FOR MAKING Bread, Tea-Cakes, all kinds of Pastry, &c.

MANUFACTURED BY EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO., Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

No. 33 INDIA STREET, Boston.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical research. All its ingredidists are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process; and by the manufacturers submit it, with entire confluence, to the judgment of discriminating housekeepers, bakers, &c.

Bread of all kin's made by using Concentrated Leaven is lighter, more digestible and nuttritious; has an agrees, ble, netaral taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

HAIR DEALITYCE WILL AFFORD,

minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of precuring yeast or other forme t, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rei dering the bread more or less unwholesome.

frequently of an inferior quality, re dering the bread more or less nuwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saying is effected in the floor of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of genorating gas to raise the dough. By using Concentrated Leaven this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a mainer-equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 hs, which, by the common method, ordinarily makes about 250 hs of bread; gives by this process 290 hs; thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent, in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person chapable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result in invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory:

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assoyer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analysed the Concentrated Leaven, manufactured by Messrs. Edw Chamberlin & Co., with reference to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough, and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure material. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through yeast, while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

"The experiments made by me confirm the statements made by the manufacturers, and proves this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

"Respectfully,"

"A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer,

The Wrongs of the Patent Office.

Everybody is familiar with the term Patentrights. To the mechanical genius it possesses a charm which draws golden pictures of the future. We all admit the righteousness of pat-AT THE NEW CITY STORE ent-rights, for they reward those patient and busy minds who have already signalized the present century as the age of mechanical and what a patent right is. It is a staple article, one of the leading products of the land, a sort of institution much respected, and very much NNOUNCE to the citizens of Harris-A NNOUNCE TO THE ULTIZOUS OF LIGHTLE burg at d the public generally, that they have just returned from the eastern cities with a large and well selected stock of Fall and Winter Goods, which they will sell at the ve y lowest prices. of institution much respected, and very much dealt in. Familiar, however, as we may all be with patent-rights, we know very little of patent wrongs. By these we mean the wrongs of the Patent Office. This department seems to be about the most corruptible of the General Government, or, at least, is guilty of an unwise discrimination, in favor of fortunate inventors, that warrant strong suspicion of corruption.—We will explain. DOMESTIC GOODS of every kind,

Bleached and Unbleached Muslins,

Bleached and Unbleached Cauton Flannels

We will explain.

The law of patents is founded upon the idea, that the inventor of a useful article or meritorious machine ought to be rewarded for the mental labor expended on the invention, and for that purpose, the inventor is granted the sole right to manufacture or cause to be manufactured the article patented. These patent rights, however, are issued only for a term of years, during which, the inventor is expected to remunerate himself through the monopoly granted him by the Government. The limitation of the patent-right, is a matter of sheer justice to the people, for were it otherwise, useful and important inventions, forever monopolized by the inventors or their heirs would not become common property as they ought.

There is, however, a still further provise is behalf of the inventor. Should he not, in the opinion of the Patent Office, receive sufficient remuneration through the original patent-right, the patent may be extended. It is under this extension proviso that we have patent wrongs to counterballance patent rights. Extensions are frequently granted to inventors who have become independently rich through the monop-become independently rich through the monopoly of the original patent. If the invention be useful, as it must be to enrich the inventor, the public has a right to its free use after the patent right has been well paid for.

Many, no doubt, remember the monopoly of the original planing-machine, and how extension after extension was granted, after the original proprietors and others had, accumulated great fortunes from the use of this great labor-saving machine. These extensions were Gen extension.

ten and twenty dollars are sold for eighty and one hundred dollars. Remove the patents and the price of the sewing-machines would be regioned from fifty to seventy per cent.

It is positively stated that Mr. Howe has personally realized over half a million of dollars through his patent. Yet he has obtained an extension of seven years on all his patents!—As Mr. Howe had been amply repaid for his invention, the extension of his articles is a fraud on the industry of the country. The sewing-machine is to be a monopoly seven years longer, and those who use it during that time must SHIRT AND COLLAR HOUSE and those who use it during that time must ray tribute to an inventor now rolling in wealth. Honesty or justice never dictated the extension of Mr. Howe's patents. It is a speculation in which officials, no doubt, are interested. It is one of the many patent wrongs to which the people are compelled to submit.— Overalls, Drawers and Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods Agents for the Beverly India Rubber Clothing.
