

means of the turning lathe and chisel, or the file. Several times worth of precious metal may be thus removed from the larger gold coins, and yet the reading be so perfectly restored by the simplest mechanical devices, that the loss cannot be discovered, except by means of measurement or weighing. It is a process easily executed, and one which we have reason to believe is practiced to a very considerable extent.

XII. THE GALVANO-PLASTIC FRAUD. By means of the electrolytic process, one of the faces, and the periphery of the coin, are deposited quite thin in precious metal. The other face is made in like manner, and of the exact size, and the hollow portion being filled with a platinum alloy of proper weight, the two are adjusted and soldered together. The accuracy and economy of this mode of copying the designs of coins, renders it a fraud not difficult to accomplish, and offers to dishonesty the incentive of large profits.

XIII. THE SWEATING FRAUD. This method of reducing the value of coin consists in abstracting a portion of precious metals by means of mercury. If the process be carefully conducted and not carried too far, the coin may be robbed to a very serious extent, and yet the impression on its faces not be observed or impaired as to awaken suspicion.

XIV. CHEMICAL REDUCTION. This fraud, sometimes also called "sweating," is performed by exposing coin to the action of dissolving liquids; for silver, nitric acid is usually employed; and for gold, the mixture of nitric and hydrochloric acids. This process is greatly more lucrative than the one with mercury, and is, indeed, in our opinion, by far the most dangerous of all the methods by which our coinage is tampered with. The fifth method, or the "encasing process," is that by which the coins found in the possession of Duval and Ball, who were arrested some time ago, are made. Dr. Barclay is of opinion that he can provide checks by which these frauds may be prevented.

WEEKLY PENNSYLVANIA TELEGRAPH.

Subscription Price Reduced. LARGEST AND CHEAPEST NEWSPAPER AT THE STATE CAPITAL.

ONLY ONE DOLLAR A YEAR!

INDUCEMENTS TO CLUBS!

In order to place the WEEKLY TELEGRAPH within the reach of even the poorest in community, we have determined to reduce the subscription to ONE DOLLAR A YEAR IN ADVANCE, thus offering an additional inducement to persons who desire to keep themselves posted up in the political and general news of the day, and the doings of the State Legislature. FROM AN ACCURATE REPORT OF THE PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE LEGISLATURE will be given, (special reporters having been employed for the purpose at great expense,) in connection with the DOINGS OF CONGRESS, which will be of unusual interest the coming winter.

A large amount of Miscellaneous and Literary reading will also be given in the columns of the WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, rendering it a first class Family Newspaper. Also all the important news of the day, Foreign and Domestic, with full and reliable reports of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York markets, alone worth to business men more than the price of subscription.

Single subscribers will be charged $1 per annum invariably in advance. Clubs of 50, directed to one Post Office, $40.

TERMS OF THE SEMI WEEKLY. Single copies semi-weekly during the Session of the Legislature, and weekly during the remainder of the year, $1 50 in advance.

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH.

The DAILY TELEGRAPH was established in 1856, and has now been over four years in existence. Many of our friends considered the establishment of a daily Republican newspaper at the Capital of the State as a hazardous undertaking, but we have succeeded, after expending a large sum of money, in placing the same on a permanent basis, and the public may rely on its prompt and regular publication.

LEGISLATIVE REPORTS.

The TELEGRAPH is the only establishment that employs a corps of regular stenographic reporters during the session of the Legislature, and those desiring correct reports of the proceedings of the Legislature can look in the TELEGRAPH for them.

TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES.

The TELEGRAPH is the only paper in the city of Harrisburg that receives the regular Associated Press reports by telegraph. The dispatches appear therefore much earlier than they arrive here in the Philadelphia and New York morning papers. Full Congressional Reports will appear daily, together with all the latest Foreign and Domestic News.

TERMS OF THE DAILY.

The Daily will be furnished during the session of the Legislature for $1. Yearly subscribers who receive their papers by mail will be charged $4, payable in advance.

Address: GEO. BERGNER, & CO. Harrisburg, Nov. 23, 1860.

EDITORS OF NEWSPAPERS who insert the above and call the attention of their readers to the prospectus, will receive the Daily in exchange.

