WHO WILL BE SPEAKER ?-There is much speculation among the Republican politicians in regard to the Speakership of the next House of Representatives. The following gentlemen are prominent candidates :

John J. Patterson, of Juniata. Gideon J. Ball, of Erie. Elisha W. Davis, of Venango. Isaac G. Gordon, of Jefferson. Isaac A. Sheppard, of Philadelphia Jacob E. Ridgway, of

Dr. J. H. Seltzer, of

The above named gentlemen are all compe tent for the position, and whoever may win the honor, the House will have a good presiding officer. The name of Wm. H. Armstrong, Esq. of Lycoming, has been mentioned in connection with the Speakership, but we learn that he has no aspirations in that direction at present.

Suspicious .--- This morning between four and five o'clock a lady, who resides in the upper section of the city, when returning home from market, was accosted by a rough-looking man, who proposed to carry her basket. Being a stranger, and rather suspicious in his appeardaylight, and we trust none of them will try the experiment hereafter. The safety, as well as the convenience, of our citizens, demand a change in the time of opening market, and it is to be hoped that Council will act in the matter at their next meeting.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS RAPPING CASE occurred in this city last night. A young man, while promenading with a lady whose father had for-bidden him to seek her society, was "rapped" over the head with a stick by the old man, who came upon the people when they did not expect him. The "raps" were three in number, following each other in quick succession, and loud enough to be heard across the street. The gallant, not liking such "manifestations," beat a rapid retreat, leaving the indignant "parient" to escort his daughter home. This incident af

A CHANCE FOR THE LADIES .--- Any romantically inclined young lady of this city who is handsome, not over twenty-four years of age, and has the "needful" required, has now the op. portunity of entering into a matrimonial alliparticulars, we append the following advertisement from a St. Louis paper of recent date :

WIFE WANTED .- The editor and proprietor of (they are very limited) who he thinks will do. The lady must be handsome, not over 24 years The lady must be handsome, not over 24 years of age, have no children, of respectability, and have a fortune of at least $2,500. The writer is of medium size, 26 years of age, of irre-proochable character, and a handsome man.— Ladies replying will please forward their like-ness and real names. DEMOCRAT, Butler, Ala. Address We think "Democrat" is unusually modest in his requirements. Only $2,500 for a life partnership, with equal dividends. The only objection that might be made would probably be by certain maiden ladies of unknown years, who might demur to the limitation of age .-Make it fifty, Mr. Democrat, and we will guarantee you a number of applicants. Very likely, as the advertiser hails from Alabama, he is preparing, in view of a dissolution of the Union, to cut off all necessity for any intercourse with matrimony the strong bond of Union by marrying a strong-minded Yankee girl. It appears that "Democrat" is very desirous of conductlikeness, accompanied by a proposition, of any young lady desirous of entering into the hyme-

PUNY MEN.-A reportorial brother protests against puny men, a race common to this and ance with one of the editorial fraternity. For every other city. They may be and often are very keen in particular departments and walks of life, but they are not and cannot be men who take broad common sense view of things. They a newspaper which pays $2,000 per annum, in a pleasant town in Alabama, advertises for a wife, as there is no lady of his acquaintance where a large, heavy, broad faced man of much greater obtuseness of mind, will seize the great outlines of business, and work them through successfully. Men without constitution are soon worn out. They cannot give continuous attention to one point. After so many hours their minds flag, and any man who can hold out quietly till they are a little worn down, can get his own way with them. There is a vital stamina of purpose which is lacking in them. Nervous, impatient and fidgety, they cannot wait for the right time and place to carry their point and effect their designs. On the other hand, the man with a good constitution inspires a sort of respect by his robust, firm, large and healthy look. Everybody sees that there is power behind all that is put forth in everything that he does. His cool, easy, placid way, his cheerful and self-satisfied air has its weight after publication. Violins, Guitars, Banjos, as well as its softening and pleasing influence. He does not easily get out of temper, and when the North; or perhaps he may be a strong he does, it is the rage of a strong man, out of Union man, and intends making the chain of the way of which all weaker men had better stand and get aside. This Jointment bears no resemblance to dy of her ex iernal renedy at present before the world. The mode of its operation is peculiar. It penetrates to the baris of the disease-goes to its very source-and cures it from the flesh beneath to the skin on the surface. Other outward applications for Scrothia, Salt Rhenm, ko., operate deconvard, thus driving the disorder inwards, and often occasioning terrible internal maladies. Noarow's ONFINENT, on the contrary, throws the poisen of the disease upward, and every particle of it is dis-dearged through the flexing and the disease the swellings re-duced—but the scale of the disease are expelled from the flesh; somequently there can be no relarge. Victims of ulcerous and eruptive complaints, who have tried every professional mode of treatment and every ad-vertised curative without relief, here is a certain, safe, and expeditious remedy for the evils you endure.
