of a decade of years. These cannot be forgotten or pushed aside for the mere sake of political expediency. Self respect, the vindication of an honorable manhood, demand that the struggle should be fought out to the end. And these are the reasons that we have no People's Party, no united Opposition in New York, while in Pennsylvania the course of her distinguished Senator has been such as to conciliate and concentrate all the diverse elements of the Opposition and march them in solid column against the Democracy. In Pennsylvania there has been patriotism; in New York selfishness. Senator Cameron has been the high priest of a Broad Church, welcoming with friendly hand and honorable treatment the American or anti Lecompton Democrat.-Senator Seward has been the exponent of exclusivism. In the one State the Democracy is routed beyond redemption; in the latter only this class, and congratulate the society upon the calm patriotism of Americans, their strong the very large and handsome display of Devons forbeatance, as a matter of grace, and as indicative of their; feeling toward the Republican masses, they propose to give to the Republicans the control of the Canal Board; while as a re-buke to the profligacy of the leaders they will withhold the Contracting Board and pass it of the society were not furnished. Some of over to the Democrats. The man is blind who of the animals were very good, and, some of them were very superior. The committee make cannot see the good results which must spring from such a policy. It will place New York where Pennsylvania and New Jersey now stand, strong in a consolidated Opposition, a dead certainty in the Presidential campaign: for any such candidate as Cameron, Bates, Crittender or Banks. There it will end. Americans have sufficient intelligence to recognize it, and those who count upon any noticeable defection from our vote this fall insult the patriotism of the

A FIERCE RETORT.

Mr. Broderick stood side by side with Mr. Douglas in every trouble, but it appears since his death some of the Douglas organs are disposed to speak disparagingly of him. The Chicago Times says:

"The personal associations of Senator Broderick were not of the best. In early life he had not the advantages of refined training, and he fell rapidly into the company of roughs and

The Chicago Tribune copies the above and makes the following bitter retort whether just or unjust we know not:

"Perhaps Mr. Broderick's early associations were not of the most select, but the people of Illinois know that they could never have been lower or more disreputable than those of Douglas. Ask those who knew Douglas before he first ran for Congress in the Springfield District. Ask those who furnished him rum on credit, about those times, and never got their money. Ask the gentleman who threatened to put him out of a hotel at Jonesboro, for distantible processes as late as 1855. Ask the reputable practices, as late as 1856. Ask the citizens of Chicago who saw him in a drunken brawl on the National Fair grounds, four weeks

Poor old "Ossawattomie Brown" is no more that is to say, he will soon go up We should sooner have one of a thousand chances in a raffle for a galvanized watch than old Brown's chance for long life.-Virginia and the General Government have been quarreling for the honor of putting a rope round his neck. The difficulty, has been compromised in this way :- Gov. Wise will try him and hang him for murder, and Mr. Buchanan will afterwards try him and hang him for treason. "Ossawattomie," hefore he shall get through with Buchana, and Wise, will certainly be pretty effectual, hung.

DAUPHIN COUNTY FAIR. THE PREMIUMS. No. 1.—Short Horns.

To the President of the Dauphin County Agricul tural Society:

The Committee on Short Horns respectfully eport that they have with great pleasure exnined the short horn or Durham cattle on exhibition, and are of opinion that this county could not produce (for blood and bone) a bet-ter exhibited. Your committee are pleased to note the great improvement in the character of the cattle exhibited, and hail it as an evidence that the farmers of Dauphin county are alive to their true interests in the rearing of stock. Your committee have awarded first premium to Glenroy, the property of A. B. Hamilton

No. 4-HERDS.
To the President of the Dauphin County Agricult tural.
Your Committee of Herds of Cattle report that they have attended to the duty assigned them, and have awarded premiums as follows:
To Col. Jacob S. Haldeman, for next best, First premium. $15.00
To A. Boyd Hamilton, for next best, second premium. 10.00

To Samuel T. Jones, for six best heifers, committee regretted that the premium list was so limited as not to allow them to award some thing to all worthy of a premium.

A very superior head owned by Mr. Philip Oldweiler, by some omission was not entered in our book for competition. From the number and character of the animals exhibited, it is evident that much atten-tion has been given by the farmers in this vicinity to the improvement of stock. If the funds of the Society will admit of it, we would suggest a larger premium list in the future,

To A. B. Hamilton, Esq., President of Daw

phin County Agricultural Society:
The committee appointed to examine and award premiums for thorough bred horses and that farmers generally may be incited to an award premiums for thorough bred horses and honorable rivalry to excel in the exhibition of trotters, respectfully report that Dr. Boteler, this interesting and profitable branch of agricexhibited a Gelding claimed to be thoroughbred; but your committee was not furnished with a satisfactory statement of pedigree or certificate of importation. This was the only animal on exhibition in this class, and your committee recommend a diploma for the owner port as follows:

Philip Linn—Stallion Defiance, 4 years and and had many indications of purity of blood. 10.00 The committee award the first premium of 5.00 ten dollars for best Trotting Horse to Eby 5.00 Byers, and the second of five dollars to C. Joroleman, for his trotting horse "Tom Florence." The speed of these animals was tested in a very beautiful and exciting trot—the best two out of three one mile heats round the track. The former horse won two straight heats, making them respectively in 2.52 and 2.54. Mr. Byer's horse is a light bay, about six-teen hands high, young, of elegant form, and gentle in disposition. His trotting is clean and spirited, and gives promise, with proper training, of much greater speed than was dis-played in the match.

The horse "Tom Florence" has speed and endurance, going steadily and manifesting ex-perienced handling.

With the two above mentioned horses, an-lars to Win F. Murray. This pair of horses, cing horse was awarded to B. F. Peters. The second premium to Edward Stover of two dol-ars. Your committee regrets there were not more entries of trotting horses, especially as there are many in the neighborhood, and many were exhibited on the track, though not regularly 2.00 entered.
