QUESTIONS TO BE DECIDED.

Let every friend of free labor-every voter who is in favor of a homestead law -homes for the homeless and land for the landless-sustain the Republican United States Senator, and that if we fail to secure a majority in the Legislature, Pennsylvania will be cursed with the representation of a second Bigler, if not Bigler himself. These are important considerations for the people of Pennsylvania. Join these with the arguments that persuade us to make an effort for the election of our Gubernatorial candidate, and the October campaign assumes a mighty importance. Add to both the fact that in nearly every county the most important county officers are to be chosen, and the questions to be decided in October force themselves on every true Republican with a power and importance that cannot be Abolitionists were hung in Gaiosville, Cook county, (Templeton, Hensley and Kirk.) These resisted. The failure to secure a majority men, before they were hung, implicated fifteen other men belonging to an Abolition conin the Legislature would be one of the spiracy. most direful that could befal the interests and progress of Pennsylvania at this junc ture. The failure to elect our Gubernatorial candidate would materially affect the prospects of Lincoln in every Northera State.

Remember these questions at issue in the October election, Republicans of Pennsylvania! Remember that in order to rescue the National Government from the hands of a slaveocracy, and place it in coming down." under the control of the genius of equal and exact laws, we must pave the way by toms of disaffection discovered in Talladega a securing the influence of our State authoriweek or ten days ago, through the confessions of a captured runaway slave. He stated that there was in the neighborhood of Talladega town a camp kept by an organized company, consisting of four white men and eight negroes, who were industriously conceiting a plan of general rebellion throughout that section of the State, and a certain Sunday had been any defence and support of every Republican candidate, and the free discussion and promulgation of Republican principlesthe principles of free territory for free lahomes for the homeless.

In Delaware the Republicans and Americans have united, as in Penn- by specious combinations will not work People's Party for Mayor, was elected. They also elected their candidates for Alwith a majority of the Councilmen. Well done for "Little Delaware!" The Recarrying the State.

THE REIGN OF TERROR. In Texas and some of the other Southern States the slaveholders seem to be almost insane with excitement and terror. Every Northern white man who is not once set upon and persecuted --- very probably hung up to a tree, and certainly got rid of in some very expeditious manner. The country is full of apprehensions of poisoned wells, assassinations and negro rebellions-all resulting from this blessed institution of slavery. If we are to believe the accounts in the local papers, no one can go to bed in those regions with the assurance that he will not be murdered before morning. There cannot be a particle of doubt but that most of these dangers are wholly imaginary, but the EXICUTIONS BY LYNCH LAW. The Tyler Reporter of the 8th says: "Col. Long, of San Antonio, who reached this place last night, informs us that large quantities of strychnine have been discovered in the possession of negroes and white men at Tennessee Colony, in Anderson county, and that two white devils (Abolitionists) were publicly hung at the latter place yesterday. The proof of their complicity was incontrovertible, and the wretches were immediately strung up to the nearest tree."

RUMORS OF A POISONED WELL. We have direct news from Athens, in Henderson county, that one well was poisoned in that place on Sunday night, and that upon investigation, over one hundred bottles of strych nine were found in the possession of the negroes. After a severe punishment, the latter related the particulars of the plot, which was to poison all the public and private wells in the town on Sunday night—to poison, as far as possible, the family breakfast, and use the knife and pistol (with which they were well supplied) to com-plete the fiendish work. All the old women and young children were to be murdered, and the young women taken as wives by the hellhounds So far as we have heard, the negroes being examined separately, tell the same story exactly, the truth of which we cannot doubt: SIX PERSONS HUNG.

The Crockett Argus learns that three white Congressional candidates in the district men (one of whom was a pretended minister) where they reside. Let them remember, too, that our next Legislature elects a recently hung in Georgetown, Williamson county.