TAKING IT COOL.—The editor of the Democratic paper at La Crosse, Wisconsin, thus announces the defeat of his party in that section: The returns from this State come pouring along like buckwheat from the tall-end of a faning mill, and just about as comfortable to read as that triangular grain is to sit on. We feel sort of weakish about the gizzard! We feel cold, chilly, clammy like, just on the small of the back, to read how this State—this Badger State, has acted in Jefferson county has lies gossamer, back side up, and now done it! Everything is Lincoln. Even the falls must have voted. He will have more men for this State than you can roll down hill! We have three hundred pounds of figures, but not enough to give half the majorities in Rock county even! "Go on with your old scow—it won't rain long!" For President in 1864—Stephen A. Douglas.

The Fugitive Slave Laws. Upon examination, we find that the law passed in 1847, and published in the TELEGRAPH yesterday, was repealed at the last session of the Legislature, but almost verbatim re enacted in the Penal Code passed at the same session. The Penal Code was drawn up by three Democratic Commissioners, appointed by Governor Packer for that special object, consisting of Judge Knox, David Webster and Judge King, and afterwards passed by a Republican Legislature and signed by a Democratic Governor without the least hesitation. This ought to make it conservative enough by all means.

The Sunbury and Erie Railroad and the Next Legislature.

Several papers in the interior have already taken strong ground against the expected application of the Sunbury and Erie Railroad Company to the next Legislature for relief. We, too, have heard that this company will be here in full force to ask the Legislature to cancel the mortgage bonds now held against the road, but have yet to learn on what ground this large bonus is to be asked. On the other hand, there is abundant reason why all applications of this kind should be discarded. This company received six hundred thousand dollars from the last Legislature, and we hope the one about to assemble will institute rigid inquiry about the disposition of that large amount. We quote the following article from the Williamsport Press, a paper published along the line of the road, written by a gentleman who is fully acquainted with the whole policy of the road: "We believe, and conscientiously, that a greater and grander device to cheat—we use the word circumpectly and with a full knowledge of its import—the tax ridden masses, was never attempted in Pennsylvania. Without the shadow of a right, claim, or even the presence of a claim, the clamor set up for 'relief' is as astounding as it is infamously corrupt. We could name parties 'vitaly' interested—not in the completion of the road, but in sacking the Treasury—and if necessary to encompass and crush out these speculators, we will do so. "And we will be sustained by the people of this section of the country, and by the party whose sentiments we represent and reflect. But aside from this, who is it that would not set his face against so high-handed a game of fraud? No one, unless interested, like our friend, as we before remarked. "We know that the Republican Legislature will kick the whole batch of these 'rats' down Capital Hill. We know, also, that our worthy Governor elect, Col. Curtin, will send them away from the Executive Chamber, with no misgivings as to his determination to guard the interests of his constituents. Thus treated and surrounded, the $8,500,000 are safe in the vaults of the Treasury."

A PAUPER STATE.—It appears from the reports of the Post Office Department that the postage collected in the State of South Carolina for the last year amounted to $81,600; the cost of transporting the mails was $192,210. In Massachusetts the same year the receipts were $532,184, and the expenses were $153,000. And yet this same South Carolina declares herself "out of the Union," and threatens to continue there unless the Northern States humbly come forward and remodel their internal arrangements to suit their whims and caprices. Truly, they are a modest people. We rather guess they will hardly be accommodated at present. We do not desire to interfere with the institutions and laws of South Carolina, and the people of Pennsylvania propose to take care of their own, without any dictation from abroad.

FASTING AND PRAYER.—"They have had a day of fasting and prayer in Charleston, on which solemn occasion business was suspended, and the clergymen roared like bulls of Bashan from their pulpits in favor of secession. They preached after the Cromwellian model; uncertain whether to trust most in God or in a long shot from a minnie rifle. The dominies have caught the prevailing fever, and one of them declared himself ready to take the field, with a Bible in one hand and a revolver in the other. A pretty good offset this for the Sharpe's Rifle Sermons of the New England clergy, several years ago. Very much of a muchness are both, and we sincerely hope that the "church militant" North will learn to appreciate the spectacle itself presented, by looking at its counterpart in Charleston.

