KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE

That while Henry D. Foster was member of the Legislature of Pennsylva nia, he served as Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, in which po sition his indolence and neglect of duty invoked for him the rebuke of his fellow members, while he only escaped the censure of the Speaker by the final adjournment of the House.

Is such a man fit to be invested with the duties and responsibilities of the Ex ecutive of Pennsylvania?

That while Henry D. Foster was member of the national House of Repre sentatives, he voted with the extreme men of the South, on the subjects really affeeting the interests of white labor-supporting the doctrine of popular sovereignty to curry on the slave labor invasion of free territory, and advance the interests of his party organization.

Is such a man entitled to the reputation of statesmanship which his supporters plishment. claim for him?

That Henry D. Foster is committed in one section of the State to the slave-code doctrine and free trade interests of Breckinridge, while in another he avows an adherence to the principles of that popular sovereignty which is reckless whether slavery is "voted down or voted up"enfranchising the masses while it centers power to annul the actions of their representatives in the veto of an Executive, or confides the construction of their laws to the prejudices of a judiciary dependent on the favor of patronage for their creation and existence.

Is such a man entitled to the support of freemen who are really jealous of power conferred by the franchise?

That while Henry D. Foster was candidate for Congress in 1858, he refused to declare himself in favor of protection to free labor by preventing the growth and spread of slave labor-refusing to define his position on the great issue of the Kansas-Nebraska question, at the very moment he was soliciting the support and confidence of the people.

Should not the claims and pretensions of such a man be rejected now, by the people of Pennsylvania, as they were rejected then by his neighbors and acquaintances?

Every question we here propound in volves a charge against Henry D. Foster he has never been able to answer or refute. He has never been able to explain his wavering position on the Kansas-Nebraska question—the stain of his nelect of the interests of the people while a member of the Legislature still clings to his reputation. His disregard of regular to the support of the sincere men of his party, who are wedded to its organization in the hopest hope of maintaining their cotemporary to count up in dellars and faithed are respectively over any year but 1866, carried every majority over any year but 1866, carried every majorities in all the close Districts, carried the Legislature all to nothing, carried their County of the sincere men of maintaining their covernments to count up in dellars and faithed any faithed are delicated any carried their county of the sincere men of his covernments. tled. their votes and their influence to elevate D. Foster has proved himself, to the chief executive office of the State?

JOHN W. KILLINGER.

While we have omitted to refer to, we have not forgotten the superior claims of this gentleman to the support of the people of this Congressional district. He is worthy of the confidence of those who believe that freedom was the normal condition of all men, and that honest labor is worthy of the protection of the government it sustains and supports by its productive industry and wealth. He is the friend and advocate of the American manufacturer-the defender of his interests, and the promoter of his welfare. During the last session of the 36th Congress, John W. Killinger labored with a zeal for the interests of his immediate constituents, that attracted the attention and approbation of of Breckinridge. the oldest members of the House. Those who differed with him in opinion, respected his firmness, while even the bitterest partizan on the floor of the House, was always ready to acknowledge the frank ness and spirit of independence which characterised the conduct of not only Mr. Killinger, but of the entire Pennsylvania delegation.

We have no doubt of Mr. Killinger's re-election, but it should be remembered that our national strength is composed of the unanimity with which we support such candidates. The larger the vote we give to every Republican candidate for Congress in this State, the greater the force we concentrate for the election of a Re publican President. The test of national principle is involved mainly in our Congressional elections, for as they result, the future policy of the government becomes apparent and fixed. Had it not been for the persevering and defiant action of the present House of Representatives, the Federal administration would have arrogated to itself dictatorial power. and made the interests of the free white man as subservient to its demands, as the slave of the South is obedient to the summons of his master. The country was only preserved from convulsion by the firmness and independence of of a Republican House of Representatives. Therefore we must re-elect a Republican dele gation to Congress. The duty is imperative and the work of performing it easy, if we apply all our energy to its accom-

Graham and not had the candor or fairness to publish the denial. It allows the lie to live in its columns, and adds to its unfairness by reproducing another silly story in regard to Col. Curtin defrauding a woman in Centre county, of a prize she had drawn in lottery. The story is a falsehood in broad cloth—a mean and dastardly invention, with the author of whom the writer of this paragraph is perfectly acquainted.-A client of the firm of Curtin & Blanchard had "raffled" a carriage, and he had sold several tickets in Bellefonte. When the "raffle" was finished, those who were disappointed made use of an innocent and ignorant young woman, to prosecute a Maine did a noble day's work yesterday. It is probable such a demagogue and trickster as Henry that, on an average, one-fourth of the money now spent on the table, everywhere throughout the Union, might be as intemperance in drink once was, only the former, from being less deleterious, does not attract so much notice.

WILL our neighbor of the Sentinel insist on Foster declaring for or against Douglas? They have the authority of the Little Giant for doing so, if they can screw their courage to the sticking point. Either Foster is opposed to regular nominations, or he is in favor of Douglas. We have the authority of the Judge for this assertion. And yet Foster has a sly hankering after irregularity, which accounts for his changing to the fortunes

A CHICAGO LETTER WRITER (Democrat) states that only a portion of the Germans (a very small proportion, probably) of that city are for Douglas, and adds: The Irish population, which is large and influential, are all for Douglas, with barely a sin-gle exception. The Irish are absolutely frantic about him, and on his return here there will be yells of delight that will be heard from one end of Lake Michigan to the other.

We should expect Irish Democrats to 'vell' since the coalition of Douglas and the New York Americans, but not with

DAILY TELEGRAPH

The Pacific Telegraphic Line.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. The Secretary of the Treasury to-day opene the bids for the construction and use by the government of a telegraph line to the Pacific. The proposal of Hiram Sibley, representing the Western Telegraph Line, was in accordance with the minimum sum provided in the act of Congress, namely, $40,000 per annum, and $3 Congress, hanely, $40,000 per annum, and $6 for a single message of ten words, with the usual proportionate deduction upon despatches of greater length. Theodore Adams, of Harrisburg, Pa., bids $29,000 per annum for ten years. Orville Clarke, of Sandy Hill, N. Y., and J. H. Harman, of Detroit, bid twenty-five thousand dollars per annum for ten years.—
B. F. Ficklin, of St. Joseph, Mo., makes three bids:—First, $35,000 per annum for ten years;
second, $40,000 ditto, and to transmit all Gov-