As we auticipated, the scene here was truly grand; sometimes we were entirely enveloped in clouds and mist, which were rising from the shady villies below us, and to the distant beholder must have appeared as traveling above the clouds, and on the one hand towering mountains rose in majestic grandeur above our heads, while on the other lay deep and dark vallies, into which the searching rays of the noonday sun could scarcely penetrate. Some-times the iron sinews of the faithful steeds would almost crack as they labored up the heavy grades, and sometimes our train would describe beautiful semi-circle around some dark yawning abyss, into which a slight accident might have hurled us to inevitable destruction. After a while we began to descend from our giddy elevation, and in a short time we were again amid the softer scenes of cultivated nature.— About one o'clock, the smoky clouds which almost always hover over the city of Pittsburg, began to rise in the distance, and some of the dusky spires and sombre looking dwellings of 25, announce the capital execution of 167 per-the city burst upon our view. Arriving at the depot, we were met and escorted to the hospitable home of friends, who spared no pains to make our stay in their midst delightful. After a hearty meal and a little rest, we proceeded in company with a friend to an eminence on which a part of the city is built, from which we had a delightful response in the city remained tranquil. 110 members of the first families in the company with a friend to an eminence on which a part of the city is built, from which we had a delightful response in public. a hearty meal and a neminence on which company with a friend to an eminence on which a part of the city is built, from which we had a delightful panoramic view of the city and its environs. The view from this point, as it burst almost instantaneously upon the eye, is almost overpowering to one who has never before beheld the scene. The business part of the city is built upou a low peninsula formed by confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, on the very spot where Fort Du Quesne once stood, and my thoughts were almost irresistibly carried to the early history of this memorable spot in the annals of our country, and I could almost imagine that I heard the shrill whoop and the sharp crack of the deadly rifle of hostile savages, as they were engaged in deadly strife with the brave veterans of the illfated Braddock on the banks of the turbid Monongahela. A constant cloud of smoke issuing in dark columns from a hundred chimneys, where steam power is used, bangs over the city, and forcibly reminds the traveler of the city of London, as viewed at an elevation of four hundred feet, from the dome of St. Paul's Cathete the city of Pittsburg lies the city of Birmingham, on the opposite side of the Monongahela and Allegheny city, on the right of the Allegheny river, the taining a population of one hundred and twenty thousand inhabitants. Behind these are ty thousand innaoitants. Beaund these are verdant mountain slopes studded with villas and cottages to their very summit, giving a picturesque and beautiful appearance to the same. Pittsburg is a place of considerable trade especially when the rivers are in navigations of a number of ble order, and the terminns of a number of impediment, from obeying instructions. Being the first day of the Fair of Allegheny county, the place wore an unusually animated appearance. We had not an opportunity of visiting the fair grounds, but were informed that the display was juite creditable, and the attendance very large. During our stay here, we had the pleasure of visiting a number of public places, and among others the Pittsburg Infirmary, and the Orphan's Home, under the Superintendence of the Rev. The Coalition in New York Failed.

Washington, Wednesday Night. Dispatches were received here by Mr. Cobb to-day, from Wm. M. Browne, editor of the Constitution, who was sent to New York to obtain the information, stating that the Richmond Cagger committee had distinctly and emphatically refused to accept the Breckinridge propo sition, which Mr. Benjamin Wood had assumed to adopt, and that all hope of fusion was aban-doned. He says, also, that the friends of Breckinridge have now determined upon a straight fight to the bitter end, without regard to consequences. All parties here now concede Lincoln's election as inevitable.

Great Lincoln Meeting at Doylestown.

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 12. A large, enthusiastic meeting of the friends of Lincoln, Hamlin and Curtin was held in the Court House last evening, Caleb N. Taylor presiding. Able speeches were made by Join Goforth, of Philadelphia, and Daniel Ullman, of New York. The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock, with cheers for the candidates and speakers, after which the Wide awakes of this borough, numbering over one hundred men serenaded these gentlemen, at Cowell's Hotel where they were stopping, and brief but elo-quent speeches were made by them in response the compliment.