PARSON BROWNLOW OFFERS TO FIGHT ON ANY DAY BUT SUNDAY.—Wm. G. Brownlow, well known as Parson Brownlow, and the editor of the Knoxville Whig, a leading anti-Democratic organ of Tennessee, prints in the latest issue of his paper a "card" which thus concludes: "I am not aware that there is more than one man in this city who desires to do me a personal injury, and he can find me every day of my life, but Sabbath, prepared to receive any call he may make upon me, and the judgment of this community is, that the call must come from him. It is customary after an exciting election, for editors to apologize for what they have said and done, under excitement, and for them to have no apology to make, and beg pardon to be excused, as what I said and published was done with cool deliberation, and now, that the storm is over, meets my most hearty approval. W. G. BROWNLOW."

FROM THE FEDERAL CAPITAL. Correspondence of the Telegraph. WASHINGTON, November 26, 1860. There is no doubt, among those who understand the means resorted to heretofore to suppress and stifle public sentiment at the North, that the general supervision of northern and southern banks was resolved upon immediately after the election of Abraham Lincoln became a fixed fact. It is northern tyranizing southern tyranny—northern calico succumbing to southern cotton, for the avowed purpose of punishing the free mechanics and laboring men of the North, because they had the independence and manifested a determination to take the control of the federal government out of the hands of the slave power at the South and the bogus banking speculators of the North. The tone of the southern press on this subject leaves no doubt on the minds of thinking men, that this whole business of suspension is the result of a well concocted plan of the dough-faced merchants of the North to assure their southern customers that however the freemen of the North may decide at the ballot box on any question of national policy, they can be plunged into a panic at any moment, and reduced to starvation by a suspension of specie payments. The first operation of this plan is to flood the country with an immense paper currency, to induce trade by liberal credit, and then suspend. Of course this paper currency is in the hands of the manufacturer and mechanic, by whom it is used in small quantities for immediate domestic purposes. The mechanic who receives his pay in paper on Saturday night, cannot purchase a pound of sugar or beef, without being subjected to an exorbitant shave, and when he complains, he is referred to the fact that the pressure and suspension were created by the triumphs of the Republican party, and that as long as the people were determined to defeat the Democracy, so long would they be deprived of a sound and convenient circulating medium. If this is not the fact, how do the northern banks explain their solvency? The commercial organs of New York and Philadelphia protest that the banks were never in a healthier condition, and yet they must suspend in order to protect their debtors. They must suspend in order to save themselves—but in the meantime who is to take care of the laboring man and mechanic, who will be compelled to receive the rotten promises to pay of these corrupt banks in remuneration for their labor? While this specie suspension lasts, there will be no abatement in the discounts of these banks, and therefore no decrease in their circulation. You can judge how much this will help the people.

In this crisis it now becomes the Governors of the various Northern States to act, and I trust that as soon as Col. Curtin is inaugurated, his first message to the Legislature will be a presentment of every bank in Pennsylvania that has suspended, taking its suspension as irrefutable evidence of its insolvency. The Legislature of your State owe it to the people of the Union to make an example of this bold scheme to suppress and hereafter destroy the freedom of the franchise. Pennsylvania gave Abraham Lincoln an immense majority, a majority made up of the votes of the working masses against those of the merchant millionaires and money shovers of the State. For doing this, the power of wealth and speculation has been let loose on them with a bold determination to starve them into obedience.—Already do we hear the triumph cry along Pennsylvania Avenue that the "dam Black Republicans" will be chased from their position and forced to obey the mandates of the slave power. If they do not yield, northern dough-face bank presidents and directors will starve them into obedience and submission. This is the beginning of the programme that is to be further enacted here in Washington. It is the first evidence of giving effect to the threat to hand over the keys of the National Treasury to Southern keeping. It remains, however, for such men as Andrew G. Curtin, after he has been invested with power, to decide how far this stupendous plan of corruption and oppression shall extend over the North. The appointment of a committee to investigate the affairs of the suspended banks would have the undoubted effect of opening their bowels and disgorging them of the gold and silver which is concealed in their dark corners. In this movement the TELEGRAPH can wield an immense influence, which, I trust, for the sake of the people whom it has ever so ably vindicated and sustained, it will not hesitate a single moment. Let the accusation be at once started, that every bank in Pennsylvania that has suspended specie payment, is in an insolvent condition, has violated its charter, and should therefore be taken in charge by the officers of the State or a committee appointed for such purpose by the next Legislature, and wound up immediately. Such action would leave very few suspended banks in Pennsylvania.

AMERICAN SLAVERY IN 1715.—The following are some statistics of the old colonial days.—One hundred and forty-five years ago, in the reign of George I, the ascertained population of the Continental Colonies was as follows: White Men. Negro Slaves. New Hampshire..... 9,500 150 Massachusetts..... 94,000 2,000 Rhode Island..... 7,600 500 Connecticut..... 46,000 1,500 New York..... 27,000 4,000 Pennsylvania..... 48,300 2,500 New Jersey..... 21,000 1,500 Maryland..... 40,700 9,400 Virginia..... 72,000 28,000 North Carolina..... 7,500 8,700 South Carolina..... 7,250 10,500 Total..... 375,000 58,750

A NEW WAY OF SQUARING ACCOUNTS WITH SOUTHERN CREDITORS.—We learn that a dry-goods firm in this city, who had a claim for $1,000 against a Southern trader who could not meet it with the "ready," adopted a novel course by which their account was canceled and a negro slave obtained his freedom. The firm sent word to their attorney to attach a slave belonging to the trader for the debt, cause him to be sold, buy him in for the firm, and then send him to a Northern city. The anti-slavery principles of the house forbade their receiving the price of a fellow man, and so they determined to turn their claim to a good account by freeing a slave with it. We are pleased to record so noble and generous an act.—Boston Journal.

FROM THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

From the Somerset Herald. United States Senator. We observe by our exchanges that the question who shall succeed Bigler in the Senate is being extensively mooted in various parts of the State, and the names of quite a number of able and estimable gentlemen are mentioned in connection therewith. Among the many good men spoken of, we intend to institute no individual comparisons, but we apprehend that certain facts and circumstances should be duly weighed by the members of the State Legislature, upon whom the duty of selecting the proper man will devolve. We want, in the first place, an active, energetic, persevering, able, true man—a fossil—to represent the wide awake Republican party of this State.—We want a man of nerve, of high ability and not a shuffler, a palterer, or a weak kneed seeker after expediency. We want a man of and from the people, a man of heart as well as of brain, and of practical as well as of theoretical knowledge. We want a thinker, not a mere theorist—a leader, not a follower. We want a Pennsylvanian, heart and soul a Pennsylvanian. We want a representative of the people of Pennsylvania and of their interests; and lastly, we do not only want, but demand as a right, a western Pennsylvanian, a right due to our local interests, due to a simple measure of justice (the east having the other Senator and all the State officials) due to our immense majorities, and due by every rule of equity and consideration of common brotherhood. Having thus set up our standard of requisites, we intend to measure no other man's candidate by it, but we confidently place our own first choice EDGAR COWAN, of Westmoreland county, by that standard and submit him to the test and comparison.

Many years of personal knowledge would authorize us to speak knowingly of the general qualities, personal merits, great mental culture and true nobility of soul, possessed by Mr. Cowan, but we prefer to submit him to the test, as the outside world only know him as the unsurpassed lawyer, the brilliant advocate, the able debater, the ripe scholar, the straightforward, unwavering defender of right, the bold contemner of wrong, the architect of his own fortunes, the tried and true friend of the laborer, of the class from whence he sprung, the bold protector of the rights of the poor, the wealth, the trust of Pennsylvanians, "native and to the manor born."

In honoring such a man by placing him in the Senate of the Nation, the State but honors herself, and at once takes that position, and commands that influence, of which the race of Sturgeons and Biglers have so long deprived her. With Cameron and Cowan in the Senate, the interests of our good old Commonwealth would be amply cared for. By their energy and ability would the rights of labor be urged and secured, and by such eminently proper representatives of the wide awake party, which has so thoroughly swept locofocoism from her borders, should the Keystone State, God forever bless her, be again restored to her proper influence and position in the councils of the nation.
